The Technique Award

The Technique Cup

IN 1922 the TECHNIQUE presented to the M. I. T. A. A. a silver cup to be given each year to the Track athlete, who, through highest score in points, and excellent sportsmanship, had become worthy of this award.

This year the cup was presented to Bror J. Grondal, the first Sophomore to win this honor. Throughout his Freshman year, his brilliant work in the shot-put made him one of Technology's outstanding athletes. Each meet he added to his points when he won either first or second place in his event. In the dual meet with Holy Cross he broke the Freshman record in the twelve-pound shot with a toss of forty-seven feet, eleven inches. Bror did not confine his efforts to the shot put in which he excelled, but could also hurl the discus. In no meet during his Freshman year did he fail to win a place in the discus event.

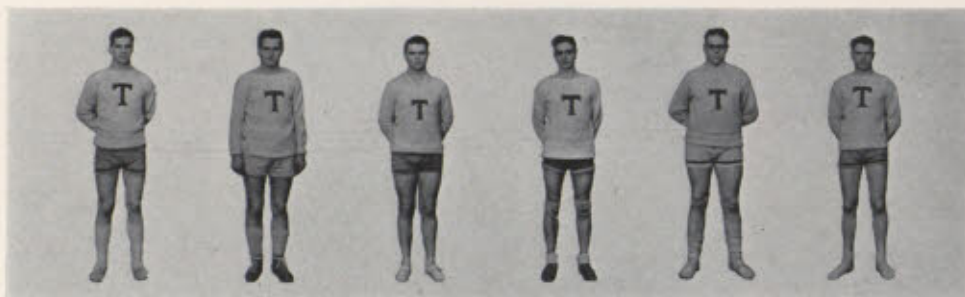

In his Sophomore year he turned his attention to the sixteen-pound shot and was even more successful than in his Freshman year. In the meet with Maine he was first in the shot put and second in the discus, while at Cornell he established a new Institute record of forty-three feet, ten inches in the shot put. To bring his brilliant Sophomore year to a close he won third place in the New England Intercollegiate meet.

Grondal by his excellent record throughout his two years at Technology has indeed distinguished himself in athletics, and it was felt that no better man could have been chosen to receive the TECHNIQUE award. He is not only an ardent athlete, but an excellent student and fine sportsman. It is these sterling qualities for which the TECHNIQUE cup stands. TECHNIQUE takes great pleasure in being able to award its cup to such a worthy undergraduate of Technology.

Crew

THE first call for crew candidates was made shortly after classes were resumed and as usual a large number responded. The men were placed in the shells as soon as they appeared so that within a week Coach Bill Haines had a Varsity, Junior Varsity and two 150-pound crews on the river. Practice was held every evening for about three weeks when the crews started morning rowing. From this time on the crews were out on the water at seven every morning and back at the boathouse in time for breakfast and nine o'clock classes.

Throughout the winter months the men worked diligently on the machines. On March 4 training table was started at Walker Memorial. At the same time the shells were given a final overhauling and everything was made ready for the outdoor season. The barge was launched for the first session on the Charles on the 6th of March. Within the next week the men were placed in shells, and on March 13, six shells and the barge were on the river daily.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Crews met the respective Navy crews on April 20 after a week's practice on the Severn. The Varsity stroked by Otis registered its first victory, winning from the Navy by three lengths. This was Tech's first victory over the Navy in nine years. The M. I. T. crew was outweighed nine pounds to the man but their lead was never threatened during the race. Coach Bill Haines was enthusiastic over the race and predicted a hard race with Princeton. The Jay Vees were defeated by the Navy Junior Varsity by about three lengths.

On April 27 the Varsity, Junior Varsity and the 150-pound crews raced the respective Princeton crews on the Charles Basin. The fifties rowed the Henley distance while the heavy crews raced over the new $1\frac{3}{4}$ mile course along the Esplanade. With the basin as calm as a mill pond the varsity crews got off to an excellent start. M. I. T. took the lead and increased it to $\frac{1}{4}$ length at the bridge. At the three-quarter mark the crews were even. Setting a long powerful stroke the Technology boat gradually drew away from the Tiger crew. A few lengths from the finish the Princeton crew sprinted and were $\frac{1}{4}$ length ahead when one of the M. I. T. oarsmen caught a crab. The crew quickly recovered but were unable to close up the total distance and Princeton crossed the line a length ahead. The 150-pound crews staged their race the first in the afternoon. After trailing the Princeton eight over the entire course the Technology eight was defeated by a little more than a length and a quarter. The Technology Junior Varsity led the Tiger Jay Vees by a length at the bridge but were unable to hold the lead. The Princeton crew gradually closed up and established a two-length lead which they held until the finish line was crossed.

William Haines

On May 11 the Varsity and Junior Varsity crews met the corresponding Cornell and Harvard crews on the Charles. In the Varsity race, Harvard jumped into the lead at the gun and held it until the bridge was reached when Cornell's spurt advanced them to first position. Technology met this challenge and stayed a few feet in back of Cornell. M. I. T. then started another sprint but were unable to overtake the Cornell eight which finished three lengths ahead of the M. I. T. boat which in turn was a length ahead of Harvard.

The Jay Vee race was the most exciting race of the day. The Harvard boat took the lead at the start and when Walker Memorial was reached Cornell and Tech were abreast with Harvard $\frac{3}{4}$ length in the lead. Technology sprinted and closed up on Harvard. At this point number six in the Cornell boat cracked his oar. Despite this accident Cornell did not drop more than ten feet behind the others the remainder of the race. In the most spectacular

The following Saturday, May 18, the Varsity, Junior Varsity, 150-pound Varsity and the Freshman crews raced the respective Columbia crews on the Harlem. The Columbia crews won all of the races although the Technology crews rowed exceedingly well in each class.

When final examinations were over, practice was begun for the four-mile Varsity and the two-mile Freshman races at Poughkeepsie. For two weeks the men rowed on the Charles twice each day. At the end of this period the shells were shipped to Poughkeepsie and another two weeks of hard rowing were put in before the race. Coach Haines had reorganized the boat due to the fact that some of the men were unable to get off for the month's practice. Both crews showed up very well in the daily practices but were handicapped by the hot weather.

At the Poughkeepsie Regatta, of the nine shells that started all but four were sunk before the finish. The Technology boat was not a rough water boat and was the second to go down, after leading the field for the first 300 yards. This race marked the end of the 1929 rowing season at M. I. T.

As a whole, this was the most successful season that Technology has had since the organization of crew as a major sport. More men than ever before derived benefit from rowing. The turnout of both the Freshmen and upper classmen was much greater than Coach Haines had expected. The result of this increased interest was apparent. The defeat of Navy and Harvard and a close race with Princeton showed that Tech has established its crew as one of the major crews of the East.

Coach Haines is to be highly commended for his work as well as the men who showed a wonderful spirit in not only sacrificing their spare time during the school year but also a large part of their vacation in order that Technology might make its initial appearance at the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Track

TRACK at Technology has always been one of the most popular of sports. This year proved to be no exception, as some sixty men gathered in the hangar gym early in October to receive their first instructions from Coach Hedlund.

Work was confined to the cinders until December when the workouts were transferred to the board track. The showings made by the team in the numerous handicap meets pointed to a very successful season.

Frederick A. Ladd, Jr.
1930 Captain

On January 26, the Varsity Relay Team competed in the first meet of the indoor season when they ran in the K. of C. games held at the Boston Arena. In this meet the team defeated the University of Maine in the three quarter mile handicap; M. S. Herbert breaking the tape to win first place. A week later the team lost to Harvard after a brilliant race. However, in the field events P. Benjamin tied for first place in the high jump. On February 9 the team journeyed to New York to take part in the annual Millrose game. After one of the fastest races the Cardinal and Gray runners lost to Colgate University by a scant yard.

James B. Fisk
1930 Manager

The N.E.A.A.U. Meet found several members of the team competing in the events.

