JOB POSTING: ENERGY AUDITOR
4/22/2013

Tri-CAP seeks an Energy Auditor for its low-income weatherization, heating systems, and electric efficiency programs. Once trained, the Energy Auditor will be primarily responsible for both electric assessments and residential weatherization audits, but may also conduct heating system evaluations and in process and quality control inspections. The Energy Auditor will perform CFL and refrigeration upgrades, perform heat loss assessments, and analyze and interpret electric use data to recommend savings strategies to low-income clients in utility programs. The Energy Auditor may interact with vendors and help ensure the quality and thoroughness of their work for Tri-CAP’s energy programs.

Qualifications:
• Bachelor’s degree or at least five years of related work experience required.
• Energy auditor, LEED, &/or BPI certification preferred.
• Three years experience in energy conservation, heating systems service, and/or construction a plus.
• Knowledge of energy conservation principles and methodologies, including insulation, blower doors, thermal imaging, air sealing, and heating systems helpful.
• Excellent interpersonal and communication skills required.
• Energetic, flexible, highly motivated, and well-organized.
• Experience working with low-income populations preferred.
• Vehicle and a valid MA driver’s license required.

Other
• Bilingual skills a plus (Chinese, Haitian Creole, Spanish, Arabic or Portuguese).
• Women are encouraged to apply.

Salary: $36,000. Tri-CAP offers an excellent benefits package.
