DISCLAIMER: The International Scholars Office (ISchO) provides the following information as a courtesy to its applicants for employment-based permanent residence sponsored by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) only. It is not intended for use by other individuals.

This information does not constitute legal advice. The adjustment of status application and the forms listed below are personal in nature. They must be prepared by you or your immigration attorney and not by MIT. It is your personal choice whether or not to retain an immigration attorney for help with the adjustment of status process. The ISchO is able to tell you how to locate qualified immigration attorneys, if desired. U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) forms and fees are subject to change without notice. Contact your attorney if you have any questions or encounter a problem with any of these application forms.

INSTRUCTIONS: APPLYING FOR ADJUSTMENT OF STATUS

You may apply to adjust your status from nonimmigrant to permanent resident if an immigrant visa number is immediately available to you. You may check your eligibility in the U.S. Department of State monthly Visa Bulletin. To obtain a copy of the Visa Bulletin or to receive updates go to: http://travel.state.gov/content/visas/en/law-and-policy/bulletin.html.

As long as an immigrant visa number is available, you and your spouse and children under 21 years of age are able to submit adjustment of status applications to USCIS. The adjustment applications may be filed “concurrently” with MIT’s Form I-140 petition for permanent residence, while MIT’s I-140 petition is “pending,” or following “approval” of the I-140.

Separate adjustment of status applications must be submitted for each qualifying member of your family, but these application packets should be mailed to USCIS in the same envelope. Following is a list of the forms and documentation to be submitted to USCIS:

_____ Form I-485, “Application to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status.”

Type forms, or use a dark pen to print clearly. Complete all items and fields. Do not leave spaces blank. If the question is not applicable or the answer is none, write “none.” Attach fee check(s) for the adjustment of status application on the very top of each I-485, for each application package.

Part 1:

- Complete “Address” using an address where final permanent resident card should be mailed. If you change address while your application is pending, you must inform USCIS. (If the post office is not able to deliver the card to the address in your file, it will be returned to USCIS and will not be forwarded to a forwarding address).

- A# or Alien Number (if any): There may be an “A” number listed on an I-797 you received from USCIS in the past, or you may not have an A#. If you are uncertain, type “unknown” or “N/A” or consult your attorney.
Part 2:
- If a previously filed Form I-140 has been approved, check box #2a on your form and #2b on your spouse’s and children’s forms.

- If you are filing Form I-485 concurrently with MIT’s Form I-140, check box #2h and write on the line provided “Form I-140 is being filed concurrently with this application.” Check box #2b on spouse’s and children’s forms.

- If Form I-140 has already been sent to USCIS and is pending, check box #2h and write on the line provided “Form I-140 currently pending, Receipt No. __________.” (write the receipt number listed on the I-140 Receipt Notice) and check box #2b on spouse’s and children’s forms.

Part 3:
- Section A: “Nonimmigrant Visa Number” is the control number typed in black on the visa stamp in your passport.

- Section C: Only political affiliations must be listed, but professional affiliations may be included. For more details, follow your attorney’s advice. If the answer is none, write “none.” Do not leave blank.

- Page 3: These important questions are used to exclude people from permanent residence. Answers must be accurate. If you find that you must answer “yes” to any of the questions in this section, consult an immigration attorney for advice.

I-485 Filing fee of $1,070 for each adult’s Form I-485. This includes the biometrics fee. For children under 14, the filing fee is $635. Personal checks, certified bank checks, or money orders payable to Department of Homeland Security are acceptable.
NOTE: USCIS will send you a notice in the future, informing you when to report to the local USCIS office to have your biometrics taken.

Two photographs of the same kind are required for each application for Advance Parole (travel) and employment authorization (EAD). Please see link to I-765 and I-131 checklists at [http://web.mit.edu/scholars/intlscholars/visas/adjustment.html.]

Form I-693: Medical examinations and immunizations (This form will be provided by the physician.). A medical exam by a USCIS-designated physician (or “civil surgeon”) is a required part of the adjustment process. Note that separate exams and forms are required for the scholar and for each family member. It is important to schedule medical appointments as early as possible, since there may be a wait.

You may get some of the required immunizations/vaccinations and medical tests from your regular health care provider, for example, an MIT or other health plan. This would reduce overall costs. NOTE: doctors at MIT Medical are not USCIS-designated physicians and cannot complete Form I-693 for your adjustment application. You must have the USCIS medical exam performed by a USCIS-designated physician. Be sure to bring official immunization/test records and results from your health care provider with you to the USCIS-designated physician’s office when you go for your exam. To find a USCIS-designated physician who can conduct medical examinations for adjustment of status applicants, go to https://my.uscis.gov/findadoctor.