Although none of the men placed, the work of Wayne and Hallahan was outstanding for Technology. On February 22, the team competed in the N.J.A.A.U. meet and showed considerable improvement over the previous meet. Dick Baltzer won the 1000-yard run and the National Junior Indoor Championship. In the pole vault, Elmer placed third while Cohen won third in the standing high jump.

The next afternoon, four Institute records were broken in the handicap meet. Wayne and Gilman of the Freshmen broke the record for the 40-yard dash and 1000-yard run respectively. Fred Ladd set a new varsity record in the 300-yard run while Thorsen ran $1\frac{1}{4}$ miles in the record time of 6 minutes 1 second.

Not content with these records, the Freshmen lowered two more in their meet with Huntington when Hall set a mark in the 300-yard run while Jewett lowered the time for the 600-yard distance. The annual inter-class meet on March 2 brought the indoor season to a close. The Sophomores were the victors with the Juniors winning second place. In this meet Ladd set a new record for the 300-yard run when he ran the distance in 34 seconds. Among the Freshmen Gilman established a new mark for the mile run.

It was not long before the spring weather made it possible for the team to return to the cinders. The outdoor interclass meet on April 13 afforded Coach Hedlund an opportunity to make a good estimate of the possibilities of his men. The Sophomores repeated their victory of the winter meet, by easily winning first place. Jewett, a Freshman, caused the biggest surprise when he nosed out Captain Hallahan in the 440-yard run.

The first dual meet of the Cardinal and Gray runners was disastrous. After journeying to Ithaca the Varsity team was defeated by the strong Cornell runners. Hallahan and Benjamin were the only Tech men to win first places. Hallahan won the 440-yard run while Benjamin cleared six feet to win the high jump. Even though Grondal set a new Varsity record in the shot put with a heave of 43 feet 10 inches, he was forced to take second place. In the two-mile run, Thorsen was unfortunate in that he twisted his ankle so that he was forced to drop out. In the mile run Baltzer and Herberts outran themselves the first three quarters in leading the field. Both were just beaten at the finish although Herberts finished third. The 220-yard run was the closest race of the meet. Ladd, by a brilliant burst of speed, finished second after a hard fought race. Cornell took all three places in six events, winning the 220 low hurdles, 120 high hurdles, 100-yard dash, the two-mile, pole vault and discus throw.

Robert Bowie
Field Coach

On May 11 the Technology team faced the University of Maine, New England Champions, at Tech field. The M. I. T. runners did not entertain much hope of a victory but were determined to fight for every point. The 220-yard run was the closest race of the season. Stymiest, of Maine, running a fine race, held the lead to within a few yards of tape when Ladd, with a terrific burst of speed passed him to cross the finish but inches in front of the Maine star. Berry, running in the half mile, took the lead at the start and was never forced to exert himself. The struggle for second place however, was different. Leadbetter who ran a brilliant race, was forced to finish third when Monk of Maine passed him a few yards from the finish.

Grondal surprised the Maine followers by defeating Captain Black in the shot put. The Maine star had broken the indoor record during the winter and was expected to win.

Benjamin again came through to win the high jump, defeating O'Conner who placed second. However, in the broad jump the Maine star won first place followed by his teammate, White. Wood gave his best but was unable to equal the leap of his opponents from Maine. Thorsen, who ankle had been injured in the meet with Cornell, ran a fine race, despite his handicap, to win second place in the two-mile run. McNiff just failed to overtake Brooks of Maine who finished third.

In the last dual meet of the season the Technology track team journeyed to Durham, N. H. to face the strong University of New Hampshire runners. Although M.I.T. won five first places, the superiority of the New Hampshire team in the running events was sufficient to win the meet. In the dashes M. I. T. scored two second places both being made by Ladd, and two thirds, made by Broder and Jandris. In the quarter mile-run, Noyes of New Hampshire who had been the star of Wildcat runners, won from Captain Hallahan. It was not until the final sprint that the New Hampshire star was able to outrun Hallahan and break the tape. The first win for Technology was the two-mile event. Thorsen and Hazen ran evenly for the first seven laps, but the M. I. T. veteran sprinted the last quarter of mile at a pace too fast for the New Hampshire runner. McNiff won third place. In the field events, M. I. T. won four firsts. Benjamin won the high jump with a leap of 6 feet $\frac{1}{2}$ inch, which equalled the Institute record. Grondal again won first place in shot put as well as winning the discus throw. In the hammer throw Crout won another first place.

Although the final score favored the New Hampshire team the events were closely contested and Technology might easily have won the meet if they had been a little stronger in the running events.

The Freshman team had its usual dual meets with Andover, Tufts, New Hampshire and Holy Cross. Tech's first-year team lost to Andover but on the track they won all but the 100-yard run. The Freshmen won against Tufts by a large score but against Holy Cross and New Hampshire they lost by quite a margin. The Freshmen will be a help to the varsity team next year with Captain Gilman, Hall, Jewett, Robertson, Wayne, Cree, and Bailey coming up.

During the track season both indoor and outdoor handicap meets are held which gives every man a chance to see what he can do and find what event is best for him when it comes to making his place on the varsity team. The indoor season ended with a class meet on the 2nd of March, and this year one hundred and nine men tried their luck in winning medals, which is the largest number ever out for this meet. These meets continue on the outdoor track and in addition a practice meet with Tufts is held on the M. I. T. track which gives both teams a real work out.

On the Straightaway

For the year of 1929-1930, Coach Hedlund has planned to have a new form of competition for the Freshman class. This would call for all men who sign up for track in place of Physical Training to enter in eight events on a point basis, and the men scoring first, second, and third greatest number of points would be given medals. The events would be such as to bring the best out of the Freshman and later put him in a scoring event when it comes to the team in the spring meets. This form of track would be carried on during the winter months with work indoors in the bad weather so that no days would be wasted. Since many men first take up Track as a sport during their Freshman year at Technology, this plan would in effect be a continuous preparation for better varsity teams and continually feed Coach Hedlund with fresh material which has been under his direction for a year to replace the men who are lost through graduation.

This year more men have reported for Track than ever and numbered up to two hundred and eight in the spring. It is felt that this indicates a more widespread recognition on the part of the undergraduates of the value of regular exercise as well as the fact that learning how to both win and lose may be a valuable part of a college education.

Technology's track team, through its work of the past years has established for itself a reputation among the intercollegiate world, based not on victories but rather on the clean, fighting character and sportsmanship of its athletes.

Cross Country

CROSS COUNTRY practice commenced shortly before the opening of the fall term in order to give the squad more time to train for the first meet. Led by Captain Thorsen and under the direction of Coach Hedlund the men began working out on the courses at Winchester, Franklin Field, and Tufts College. An unusually large squad reported, and the team was built around the six veterans of the 1928 season.

On October 26, Holy Cross was met and defeated. Breman, the Holy Cross star, finished first, while Thorsen and Gilman, of M.I.T. divided honors for second place. Only two Crusaders placed among the first nine. The Freshmen were equally successful with McKay finishing second for the Tech yearlings.

Against the strong University of New Hampshire harriers the Cardinal and Gray were not so successful. The varsity event was lost by a margin of one point. Again Captain Thorsen and Gilman starred for Technology. Baltzer also turned in a good performance. Thorsen held the lead the greater part of the race only to be overtaken by Hazen, the New Hampshire flash, in the last quarter of a mile. The Freshmen, too, met defeat. Captain Masters and McKay ran well, but were outclassed by the fleet Wildcats.

Following the meet with New Hampshire the Technology team participated in the New England Championships where the team beat out the Wildcats for third place. Bates College, in winning the run, made one of the lowest scores ever turned in at a New England Intercollegiate run. Thorsen and Gilman were the first Technology men to finish, placing ninth and thirteenth respectively. The Freshmen, not to be outdone by the varsity, also finished third with the New Hampshire yearlings winning.

