

Presidential campaigns debate energy

We are at a critical juncture in our energy future. Come hear representatives of the presidential campaigns debate the energy policies and plans of their candidates.

Monday, October 6, 2008

Debate at 7:30 PM, seating at 7 PM

Kresge Auditorium (W16)

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

48 Massachusetts Avenue

Cambridge, Massachusetts

For Senator Barack Obama
Jason Grumet

Jason Grumet

Jason Grumet is founder/President of the Bipartisan Policy Center which is focused on energy, national security, health care, and transportation policy; its staff is actively involved in the campaigns of both parties. He currently serves as Chair of the Energy and Environment Policy Group for the Obama Presidential Campaign. He also directs the National Commission on Energy Policy, a bipartisan group of the nation's leading energy experts. Prior to 2001, Jason worked for NESCAUM, which represents the Northeast Governors on environmental matters. He is a frequent witness at Congressional hearings and is regularly featured in the national media.

For Senator John McCain
R. James Woolsey

R. James Woolsey

R. James Woolsey is Venture Partner and Senior Advisor with VantagePoint Venture Partners. He is also a Senior Executive Advisor at Booz Allen Hamilton, where he was previously a Vice President. He has held four Presidential appointments, twice in Democratic administrations and twice in Republican administrations. He served as Director of Central Intelligence, Ambassador and Chief Negotiator for the Conventional Armed Forces in Europe Treaty, Delegate at Large to the Strategic Arms Reductions Talks and the Defense and Space Talks, Under Secretary of the Navy, and General Counsel to the Senate Armed Services Committee.

MIT Energy Club

MIT Energy Initiative