“Non-Resident” Tax Information Session for International Scholars

Presented by the International Scholars Office for MIT Faculty and Researchers (non-students)

The ISchO staff will provide general information about federal (U.S.) and Massachusetts state tax filing requirements for non-resident aliens for tax purposes and give instructions for using Thomson Reuters Foreign National Tax Resource. Please note: Both sessions cover the same material

Session 1: Tuesday, February 28, 2017
9:30 am to 10:30 am
MIT Stata Center (Room 32-123)

Session 2: Tuesday, March 7, 2017
9:30 am to 10:30 am
MIT Stata Center (Room 32-123)

Thomson Reuters FNTR is an Internet-based system available to international scholars with MIT certificates and kerberos passwords. The website contains detailed tax-related information as well as tax preparation software.
http://web.mit.edu/scholars/mitonly/windstarlinks.html

Thomson Reuters FNTR tax preparation software is designed primarily for Nonresident Aliens for Federal Tax Purposes, who are in F, J, M, or Q visa status. The tax preparation software module will be available in February.

Sessions for resident aliens for federal tax purposes will occur Wednesday, March 1st from 3pm to 4pm, Bldg 10- Room 250
Presented by Price Waterhouse Coopers will provide general information about federal (U.S.) and Massachusetts tax filing requirements for resident alien for federal tax purposes. Sponsored by the MIT Vice President for Finance (VPF), Office of the Dean for Graduate education (ODGE), and the International Coordinating Committee (ICC).

We regret that we will not be able to answer questions specific to your individual tax situation or tax return.