On November 25, the teams competed in the I.C.A.A.A. meet held at Van Cortlandt Park, N. Y. Gilman was the first man to finish for M. I. T., taking thirtieth place. At the two-mile mark, Captain Thorsen, running, in ninth place, was crushed against a hurdle, and severely bruised. However, he refused to be taken out of the race and continued through the remaining four miles, running with decided difficulty. He finished sixty-eighth, placing third Tech man. McSheehy, the second Beaver, was thirty-fifth. Technology won eleventh team place. The Freshman team, led by McKay who finished twenty-second, came in tenth.

Having placed third in the objective meet of the year, the New England championships, the 1929 Cross Country team has earned a place for itself as one of the best that has ever represented Technology.

Basketball

THE basketball season was opened at home with a decisive win over the New Bedford Textile five. The game enabled Coach McCarthy to determine the faults and possibilities of his players. Dave Motter, at center, played a fine game, scoring many difficult shots.

Scoring their second victory the Technology quintet defeated the Brown University five on December 11. The Cardinal and Gray five played a very fast game, scoring on many fast plays that completely baffled the opposing team. Brown staged a desperate rally in the second half but were unable to break through the Technology defense.

The Beavers won another victory when they defeated the Newport Naval team by an overwhelming score. M. I. T. completely outclassed their rivals who had considerable difficulty in breaking through the defense of the Institute five. Nee and Harrison were the outstanding players for Technology, each scoring five baskets.

Technology met their first defeat at Harvard after one of the most interesting games of the season. The Cardinal and Gray established a lead early in the first period but were unable to prevent the Crimson cagemen from scoring. Nee, again was the outstanding player for Technology, making but one less point than Winner, Harvard's star forward.

Returning from vacation, the Technology five defeated Norwich and shortly after won decisively from Middlebury.

The game with Lowell Textile added another victory to the M. I. T. record. Against Yale, however, the quintet was unable to display its usual fine offense due to the close covering of the Yale team which prevented the Technology forwards from scoring.

The game with the University of Maine resulted in another win. New Hampshire won their game after a very closely contested match.

On Washington's birthday the varsity defeated Union College. The Technology team scored early and held a comfortable lead throughout the game. Lawson, playing on the defense scored six baskets to lead the team in points.

On March first the varsity five defeated Brooklyn Polytech in a close game. M. I. T. gained a substantial lead in the first quarter only to have the Polytech men nearly tie the score in the second half. To pick an individual star from this game would be impossible, so well did the team perform.

In the final game of the season, the M. I. T. was forced to bow to a fighting Tufts team.

Hockey

THE 1930 hockey season opened early in December with two weeks of strenuous practice at the Boston Arena. Under the able coaching of "Bill" Stewart the men developed into a fast and aggressive team.

The first game of the season was with Boston University on December 13, at the Boston Arena. The Terriers, with several weeks of practice, were favored to defeat the Technology team. However, early in the first period Peterson, receiving a pass from Hall, outwitted the Boston University goalie and scored for Tech. The Terriers evened the count in the second period only to have the M. I. T. team score twice more before the end of the game. Riley was easily the star of the game, smothering many shots by his excellent goal tending.

The game with Northeastern resulted in another victory for M. I. T. The team failed to display the form and power of its previous game yet easily downed the Northeastern men.

The Harvard team proved too fast for the Cardinal and Gray, outplaying the Technology men until the third period when the team staged a great rally and threatened the Harvard net many times. Peterson, Ford and Hall made frantic attempts but were unable to get the puck past the Crimson goalie. Although defeated, Technology was not discouraged and determined to redeem this defeat.

On February 3rd the team journeyed to Potsdam, N. Y. to play the Clarkson College hockey team. The extremely cold weather handicapped the team to such an extent they were unable to play their best.

Not daunted with being defeated by Clarkson College, the M. I. T. team gained a victory over the St. Lawrence University team at Canton the following day, displaying the best hockey of the season.

The game with New Hampshire University was the fastest of the year. It was not until the middle of the overtime period that Technology scored the winning goal.

At Princeton the team was defeated after a hard fought game in which Riley played a fine defensive game, giving a remarkable exhibition of goal tending.

The final game of the year was with Brown at Providence. The game was unusually fast, the M. I. T. team showing great strength on the defense. However, the Brown sextet succeeded in scoring three times before the Tech team was able to check them.

The season was one of the most successful in recent years. With four victories and four defeats, the team can well be satisfied with its record.

Boxing

THE 1930 Boxing team, aided by several veterans, opened its season early in December. Coach Rawson was able to build a well balanced team with such men as Captain Bolaños, Orleman and Lamoretti from last year's varsity.

In their first meet of the season the Technology boxers met the strong Army team. The M. I. T. team was able to win but one match which was taken by Orleman in a decisive manner. After being knocked down early in the first round, he came back with a strong offensive attack which completely bewildered his opponent. The intervention of the referee prevented him from scoring a knockout.

The meet with Navy was almost as disastrous as that with the Army. M. I. T. fought their best but were unable to cope with their more experienced opponents.

On February 15 the team journeyed to Durham to meet the University of New Hampshire boxers. Technology was outclassed in this meet, being unable to win one fight. Orleman lost his first bout after one round of fighting. The crippled condition of the M. I. T. team made it necessary to forfeit three of the matches.

In a return bout with the New Hampshire team, Technology boxers lost by a single point. Orleman reversed the decision of his previous encounter, defeating the same man who had beaten him a week before. In his first appearance as a Varsity boxer, Daniels from last year's Freshman team, won in a colorful manner. The one hundred and seventy-five pound class, however, was forfeited, giving New Hampshire the match.

On March 4 the Cardinal and Gray boxers defeated the Dartmouth boxing team at Hanover. The bouts were unusually fast, providing many exciting moments. Orleman in a short, fast round knocked out his opponent to score the first win for M. I. T. Captain Bolaños clearly out-boxed his Dartmouth opponent, and won on a decision. In the one hundred and fifty-pound class Daniels repeated his previous victory and was able to completely outclass his opponent.

To close the season Technology journeyed to New York where they lost a close match to New York University. Orleman again starred for Technology, as did Captain Bolaños. Daniels lost his first bout of the season after a very close decision.

Although the M. I. T. boxers failed to win all their matches, they gave their best and deserve considerable credit for the success they attained.

Fencing

EARLY in the fall of 1930 the Technology Fencing enthusiasts reported for their first practice. Most of the varsity men of the 1929 team had graduated, leaving Coach Roth the task of building a new team.

To open the season with the strong Boston College team was an undertaking for which the team was not yet quite ready. The fine work of Fragiaco and Deake, however, prevented the Boston College team from scoring a complete victory.

With the experience gained in their first meet, the Engineers worked zealously toward improvement. On February 12 the team crossed swords with Harvard. Although defeated, the team showed considerable improvement over its previous meet. The work of Captain Deake and Kennedy in the epees was outstanding for M. I. T.

Three days later the Technology squad faced the Dartmouth team. Despite the hard fight the Engineers put up the Big Green team proved to be too clever. Fragiaco was the only Technology man to score, winning his bout in the foils and sabre.

On February 20 the team journeyed to New York to face the City College of New York. This meet was one of the closest of the season, the New York team winning by its superior work in the foils. The epee and sabre bouts resulted in a tie when Pentler won both of his bouts in the epee and Fragiaco and Kennedy each won one in the sabre.

The following two days the Technology men tasted defeat twice, at the hands of the University of Penn and of Navy, two of the outstanding teams in the East. Fragiaco and Shellard were the only two Technology men who were able to score.

Not discouraged by these defeats, the team determined to fight the harder when it met the strong Norwich team on February 28. The M. I. T. fencers, however, were unable to equal the fencing of the Norwich men in the foils and sabre, losing every bout. But in the epee, Pentler outclassed his opponent to win two of his bouts while Captain Deake easily defeated his opponent.

