The model of perception which is the object of the current work (p. 174), the model of perception which is the object of the current work (p. 174), the model of perception which is the object of the current work (p. 174), the model of perception which is the object of the current work (p. 174), the model of perception which is the object of the current work (p. 174).

Figure 1. Model of speech perception

- Input
  - Sentence
- Comprehension
  - Speaker
  - Listener
  - Context
- Output
  - Listener
  - Speaker
  - Context

Figure 2. Active model of speech perception

- Input
  - Sentence
- Comprehension
  - Speaker
  - Listener
  - Context
- Output
  - Listener
  - Speaker
  - Context

Figure 3. Passive model of speech perception

- Input
  - Sentence
- Comprehension
  - Speaker
  - Listener
  - Context
- Output
  - Listener
  - Speaker
  - Context

Note: The figures are schematic representations of the models of speech perception.