More information about the exam, tests, and immunizations required, can be found at:
http://www.immihelp.com/greencard/vaccination-requirements.html

_____ A brief letter from your department, lab or center stating your MIT title, salary and the starting date of your employment. The letter should be addressed “To Whom It May Concern.”

_____ Form I-134: “Affidavit of Support.” This form is to be enclosed only in the application of your dependents applying for adjustment of status. You do not enclose this form in your own application. If you have no dependent family members applying for adjustment of status, you do not need to complete this form.

For each dependent family member’s adjustment application, you must enclose an original Form I-134. To each Form I-134, the following documents should be attached:

(1) A copy of a recent bank statement showing your current balance;
(2) A copy of the brief letter from your department about your employment (see above)

_____ Form G-325A, “Biographic Information.” This form must be completed for each adult. It is not required for children under 14 years old.

_____ Certification of Copies form (http://web.mit.edu/scholars/pdfs/cert_of_copies.pdf)

_____ Photocopy of the birth certificate for each applicant, translated if not in English. You should have the original(s) available to you in the U.S. in case they are asked for at some future time. Do not send originals to USCIS.

_____ If you are married and your spouse is also filing for adjustment, a photocopy of your marriage certificate or license, translated if not in English. Final divorce papers are also required if either you or your spouse have been divorced. You should have the original(s) available to you in the U.S. in case they are asked for at some future time. Do not send originals to USCIS. See translation guidelines or consult your immigration attorney.

_____ Photocopy of Form I-797, If MIT has already sent form I-140 on your behalf, each adjustment of status packet, for each member of the family, should include a copy of this form. A copy should have been given to you by the ISchO. If you are filing Forms I-140 and I-485 “concurrently,” you will not yet have this form.
Photocopy of most recent I-94 admission record (download from https://i94.cbp.dhs.gov/I94/) or paper Form I-94, if applicable (front and back even if the back is blank).

“Summary of Visa History and Employment Status in the United States” form (http://web.mit.edu/scholars/pdfs/visa_history.pdf)

Photocopy of passport for self and any family members: pages containing issuance and expiration dates, personal data, photo and any U.S. visa stamps.

Photocopies of all current and past nonimmigrant visa documents, e.g. Forms DS-2019 (or IAP-66), I-20, I-797 approval notices for changes of status to H-1B, J-1, etc., USCIS waiver of two-year home country residence requirement, etc.

Form I-765, “Application for Employment Authorization” (Your choice whether or not to apply for this)
See links under “Permission to work and travel based on a pending adjustment application” at http://web.mit.edu/scholars/intlscholars/visas/adjustment.html for full instructions. If you wish, you may consult an immigration attorney. Your spouse may also request work authorization at this time on a separate Form I-765.

Form I-131, “Application for Travel Document” (Advance Parole) (Your choice whether or not to apply for this)
See links under “Permission to work and travel based on a pending adjustment application” at http://web.mit.edu/scholars/intlscholars/visas/adjustment.html for full instructions. If you wish, you may consult an immigration attorney. Your dependents may also request travel documents at this time on separate Forms I-131.

Travel: Unless you and your dependents are in H nonimmigrant status, you must obtain USCIS travel document(s) prior to travel outside the United States while your adjustment of status is pending. Consult the links under “Permission to work and travel based on a pending adjustment application” at http://web.mit.edu/scholars/intlscholars/visas/adjustment.html. Discuss your particular situation with your lawyer. You may apply for Advance Parole when you apply for adjustment or you may apply at a later date.

Preparing the Application for Mailing

NOTE: Keep a copy of all documents (application forms, attachments, checks, etc.) to ensure you can quickly submit a duplicate if the original is lost or if you need to bring an error to USCIS’ attention.

Assemble a separate application set for each person (you, your spouse and each child) in the order listed below, and secure each set by a large clip or rubber band, not staples. Mail all application sets to USCIS in the same envelope.

1. Fee Payment: Place the check or money order on the top left of each Form I-485. Do not send cash. Only personal checks, money orders or cashier’s checks payable to Department of Homeland Security are acceptable.

2. Form I-485 with photos in attached envelope (may use paperclip)
3. Copy of Form I-797 (USCIS receipt or approval notice for MIT’s I-140 petition), if applicable
4. Form I-134 for each dependent family member (if applicable)
5. Verification of employment letter from your Department
6. Copy of bank statement
7. Envelope containing SEALED medical report, Form I-693
8. Form G-325A
9. Signed original Certification of Copies form
10. Photocopy of birth certificate (with English translation, if needed)
11. If married, proof of marriage license (with English translation, if needed). Proof of divorce, if applicable (with English translation, if needed)
12. Summary of Visa Status and Employment in the U.S. form
13. Most recent I-94 admission record (or paper I-94 card, if applicable)
14. Copy of passport pages and immigration documentation in reverse chronological order – most recent first.
15. Form I-765 (optional), with required attachments and photos.
16. Form I-131 (optional) with required attachments and photos.