On March 1 the team won its first victory of the season, defeating Bowdoin College. Deake won both of his matches, and Fragiaco completely outclassed his opponent.

The final two matches of the season were disastrous for the Cardinal and Gray. Both Boston University and Columbia defeated the Beaver Team. Shellard broke through the defense of his opponent to score point after point to win the bout.

Gym

THE Technology Gym Team scored its first victory of the season over Bowdoin when it decisively defeated the Maine Gymnasts at Brunswick. Captain Wells was the star performer of the meet, winning firsts in the high bar and parallels, as well as second on the side horse. Knapp defeated his teammate in this event by a small margin.

The first home meet was held at Technology on March 21, when the Princeton team met the wearers of the Cardinal and Gray. The meet was closely contested, but the Tiger Gymnasts carried off first honors. The fine work of Claggett for Princeton, who won three first places, was enough to defeat Technology. Wells again starred for the Cardinal and Gray, scoring one first, two second and one third place.

In their meet with Army, the M. I. T. men put up a hard fight against a more experienced team. Wells and Knapp both performed well, each winning a first and second place.

On March 8 Technology was defeated by the strong Temple Team which had lost but one meet. Captain Wells and Knapp were the outstanding stars for the Beavers, the former taking first on the high bar and the latter winning first place on the side horse and second place in the rope climb.

The Cardinal and Gray participated in the triangular meet with Navy and Dartmouth which was held at Hanover on March 15. Although the team lost to Navy it won over the strong Green team. Zey, of Dartmouth, was the individual star of the meet, winning both the parallel bar and flying rings. Wells remained undefeated when he won first place on the high bar. Knapp also performed well in the meet, winning the rope climb and side horse against Dartmouth.

The Intercollegiate Gym meet was held at the Walker Gym on March 22 with a representation of the strongest teams in the country. The loss of Captain Wells was keenly felt by the Tech team as his work during the year promised to make him one of the outstanding all-around gymnasts of the meet. Knapp, who had performed brilliantly throughout the season won third place on the side horse.

The work of the gym team, as well as that of the individuals, was indeed gratifying as seven of the men had had no previous experience. The record of Captain Wells was exceptionally fine, as he was undefeated on the horizontal bars during the season, and a consistent winner on the side horse, parallel bars, and flying rings.

Soccer

THE 1929 Soccer season opened on October 12, with Brown University. The game was played at the Coop Field and in spite of the early date was hard fought and unusually fast. During the first two quarters, the brilliant offensive play of Technology carried the game into enemy territory with Schultz scoring the first goal. Brown, however, came back to tie the score, and although both teams continued to force the play the game ended in a dead-lock.

On October 19 the Cardinal and Gray journeyed to Hanover to face the strong Dartmouth eleven. The M. I. T. team played a remarkable game but eventually succumbed to the onslaught of the Green offensives. The Dartmouth goalie was pressed time and again but held the Beavers to three points while seven fast shots slipped past the Tech defense.

A week later the Varsity, crippled by numerous injuries, received its second setback of the season at Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Technology threatened the Worcester goalie continually during the first period but were unable to score. In the second quarter Polytech pressed down the field and drove the ball through for the first score. Worcester continued to threaten but the Beaver defense held gamely until the third quarter when the Worcester team broke through for its second and final goal.

Technology won its first game on November 2 from Bridgewater State Normal School. The Beavers showed a marked improvement over previous performances and had little difficulty in overcoming the Bridgewater players.

The clash with Harvard resulted in a tie when the Crimson came from behind to score in the final period. The game was keenly contested all the way and only the sterling work of the Technology defense saved the Beavers from defeat. The powerful, undefeated Harvard eleven was pushed to the limit by the fast play of Technology's forward line.

The Cardinal and Gray lost the hardest game of the year to Northeastern. The contest was fast and marked by considerable rough play. Technology scored in the first period after a long hot scrimmage. In the second quarter the Huskies crashed through with two goals only to be driven back down the field as the Beavers retaliated to tie the score. Both teams were fighting hard. Injuries were numerous. Finally, after a furious tussle in front of the Tech goal, the Northeastern booters shot the ball past the Beaver goalie for the winning point.

On November 16 the Varsity met the strong Clark eleven at Worcester. The Cardinal and Gray played excellent soccer but were unable to cope with the fast attack of the Clark team.

The Beavers closed the season by defeating Tufts in a close contest at the Coop Field.

Rifle

AFTER a month of preliminary training, the varsity rifle team, under the guidance of Coach Captain Vernon Hall and Assistant Coach Sergeant Harold MacDonnell, opened its season November 23 with a match with the Arlington Rifle Club. Firing on their own range, M. I. T. won by 853-747. Two weeks later the team met the Greater Boston Rifle Club and won 858-763. In addition to these two matches the team before Christmas engaged in ten telegraphic matches with various college teams, winning six.

On January 10 the team met the Garden City Rifle and Revolver Club, one of the best civilian teams in New England, and, firing on the M. I. T. range, was defeated 890-847. The strong Boston University team was forced to bow to Tech 1310-1276 in a prone, kneeling, and standing match fired on the M. I. T. range. February 19 witnessed the encounter and defeat of Boston College on their own range with a score of 853-713. The same evening, the second varsity teams of M. I. T. and Boston College fired on the M. I. T. range, M. I. T. winning 838-713. The next shoulder-to-shoulder match was fired March 14, against the Garden City Rifle and Revolver Club on its own range in Beverly. This match M. I. T. won by 940-912.

Engaging in a match March 28 with George Washington University and firing eight men prone, kneeling, and standing, five high scores to count, M. I. T. was defeated by the close score of 1353-1340. The next day the team met the Navy who won 1383-1343. Considering that these two teams were the best in the Eastern part of the country, and that M. I. T. was firing on strange ranges, the closeness of the scores showed excellent shooting.

During the winter about fifty telegraphic matches were fired with other colleges, of which number M. I. T. won about seventy-five percent. Also the Technology team was a member of the N. R. A. New England Postal League, and placed second with five victories and one defeat. The previous two years M. I. T. had placed first in this league, but this year was defeated by Norwich University 1375-1359, Norwich University taking first place.

During February an R. O. T. C. team composed of R. O. T. C. members of the varsity squad was entered in the annual 1st Corps Area match, and won the 1st Corps Area championship for the second successive year, shooting 7438 out of a possible 8000.

To conclude a very successful season the Technology Rifle Team won the final and most important match for the year, the N. R. A. Eastern Division Intercollegiate Championship. M. I. T. placed first among the nine teams competing to win the event for the second time in two years.

Swimming

THE swimming season opened in October with a mass meeting, at which Coach Russell Dean outlined the work expected of each man. Practice began immediately in order that the men might be in the best of condition for the first meet.

On January 10th, at the University Club pool, M. I. T. met and was defeated by Bowdoin, the score being 29-27. The entire team proved to be extremely well balanced. There was no individual star to overshadow the work of the team as a unit.

The team swam against New York University, at New York a week later, and against Columbia the following day. Both meets were lost by a narrow margin. The fine performance of the relay team aided greatly in bringing up the standard of the Technology swimmers.

After the mid-year vacation, the season was resumed when the Varsity defeated Amherst at the University Club on February 15. Jarosh won second place in both the 440-yard swim and the 300-yard medley, the two most strenuous races, that are consecutive in the order of events.

During the next week the team swam against Brown and Yale, the two outstanding teams in New England. Both meets resulted in defeats. They were featured by the performance of Lykes in the dive.

On the 28th of February the team swam against Rensselaer, and the next day met the Williams swimmers. Although the Engineers were defeated, the races were very close, the winner being decided in the last few yards. The work of Appleton in the breast stroke was outstanding for M. I. T.

