

The West Side Story set

Maria looks out of her bedroom window

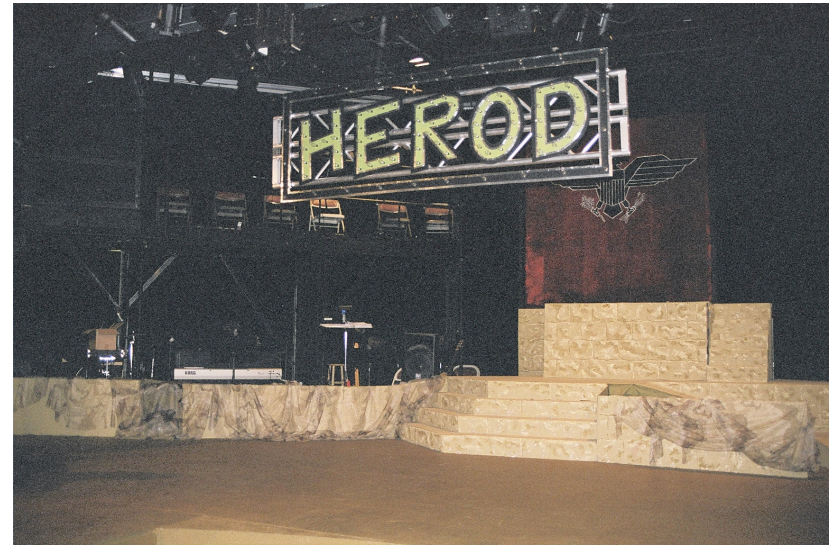

Doc's Drugstore open for business

After Tony enters the traveler slides away to reveal the bedroom interior

The JCS two-story orchestra

King Herod's sign lowered in for his song and dance

The second left side is suspended to allow actors to pass below

Each letter could be controlled separately while the border had three separate circuits for chase effects

The “body outline” for Tommy is nearly completed, before painting over the fiber trails (routed into the floor surface) and masking the strands traveling off-stage

Fiber strands travel offstage to the light source: a standard theatrical lighting instrument “coupled” to the fiber strands with cheap, available hardware and ingenuity.

West Side Story photos courtesy of Jax Kirtley
Jesus Christ Superstar photos and Tommy photos courtesy of Jenn Braun