The MIT Department of Linguistics & Philosophy is sponsoring

A Symposium in Honor of

Professor Judith Thomson

Friday, January 16, 2004

The MIT Wong Auditorium
Bldg. E51-115
At the corner of Wadsworth & Amherst Street
Cambridge, Massachusetts
10:00am to 6:00pm

Schedule

10:00-10:30: Continental breakfast

10:30-10:45: Introduction

10:45-12:15: Stephen Darwall, University of Michigan
"Respect and the second person standpoint"

12:15-1:30: Lunch break

1:30-3:00: Shelly Kagan, Yale University
"Do I make a difference? The teeny tiny individual and the big bad world"

3:00-3:30: Coffee break

3:30-5:00: Thomas Nagel, New York University
"The problem of global justice"

5:00: Comments by Judith Thomson