The home season was closed by a meet with Wesleyan at the University Club on March 8th. This meet was the closest of the year and ended in a victory for Technology. It was not until Carl Baker defeated the Wesleyan man in the finish of the medley relay, the last event, that the meet was won. Captain Torchio and Jack Jarosh in their last appearance in Boston under the Cardinal and Gray were outstanding. Torchio won the 50-yard dash and placed second in the 100-yard event while Jarosh won the 150-yard back stroke and the medley swim. Jarosh also swam on the relay team.

On March 14th and 15th the team went to Brunswick for the N. E. I. S. A. Championships where they placed fifth in the team scoring. Jarosh and Appleton placed second and fourth respectively in the medley swim. Captain Torchio placed fourth in the 100-yard dash. In this meet Lykes obtained the highest honor of the season by winning the New England Intercollegiate Championship in the fancy dive.

Wrestling

THE M. I. T. wrestling team opened the 1930 season on January 8, when it scored a decisive victory over Harvard at the Hemenway Gymnasium. The Tech wrestlers early outclassed the Harvard matmen in the lighter classes, only one match being lost. In the heavy weight division the Crimson had a slight advantage, but the clever wrestling of Axford, Perkins, Negus and Captain Stone was enough to defeat the Harvard grapplers.

On January 11 the wrestling team journeyed to New Haven to match its skill with the Yale team. The more experienced Eli wrestlers were able to overcome the Beaver wrestlers in all of the heavier matches. Axford and Perkins, however, were again victorious, winning their matches after very close bouts. The other M. I. T. matmen were unable to score a win although several of the matches were quite close.

To score the second win of the season, the Technology wrestlers defeated the C. C. N. Y. team on January 19. Axford kept his record unmarred by easily winning from his opponent. Perkins and Negus again showed their wrestling skill by winning their falls. Cooper lost his bout after an exceedingly close match. Captain Stone easily defeated his adversary to add to Technology's points.

In their first home meet on February 15, the M. I. T. wrestlers defeated the strong Norwich team in the closest match of the season. The result was in doubt until the last bout when Rabinow pinned Berry to the mat for the final fall. Axford continued to be the outstanding M. I. T. wrestler, winning his fourth victory, while Captain Stone defeated his opponent after a hard struggle.

The Technology matmen won their second home victory, by downing Springfield in a hard fought match. This match was featured by the brilliant wrestling of Paul, who had just come out for the team. He pinned his man to the mat in three minutes of wrestling, winning the necessary fall to give M. I. T. the match. Axford went out of his class to wrestle a much heavier man, causing him to lose his first bout of the year.

The meet with Brown University was marked by two upsets when Axford and Negus lost. It was the first defeat for Axford in his class and it was only by the superior physical condition of his opponent that he was thrown. Captain Stone, Vassalotti and Cooper won their matches as did Paul who had been wrestling but a short time.

On March 8 the Technology wrestlers lost a close match to the Tufts Varsity who held a slight advantage in strength. Negus made short work of his opponent in one of the fastest and most exciting battles, while Cooper again scored for M. I. T.

In the Intercollegiates at Walker Memorial on March 15, the M. I. T. wrestlers won third place to close a very successful season. Harvard, a team whom Technology had beaten, won the Championship with the Tufts Varsity winning second place. Axford and Cooper were the stars for Technology, both winning two firsts places while Vassalotti lost a close decision.

Review of Freshman Sports 1929-1930

FRESHMAN athletics at Technology have always been maintained on a high level based on the spirit and sportsmanship that is developed among the men rather than on the record of victories and defeats. In every branch of athletic activity the new men are welcomed regardless of past experience. Everyone is given an opportunity to enjoy the benefits and pleasure to be derived while many men who make their first appearance in athletics as members of a Freshman team later become stars in Intercollegiate Competition as members of the Varsity.

One of the most popular sports among the Freshmen is rowing. Early in the season the Freshmen developed a crew that defeated the more experienced Sophomores on field day. During the winter months the Freshmen continued their efforts, working hard on the machines to improve their form. In their first meet in the spring, however, they had the misfortune to be defeated by Harvard, but only after a gallant struggle. Not discouraged, the first-year men trained harder than ever in preparation for the meet with Kent School. Rowing an excellent race the yearlings were beaten by half a length. Following their tilt with the Kent School crew, they journeyed to Columbia to row their greatest race of the season. Although they met defeat at the hands of the Columbia oarsmen, the splendid rowing of the Technology men qualified them to enter the regatta at Poughkeepsie. Here, due to a poor start, the M. I. T. yearlings began the race at a disadvantage and were unable to overcome the lead taken by the other crews.

Shortly after the opening of the fall term the Freshman Cross Country team began working out at Franklin Field and Winchester. The Holy Cross Freshmen were the first to face the Tech yearlings. First and third places went to the Crusaders but the M. I. T. runners led by Captain Masters finished far ahead of the remaining Holy Cross men to win the meet. The University of New Hampshire runners were the first to defeat the Freshmen in a hard fought battle. In the New England Intercollegiate meet the yearlings finished third, displaying some fine running. The final meet of the season was the Intercollegiates held at New York where the University of New York was the victor. The Cardinal and Gray team finished tenth.

Among the other sports in which the Freshmen take part, Soccer is of interest as being one newly established. Freshman football is always taken up with enthusiasm as part of the keen rivalry between the two lower classes while many of the first-year men are found representing Technology on the Freshman Basketball, Tennis, Swimming, Boxing and Wrestling teams.

The Freshman teams at M. I. T. have served their purpose well in developing the men physically, in training them for Varsity positions, and in impressing on them the importance of true sportsmanship.

Field Day

AMONG the long list of class struggles at Technology, the 29th annual Field Day stands among the foremost.

The contest began early on the morning of November first when the Freshman and Sophomore crews battled for first honors. The start of the race found the crews well matched although the Sophomores were rowing a little more evenly, but when Harvard bridge was reached the powerful Freshman crew increased its stroke to draw ahead of the surprised Sophomores. The yearlings crossed the finish line a length ahead of their rivals, thus winning the first event of the day.

The program for the afternoon was started with the first pull of the tug-of-war. The Freshman team entered the contest with one member missing, a handicap which proved very costly to them as they were unable to hold the more experienced team of second year men and were defeated.

The next attraction, the football game, opened with the men of thirty-two receiving Newman's kick on their own five-yard line. After an exchange of kicks the Sophomores moved the ball to the Freshman two-yard line where Smith intercepted a Sophomore pass and ran it back five yards. After a series of plays by the Freshmen the ball was advanced to the Sophomore twenty-yard line where Ward intercepted a Freshman pass and ran eighty yards for a touchdown. The kick by Paul was wide of the mark. The second year men now kicked off to the Freshmen who were unable to gain and were forced to punt. The Sophomores realizing that one touchdown was not sufficient advantage proceeded to rush the ball back to the Freshman fifteen-yard line. Here the half ended.

The relay teams had been warming up during the football game and now both teams were lined up, ready for the starter's gun. Soisola, the Freshman captain, quickly took the lead from Mulliken, the Sophomore captain, and lead-off man. The Freshman number two man easily held the lead of about five yards, running against Kerrisher. When Kerrisher passed the baton to Schaffer the latter tripped and sent both runners to the ground. Schaffer recovered and set out in pursuit of Clark, who had by now opened up a gap of about thirty yards between himself and his rival.

The Tug-of-War

The Sophomores were unable to close up this gap sufficiently to make the race close. The Freshman anchor man crossed the line while Jewett the Sophomore anchor man was still fifteen yards from the tape.

The score now stood, Freshmen 6—Sophomores 0. As the seriousness of the situation dawned on the Sophomores, they determined to win the tug-of-war. The second pull easily went to the older men with the Freshmen still lacking one man.

