This annual event is a great way for Ph.D. students to connect with industry practitioners at our Business and Technology Center in Billerica, Massachusetts while showcasing their own research. We are looking for applicants who are working on novel solutions for some of today’s most challenging problems in the fields of chemistry, physics, material science, chemical engineering and mechanical engineering.

Don’t miss an exciting opportunity to:

- Present your research during a poster session
- Network with our scientists and engineers
- Tour our labs
- Meet our CTO and other technology leaders

Submit your online application by April 15, 2015
Learn more and apply: bit.ly/CabotStudentForum
Questions? Send us an email: uinnovate@cabotcorp.com