

Note: Remember how much Charles loves you; listen to him. come on, we'll take MIT head first, and we'll win! We've been smart for 13 years, there's no reason to stop.

My College Decision (Mine too)

The MIT Hacks!

best school in the country great education! great people → smart people small college, small campus exciting - prestigious good job upon graduation/postgrad New England = close to W, D.C. independence extracurriculars → I have a chance URP
Brain* Cog Sci OR biology Making Charles extraordinarily proud Stevie + other famous people far away → Boston: homesick expensive - very expensive travel expense: $250 to go home everyone smarter than me (except Archie) far from friends... Charles I could fail (then I would too). self-esteem lowered (think you're stupid!) no fun! spend all day working dark school

I'm scared

Doing what I want Making myself happy in the long-run
"institute" in the name

OSU

pretty much free close to home ~~more balanced education~~ lots of opportunities could come home often easier academically
I'll get a 4.0 and get into a sweet grad school

FREE! FREE! get to have fun: college experience changing the "S" to "F" and reading backwards = UFO big, impersonal bureaucracy not getting away: hating myself so many people academics not as challenging no prestige compete w/ majors for extr. opp. running away from my dreams limited postgrad/job opportunities They have to tell themselves THE Ohio State University is not important Doing what will be easier Making myself happy in the short-run Kirwan is gone

One word: FOOTBALL
