"NON-RESIDENT" TAX INFORMATION SESSIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARS

(Visiting Scholars, Lecturers, Postdocs, and other Non-Student Researchers)

The International Scholars Office staff will provide general information about federal (U.S.) and Massachusetts state tax filing requirements for non-resident aliens for tax purposes and give instructions for using the Sprintax tax preparation software. Please note: Both sessions cover the same material

SESSION 1: THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2020
9:30AM TO 10:30 AM
ROOM 34-101

SESSION 2: TUESDAY, MARCH 10, 2020
9:30AM TO 10:30 AM
ROOM 34-101

Sprintax is an Internet-based tax preparation software available to international scholars with MIT certificates and kerberos passwords.

Sprintax is designed primarily for Nonresident Aliens for Federal Tax Purposes, who are in F, J, M or Q visa status.

ISchO is not able to answer questions specific to your individual tax situation or tax return.

Sprintax

Different sessions for "resident aliens" for federal tax purposes will occur:
Wednesday, March 4th, 7-8:30pm (Room 10-250) &
Monday, March 30th, 7-8:30pm (Room 10-250)

Hosted by the MIT Vice President for Finance (VPF), Office of Graduate Education, MIT Students Financial Services who will provide general information about federal (U.S) and MA tax filing requirements for resident aliens for federal tax purposes. Tax experts from Price Waterhouse Coopers (PwC) will be available for Q & A.