Favorite restaurant in Boston:
Boston's Chinatown is predominantly Cantonese so I really like going to Chinatown for Dim Sum on the weekends and take out during the week days. I also love the Indian lunch buffets in central square. Giacomo's in the north end is worth the hour wait!

Favorite place to take visitors: Walking on the Charles River and Boston Common park. Taking them to good eats in the North end and China town.*

Do you have a car: I've never known a convenient commute without a car and I'm really glad I didn't bring one up. I either get a rental car for the weekend or grab a zip car for a few hours.*

Where you go grocery shopping: I go to Costco once a quarter to stock up on household goods and meats. Once a week, I drop by Shaws, Chinese grocery store in Chinatown, and Trader Joe's.*

Favorite Sloan function: Treks, treks, treks!! I've really enjoyed the time we've spent with other sloanies and so's outside Cambridge. My favorite C-Function was the Japanese one.*

Favorite thing to do in your spare time in Boston: Try all the good eats in and around Cambridge and Boston. I love the Japanese food court at Porter Exchange.*