The second half of the football game was decidedly in favor of the Sophomores. The Freshmen fumbled on their own twenty-eight yard line soon after the period started. Following a series of plays, Paul of the Sophomore team scored the final touchdown and kicked the only goal of the game. During the remainder of the second half the Freshmen showed a superiority in the kicking game but the Sophomores neutralized this advantage by their greater ability in rushing the ball. At the sound of the timer's whistle the game was concluded with the ball resting on the Freshman twenty-five-yard line and the final score—Sophomores 13—Freshmen 0.

The Football Game

The Institute Committee voted previous to Field Day to take one point from the five assigned to the football game and without changing the total number of points make the glove fight worth one. As the score was now a tie, the result of the battle for gloves would be the deciding one of Field Day.

When the starter's whistle blew, the Sophomores remained in their end of the field with the idea in mind that they would not have to carry any captured gloves as far as if the battle took place in the middle of the field. The Freshmen advanced and attacked with a determination to avenge the defeat suffered by the football team. When the smoke of battle had cleared away, the Freshmen were pronounced the victors by two gloves. The count was one hundred fifty-eight for the Freshmen to one hundred fifty-six for the Sophomores.

The Relay Race

In celebration of their victory, the Freshmen paraded around the field with the dummie of 1932 in their midst. As the Sophomores refused to give further battle the dummie was moved toward the river in which it was deposited in spite of the protest of the marshals.

In the evening one hundred and forty men from both classes gathered in Walker Memorial where Allen W. Rowe '01, Secretary of the Athletic Advisory Council, announced the Sophomores to be the winners by the score of seven to six. Due to a misunderstanding, the Institute Committee had not notified the Advisory Council of their desire to change the apportionment of points so that five points would have to be given for the football game with the glove fight counting nothing.

The Glove Fight

John A. Rockwell '96, Chairman of the Athletic Advisory Council, was the principal speaker of the evening. Dean Lobdell presented the following Sophomores, Louis H. Albiston, Kirkoer Malkasian, Charles H. Marvin, Peter A. Lorrentino and Harty S. Berube with the awards for having shown the greatest improvement through Physical Training.

Institute Committee

THE Institute Committee, which forms both the legislative and executive branches of the student government, is composed of representatives from the four classes in addition to a delegate from each of the recognized activities of the Institute. Its meetings are open to the students, and decisions of the Committee are submitted to a vote of the student body upon petition.

The record of the Institute Committee is most creditable. Technology is one of the few colleges where complete Student Government is successful. The decisions of the Committee are seldom over-ruled, and it has become recognized as the most reliable source of crystallized student opinion as well as a substantial organization for guiding student activities.

THE Architectural Student Council, founded in 1920, is composed of eight members chosen from the different classes and has the power to act in all matters concerning undergraduate discipline. In addition, it has the special function of upholding the honor system by which the Department of Architecture is governed. Complete authority for Student Government is vested in the Council.

The Council also supervises numerous social functions during the year, including a series of smokers, dances, and a picnic in the spring. These activities tend to bring into closer relationship the members of the Department in an effort to better perpetuate the ideals and traditions which lend to Rogers an extraordinary interest.

THE Dormitory Committee is a special branch of the student government at Technology whose function it is to supervise and govern the Dormitories subject to the approval of the Dormitory Board. The membership of the organization is made up of one representative from each of the dormitory halls, the chairman being in turn a member of the Institute Committee, thus insuring cooperation between these two bodies.

The Dormitory Committee has successfully maintained friendly relations between the students living in the Dormitories and the Dormitory Board so that disciplinary action has seldom, if ever, been found to be necessary.

THE Budget Committee is a body whose chief purpose is to regulate the expenditures of all money received through the Undergraduate dues. It also deals with all financial questions relating to undergraduate activities and keeps a permanent record of the financial reports of the activities.

The membership of the Committee is comprised of the treasurer of the Institute Committee, who is ex-officio chairman of the Budget Committee, the Treasurer of the M. I. T. A. A., and one member-at-large, chosen by the Institute Committee. The Bursar of the Institute also acts on the Committee in an advisory capacity.

The responsibility borne by this committee is indicative of its importance, and the manner in which it has carried on its work is worthy of commendation.

IT is to the Walker Memorial Committee that the care of the Walker Memorial Building and the Naval Hangar Gymnasium is entrusted. This student administrative body has the responsibility of enforcing the house rules of Walker Memorial, of controlling the publicity campaigns that take place on the Institute grounds, of supervising the meetings of organizations held in the building, and of assigning rooms in Walker Memorial and the Hangar Gymnasium. These duties are executed in such a manner that the facilities are put to the uses most advantageous to the largest number of students.

By placing the control of this beautiful building in the hands of students, the Administration has enabled the undergraduates not only to profit by the many opportunities for recreation offered in Walker Memorial but also to share the pride and sense of responsibility of ownership.

THE Junior Prom Committee is composed of five members, elected by the Junior Class, and presided over by the Class President as ex-officio chairman. The entire management of the annual Junior Prom is delegated to this committee, in whose hands rests the responsibility for the success of what has generally come to be recognized as the major social event of the year at Technology.

Although the Committee is given moral assistance in the form of financial backing by the Institute Committee, it has a difficult task in keeping within a budget of $3,000.00 where tradition provides that an orchestra of high class national reputation furnish the music, that a mid-night dinner be served, and that favors of a truly distinctive type be presented to the girls. In accomplishing well its duties, the Junior Prom Committee performs a praiseworthy task.

Debating Society

DEBATING at M.I.T. had its beginnings in the spring of 1923, when some of the members of the Speakers' Club, led by Arthur Kallet '24, accepted a challenge for a debate with Boston University. This debate was followed by others during the same season, and the following year several more debates were held. These early years were marked by a severe struggle to keep the new activity alive, but as time went on interest in debating increased so that it now seems quite firmly entrenched at Technology.

The history of the intercollegiate activities of the Debating Society is one which reflects a great deal of credit on its members and on the Institute. Opponents of the society have been greatly surprised to find so strong a team in an institution devoted to scientific rather than academic studies. This surprise has on many occasions been changed to chagrin with victory won by the Technology men who now have a formidable record of decisions in their favor.

The Debating Society has by no means confined its activity to the immediate vicinity of Cambridge. During the past few years, trips have been made which included New York City, Philadelphia and Easton in Pennsylvania, and Washington, D. C., while several outside teams have been entertained at Cambridge.

The increasing scope of the organization as well as its past successes should not, however, be attributed to the students alone. They feel that a great deal of credit is due Professor D. M. Fuller of the M. I. T. English Department who has coached the team and given much time and effort to the building of a progressive activity.

Tech Review

Edited at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology

THE Technology Review was founded in 1899 by the Association of Class Secretaries, the organization that was responsible for creating the Alumni Association with its affiliated enterprises. C. Frank Allen '72, James P. Munroe '82, Walter B. Snow '82, and Arthur D. Little '85, were originally appointed to administer the publication. Arthur T. Hopkins '97, was editor for three issues in 1899 and Walter Humphreys '97, for the last issue of that year.

With the first issue of 1900 Mr. Munroe "adopted the waif at the age of one, when it was moribund with financial starvation, and with little experience and less leisure, agreed to provide for it a home in my business office. This was on the dubious supposition that translation from the academic groves of Newbury Street to the harsh atmosphere of trade might keep the poor thing alive. In the very first number of that second volume, the editorial page—which, as the English say, 'was me'—entered an alibi by protesting that 'no child is interesting till it is three years old,' believing, of course, that the anaemic orphan would be off my hands ere then. Mark Twain (or was it Bret Harte?) defined a mining camp gentleman as one who 'never shook his mother.' Perhaps it was a kindred hyper-delicacy that postponed my shaking The Review till it was nearly ten years old."

Mr. Munroe's able editorship was followed by that of Isaac W. Litchfield '85, who was editor from 1908 to 1917. Professor Robert E. Rogers next came into the office and carried it until 1922, the last year that it was published as a quarterly.