Mailing Address for Employment-Based Adjustment of Status Applications:

- When mailing Form I-485 packages (concurrently with I-140) via regular mail (including Forms I-765 and I-131, if applicable), send to the Texas Service Center at:

  USCIS Dallas Lockbox
  P.O. Box 660867
  Dallas, TX 75266

- When mailing the I-485 packages (concurrently with I-140) via express mail (FedEx, USPS Priority or Express Mail, etc.), the following street address must be used:

  USCIS
  ATTN: AOS
  2501 S. State Highway, 121 Business
  Suite 400
  Lewisville, TX 75067

  Telephone: 1-800-375-5283
• When Form I-485 is Filed Separately from the Form I-140: If Form I-140 is already pending or approved, the I-485 package for the principal and accompanying dependents should be mailed to the Service Center where the I-140 was sent (as specified on the Form I-140 Receipt Notice, or on a subsequent transfer notice, if the case was transferred) – either the Texas Service Center or the Nebraska Service Center. Include a copy of the USCIS I-140 receipt notice or approval notice, and transfer notice.

Please Let the ISchO Know:

1. The date you mailed your I-485 packet to USCIS (e-mail ruizvn@mit.edu or adoran@mit.edu)

2. In 2-4 weeks you will receive from USCIS a receipt for the application. Provide a copy of the receipt to the ISchO.

3. Later, you will receive a notice to appear at Boston USCIS to have your fingerprints taken. Follow all instructions on the notice.

4. If you are granted an employment authorization card (EAD), please inform the ISchO if/when you begin using it to work and provide us with a copy.

5. You should receive an approval notice (I-797 Notice of Action) for your Adjustment of Status application from USCIS in 6-12 months. It will say that your permanent resident card will be mailed to you. If you have not yet received the permanent resident card and you need to travel, please contact the ISchO. We have instructions about how to get a permanent resident stamp in your passport while you wait for card to arrive.

Please provide a copy of the stamp or the permanent resident card to the ISchO upon receipt so that we may close your nonimmigrant record and notify Personnel, Payroll and your employing unit of your change to permanent resident status. At that time, our office will provide you important information on how to maintain your permanent resident status.
ADJUSTMENT OF STATUS APPLICANTS: IMMUNIZATIONS

As a result of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996, all people filing for permanent resident status must provide evidence of certain immunizations. This requirement applies to people who are applying to adjust from nonimmigrant to immigrant status here in the U.S. as well as people applying from overseas at a U.S. consular post for an immigrant visa with which to re-enter the U.S.

Required Vaccines: Please see web links earlier in this checklist. The law requires each individual applying for immigrant status (including family members) to present documentation of vaccination against mumps, measles, rubella, polio, tetanus and diphtheria toxoids, pertussis, influenza type B, hepatitis B, and any other vaccinations against vaccine-preventable diseases recommended by the Advisory Committee for Immunization Practices (ACIP). The ACIP guidelines include the varicella, haemophilus influenza type B, and pneumococcal vaccines. Documentation of vaccination against these diseases must also be presented, as appropriate. Please note that the appropriateness of each vaccination for each applicant can only be determined by a qualified medical doctor and will be assessed based on factors such as age, season, etc.

Provisions for a waiver of the vaccination requirements have been made for those who do not wish to comply on the grounds of “religious belief or moral conviction” or for valid medical reasons. You may wish to discuss this with the USCIS-approved physician during your medical exam.

It is important to obtain a record of vaccinations you have had previously prior to visiting the USCIS-approved civil surgeon who will be giving you the medical examination for your Adjustment of Status application, and who will complete a Form I-693 Supplement concerning vaccinations. An English translation must accompany any vaccination records that are not in English.

If you are lacking any of the immunizations that are considered to be both required and appropriate for you, and do not qualify for a waiver, you will be required to get those specified by the civil surgeon. Immunizations may be done by the civil surgeon giving you your medical exam, or by your personal physician. Please note that having your own physician do this is likely to be less expensive for you. Your doctor would then provide you with updated records to provide to the civil surgeon. In case of any doubt, we recommend that you wait to obtain any additional immunizations until after you have your appointment with the civil surgeon, to be absolutely certain as to what is necessary. You can then return with additional paperwork, if needed.
