Dear Faculty, Staff and Students,

Once again I am emailing you to remind you that we need your help.

Please take a moment to look at the choices below and drop me an email telling me that you care and will donate.

Here are the options:

a. Choose from the list below and email me with your selection
b. As a research group---take up a collection and bring your collection to 66-366 by Tuesday Feb. 26th
   c. Drop by 66-366 and donate spare change---it all adds up 😊

I am your 2013 Daffodil Days Coordinator for the Department of Chemical Engineering. Daffodil Days at MIT 2013 will be celebrated this year during March 2013.

I think that we can all say that we know someone who has had cancer, whether it is a relative or a friend, young or old. You can give hope to people facing cancer and save lives by supporting the American Cancer Society Daffodil Days at MIT. All of the funds we raise help provide support and resources to cancer patients and their families in your community.

Dollars raised through Daffodil Days enable the Society to offer free programs and services that help people fight cancer with courage and optimism, while it provides day-to-day help, emotional support, and 24-hour information to help ease the cancer experience. Additionally, daffodil contributions provide the Society with much-needed dollars to fund groundbreaking cancer research, educate people about the importance of cancer prevention and early detection and advocate for meaningful public health policies that benefit the community.

Last year many of you helped MIT raised over $32,000 for the daffodil campaign – THANK YOU!!!
I am proud to say that ChemE raised over $1000 last year ---the most of any of the academic departments.

If you are able, we would love to have you participate in this year's campaign with us and join in MIT's effort to find a cure!
Look below to see the options for donating and email me fmiles@mit.edu to place your order via email or stop by my desk in 66-366.

A Bouquet of Daffodils are $10
Bouquets ordered will be delivered to you on Monday, March 18th. Delivered to your desk.

Raye C. Hope – the 10 inch collectible Boyd’s bear created especially for the American Cancer Society 2013 Daffodil Days Campaign

Bear Hugs for Hope are $25
(to be delivered to a pediatric cancer patient in the hospital)

Gifts of Hope
$25, $50, $100, or any amount above $25 that you wish to give.
(a bouquet delivered with a beautiful note of support)
This generous contribution will enable us to send daffodils directly to patients in Boston area hospitals who are being treated for cancer.
Bear and a Bunch
$25 Includes Ray of Hope the 10” collectible 2013 Boyds bear with a daffodil bouquet

• Potted Daffodil Bulbs
  have three multi-stem bulbs in each pot for $15.

Other donations
  any denomination of your choice can be given directly to the American Cancer Society.

We also take spare change 😊

Please Note: Forms of Payment Accepted are cash or check made out to the American Cancer Society (ACS).
*If you want a receipt for your tax records you will need to pay with a check.

Flowers will be delivered on Monday March 18th. Contributions will accepted until Tuesday February 26th.
I hope that you will come by my desk/office to sign up and help in the fight to beat cancer!

Celebrate Life! Help fight Cancer! Buy Daffodils!

Thank you,

Fran Miles
ChemE Daffodil Days Coordinator – Dept. of Chemical Engineering | T 617 452-2162 | fmiles@mit.edu