Beginning in the fall of 1922, Harold E. Lobdell '17, was Editor and Eric F. Hodgins '22, Managing Editor. Instead of a quarterly, the magazine became a monthly, publishing issues from November to May and in July. A new format was adopted, with a page size of 9x12 inches and a method of layout in consonance with modern magazine practice. In 1927, J. R. Killian, Jr. '26, succeeded Eric F. Hodgins '22, as Managing Editor and John D. Crawford '27, became Assistant Managing Editor. In 1928 Ralph T. Jope '28, became Circulation Manager, and in 1929 Business Manager.

Every year since 1922 has been profitable financially. There has been a steady growth in net paid circulation from about 3,800 to this year's average of 8,405—a gain of over 120%. Its advertising gross this year will be nearly thrice that of the best year of the old quarterly. Of the eight largest Alumni monthly magazines at present being published, The Review is fourth in the size of its circulation.

A broadening editorial policy has been gradually making The Review not alone a magazine of Institute affairs, but a journal of science and engineering that carries by indirection the Institute's name to the widest possible intelligent audience. Its method of doing this is to present material in science and engineering not dully or prosaically, but with imagination and insight and a sense of beauty.

The Advisory Council on Undergraduate Publications

Winward Prescott, Chairman

Harold E. Lobdell '17

Harry D. Peck '13

THE Advisory Council on Undergraduate Publications was founded in 1910 by the Institute Committee in response to a feeling that closer relationship and cooperation between the alumni and the student publications would be beneficial to both. The Council, therefore, serves as a committee elected by the Council of the Alumni Association, and acts for the Alumni rather than for the Faculty. A constitution making clear the relationship of this Council to the Alumni Association, to the Institute Committee, and to the student publications, was approved by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association, and was accepted by the Institute Committee.

The attitude of the Council and of the Alumni Association is explained in the following two sections of the Constitution:

(a) "The Alumni have a direct interest and a right to a voice in the management of any student activity that trades on the good will of the Institute as a whole and by which the good name of the Institute might be compromised."

(b) "The Alumni claim no right or desire to interfere in any student activity not involving the principle outlined in (a) except insofar as their advice may be requested, or proffer of it may appear to be in order."

The Council tries to follow the spirit of these sections by acting in a purely advisory capacity to the various undergraduate publications, while endeavoring to further publication facilities and to encourage sound business policies on the part of these publications.

Since its founding, the Advisory Council has been able to render much valuable assistance to the undergraduates in their publication work.

Technique

TECHNIQUE first appeared in 1885 as a small paper-bound pamphlet of two hundred pages. It was published by the Junior Class of that year to fill the need which was felt for an annual publication of a permanent nature.

The First Technique

Each year since then there has been published under the name of TECHNIQUE a yearbook containing the records of the individuals and groups at Technology.

As Technology grew so did TECHNIQUE. The two-hundred-page book of forty-five years ago has developed into a five-hundred-page volume which is outstanding among the yearbooks of Eastern colleges. However, in spite of all changes, the annual has always adhered to its original name as well as its fundamental purpose.

Published for many years by a group of Juniors, elected by their classmates, TECHNIQUE in 1923 resolved that the work should be carried on by men in positions reached through competition, rather than by arbitrary election. Accordingly, a Junior and Senior Board and a Sophomore Staff were created. In this way, as Freshmen and Sophomores, the Juniors and Seniors have an opportunity to become familiar with, and gain experience in handling, the problems which arise in the publication of a yearbook. Moreover, the system of competition is a fairer means of judging a man's fitness for a position than an electoral system where insufficient knowledge of a man or both prejudice and favoritism may lead to an unwise choice.

Each year TECHNIQUE has endeavored to present a book which would depict all phases of student life at Technology in the manner which will be most interesting and pleasing. With this in mind several innovations have been made.

In the 1930 TECHNIQUE, the opening section is formed entirely of antique paper adding considerably to the beauty of the book. For the first time the majority of the athletic write-ups have been brought up to date so that students may read of the records of this year's teams rather than those made a year ago. A new member has been added to the Junior Board, known as Informals Editor, to assure an adequate supply of interesting informal pictures. The same size and design of cover have been carried through for several years so that four consecutive volumes will form a set, but each book is differentiated by variations in the color combinations.

In presenting the 1930 TECHNIQUE every effort has been made to give to the students a yearbook which will be more than a cold record of facts—something which will bring back warm memories of undergraduate life at Technology.

The Tech

M.I.C. Established 1881

THE TECH is now entering on its fiftieth year of continuous service as the official undergraduate newspaper of the Institute. Many changes have taken place since the first organization of the paper in the fall of 1881.

First organized as a bi-weekly publication, in 1882 it was changed to a weekly. In 1903 it became a tri-weekly, and in 1909 a daily. The demands of studies and the lack of news forced The Tech to go back to the policy of appearing thrice weekly, and this policy has been adhered to since 1914. It has been generally conceded that the maximum benefits are derived from the paper in this way, both from the standpoint of the reader and of the staff members who are getting useful experience in journalistic work and business methods.

During the past year, The Tech has followed many of the policies of the recent volumes as to style, though the make-up policy has been changed to the extent of eliminating a specific sports page. This has made possible the printing of the "live news" on the front page. The calendar, official bulletins and undergraduate notices have been grouped in a distinctive position of the back page, and serve better than before as a source of condensed information.

Editorially, Volume XLIX has done much to bring about the use of Walker Memorial as the center of undergraduate activities for which it was intended. Due to its influence, Walker has been kept open on Sunday evenings for the benefit of the Dormitory residents, and many of the social events of the year have taken place there.

Important changes have been made in the organization and publication of The Tech. The former Treasury department has been replaced by the Business Service Department, which supplies information and statistics to advertisers, the work of the Treasury Department now being handled by the Business Manager. A make-up editor has been added to the Junior Board, with full charge of page make-up, as well as photographs and cuts. The paper now appears at noon instead of in the morning, permitting the printing of fresher news.

A special Alumni Issue was printed by Volume XLIX, with the purpose of bringing the Alumni into closer contact with the undergraduate activities and the Institute as a whole. Many features, such as the Carnival Issue, a special edition announcing the appointment of Harold E. Lobdell as Dean of Students, and several rotogravure sections were distributed throughout the year.

V^{OO DOO} men have ever held to the credo that in spite of the sordid aspects of life in general and Tech life in particular, there are some few bits of Le Chose Amusant intermingled with the daily struggle of an arduous career. Technology's humorous monthly is brought forth by a little band of undergraduates who insist on seeing the brighter side of things.

Volume XII began rather mildly with the pacific Purity Number, a response to censure of the famous Back Bay edition. This was designedly provocative of only subdued laughter. Followed the Gangplank Number, with an intriguing cover by Jimmy Carr. The last issue of the year depicted the trials and tribulations of those who are "In the Limelight".

Another Carr opus graced the Frosh Number, opening gun of the year. As Art Editor he confined himself largely to doing covers, following this with an effective one for the Aviation Special.

An ever popular theme was followed in Girl's Number, which was accompanied by a dig at The Tech in the form of a burlesque supplement. The most popular issue of the volume followed this one in the Prehistoric Number, from which, according to rumor a page was expurged, in fear of censorship. Sapis Sapientia. Volume XII closed with the Prom Number. It had seen the rise of new genius to replace the fading artistry of former years.

WITH the close of Volume X, the first decade in the history of The Tech Engineering News is completed. Beginning as a technical supplement of The Tech in 1919, the T.E.N. has become the undergraduate engineering and scientific journal of the Institute.

The Tech Engineering News was designed to be "an organ linking the past and present student bodies, broadening, extending and stimulating to as great a degree as possible the engineering instruction given at the Institute, by bringing before both the students and faculty the accomplishments of graduates, engineers, and business men of prominence in their professional fields." Volume X has attempted to carry out this policy, remembering that it is a college magazine for college students. The Staff has increased its efforts to make the magazine more interesting from a personal standpoint and for this purpose Faculty sketches were instituted of prominent instructors, as well as brief accounts of the authors of the articles. Only articles of timely engineering interest have been chosen. Some relate to particular technical phases of engineering while others deal with ideas which apply to science and the engineering professions as a whole. The article on the sixteen-cylinder Cadillac appeared almost simultaneously with the first public appearance of the car at the New York Auto Show.

