Join the Celebration!

The Cambridge Science Festival — a celebration showcasing Cambridge as an internationally recognized leader in science and technology — invites you to join the fun!

Submit a proposal to run a program or host an event to be included in the festival, which will run days, nights & weekends from April 26 through May 4, 2008. Programs may include lectures, performances, activities for families, exhibits, tours, debates, workshops, or creative new ideas we've never imagined.

We are looking for ideas that celebrate science and technology in ways that combine spirit, interactivity and audience appeal.

Festival participants will be selected through a curated process to ensure quality. Selection criteria will be based on audience appeal, technical feasibility, site availability and funding. Applicants are encouraged to involve community-based organizations in the planning and production of programs.

Deadline for proposals: December 15, 2007

First Round Evaluation: January 5, 2008

Final Participant Notification: January 19, 2008

Signed Event Participant Agreements Due: February 2, 2008
