Americans come to soliloquize

... (ACTS) is a brand-new initiative of Dramashop, MIT's co-curricular theatre group. Felutopia and Electronic City tour the UK this month, making 24 performances in five cities.

As well as linking with the dramatic organizations of Imperial College, London, Emmanuel College, Cambridge, and Magdalen College, Oxford, we bring Electronic City to the Warwick Student Arts Festival. Felutopia appears at the King's Head Theatre in London, which can stake a claim to being the birthplace of modern pub theatre and whose history, incidentally, includes six Broadway transfers. The company will also be giving improvisation and acting workshops for British students.

We see ACTS as an opportunity for cultural exchange as well as an investment for the artistic future of MIT student drama.
