Outside Award Reply Form

Academic Year 2009-2010

We define outside awards as any private or state scholarship, grant or benefit you receive. This may include merit-based scholarships from private foundations, tuition benefits from your parents' employer or state grant programs such as the Robert C. Byrd scholarship. If you do receive an outside award, we apply it to offset part or all of your self-help and summer earnings expectation before we reduce your MIT scholarship.

Use this form to report any outside scholarships, grants or benefits you will receive for 2009-2010. For more information about self-help and outside awards, refer to "ComMITment," which is available on the SFS web site (<http://web.mit.edu/sfs>) under "Forms and Publications." If your outside award information changes after you submit this form, complete another Outside Award Reply Form. Upon receipt of this form, we will change your financial aid package based on any outside awards not previously included. We will contact you as necessary with any further information or instructions.
