

Are you staying around this summer for classes, UROP, or job in Boston area? Or Are you a graduating in June? Will you be around campus the week of May 24th?

If yes, the MIT Career Development Centers needs you to share your opinion about how to enhance the career opportunities that are available to students. To accomplish our goal, we are looking for students in all departments and degree levels to give feedback on job opportunities, both internships and full-time. In particular, the Career Development Center is seeking students to share their perspective, positive or negative, about searching for job opportunities.

I am looking for the following types of students:

1. Students who are active users of On Campus Recruiting opportunities (CareerBridge, Monstertrak, and careerfairs)

And

2. Students who find opportunities outside of On-Campus Recruiting through connections with professors, FSILGs, alumni, job boards and others.

If you are interested in improving MIT career opportunities now and in the future and you are available May 26th from 3-4:30, please contact me <liverman@mit.edu> indicating your interest.

-

Deborah Liverman
MIT Career Development Center