Dear Faculty, Staff and Students,

I am your 2012 Daffodil Days Coordinator for the Department of Chemical Engineering. Daffodil Days at MIT 2012 will be celebrated this year during March 2012.

I think that we can all say that we know someone who has had cancer, whether it is a relative or a friend, young or old. You can give hope to people facing cancer and save lives by supporting the American Cancer Society Daffodil Days program. While the Daffodil Days program involves offering daffodils every spring to donors in appreciation for their contributions, it is about more than just giving beautiful flowers — it is everyone’s opportunity to create a world with less cancer and more birthdays, where cancer never steals another year from anyone’s life. And all of the funds we raise help provide support and resources to cancer patients and their families in your community.

Look below to see the options for donating and email me fmiles@mit.edu and place your order via email or stop by my desk in 66-366 for any of the following.

Last year many of you helped MIT raised over $31,000 for the daffodil campaign – THANK YOU!!!
If you are able, we would love you to participate in this year’s campaign with us and join in MIT’s effort to find a cure!

A Bouquet of Daffodils are $10
Bouquets ordered will be delivered directly to me on Monday, March 19th. I will notify you when they are ready to be picked up.

Gifts of Hope are $25, $50, $100, or any amount above $25 that you wish to give.
(a bouquet delivered with a beautiful note of support)
This generous contribution will enable us to send daffodils directly to patients who are at Mount Auburn and MGH being treated for cancer.

Shar N. Hope - 2012 limited edition Boyds® by Enesco® bear
