The MIT-SUTD (Singapore University of Technology and Design) Collaboration wants you to be a part of their unique summer program here at MIT! The Global Leadership Program (GLP) includes 30 SUTD students at MIT for a 10-week leadership and design based program. We want you to become part of the program and enjoy the benefits of learning more about intercultural relations, cross-cultural communications and MIT courses. The GLP is a full-time commitment with no associated costs (it’s free). Please look at the exciting program agenda below:

LeaderShape Institute- An intense 6-day leadership program at the Wonderland Conference Center in Sharon, MA (transportation provided). The mission of the LeaderShape Institute is to create dialogue and experience interactive self-discovery in a supportive learning community. Learn more about the LeaderShape Institute here:

Design Electric Water Vessel- Develop teamwork and communications skills while building an electric boat! By the end of the summer all boats will race for 1st place on the Charles River!

Wilderness Education for Engineers- Through problem based learning approach students will be challenged to broaden their concept of attributes associated with engineering while simultaneously experiencing engineering processes and the development of technology within the social context in which it exists. Includes travel to Maine to camp overnight and kayak during the day.

Architectural Drawing- Introduction to drawing will provide students with fundamental drawing skills while experimenting with different types of subject matter, materials, and mark making tools. As the weather starts to get nicer we will take some field trips around campus and draw outside!

Ceramics- Discover the basics of clay! This course will focus on the basics of wheel throwing and hand building. Weekly demonstrations will inspire the creation of a variety of forms like bowls, mugs and vases. Students are encouraged to pioneer the own ceramic focus, while the instructor tailors to their needs.

In addition to the courses above, the GLP offers MIT students exposure to exciting new start-ups, industry company visits and guest speakers and presentations from MIT alumni. We also enjoy the MFA, Duck tours, Provincetown and more!

We would really enjoy learning your interest in spending your summer with the students from Singapore! This experience has the potential to fortify and strengthen your ideas on collaborations and projects as well as growing into a stronger leader. The SUTD students are eager to get here and want to learn more about MIT culture, the city of Cambridge and about you! The program dates are from June 1st August 7th. Rooming will be in Pi Phi Sorority and you will be provided a food stipend.
