

2.ThA

Homework:

Part 1:

Watch these online tutorials about how to find information:

<http://libraries.mit.edu/tutorials/video/index.html>

- Finding Articles
- Database Search Tips
- Introduction to Compendex and Inspec

Part 2:

Complete the worksheet, using the Information Types handout as your guide. Spend some time thinking about your thesis topic and what types of information you will need and include that on the worksheet. Bring the worksheet with you to the session Friday Sept 21, 2-3pm in 14N-132.

Part 3:

Go to <http://libraries.mit.edu/help/refworks/index.html> to learn more about RefWorks and create an account. The MIT Libraries provide free access to this service for the MIT Community. Using a bibliographic management tool like this will help you organize your citations for your thesis.

Questions?

Angie Locknar, locknar@mit.edu, 3-9320