At the annual convention of the Engineering College Magazines Associated held at Purdue in November, the T.E.N. received three awards out of four competitions which it entered. First prize was awarded for the best single editorial, while two third prizes were won for the best illustrations and for the best cover design.

There has been a constant effort on the part of the editors to bring out the most interesting features of the various articles, through a striking and unusual presentation of the illustrations, with the result that the appearance of the magazine has been much improved.

At the start of the school year last fall, the T.E.N. had printed a special calendar for Institute use, and distributed over three thousand of these as a token of its desire to be of service. Its view of the Institute when fully lighted at night brought forth much favorable comment from an artistic standpoint.

Technology can well be proud of the high standards maintained by the T.E.N. and of its efforts to keep the engineering journal of the Institute at the top of similar college magazines.

Pi Delta Epsilon Football Championship

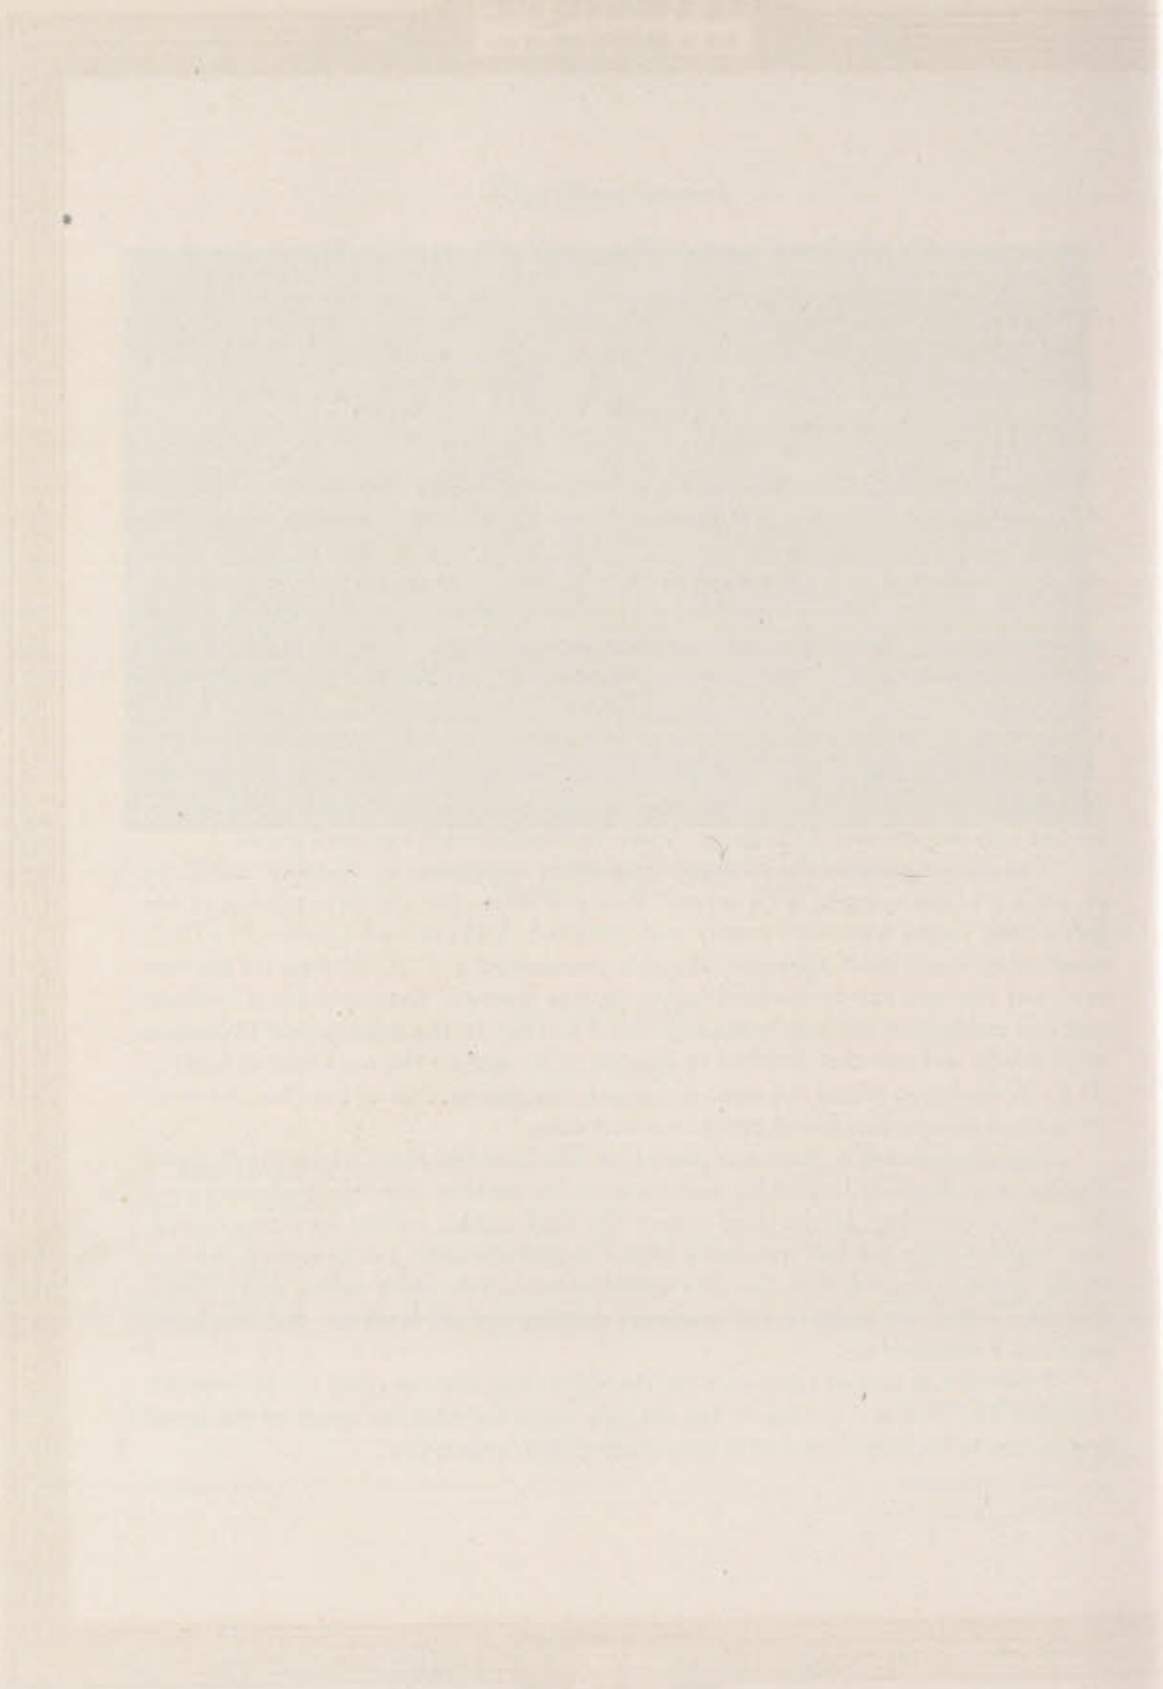

PI DELTA EPSILON donated a silver loving cup last November to the winner of the inter-publication football championship, to be played between the winners of the Voo Doo-T. E. N. and The Tech-TECHNIQUE games. These contests serve to produce better fellowship among the men taking part and to bring the publications before the student body in a novel way.

For many years there has existed a traditional rivalry between The Tech and TECHNIQUE. The game this year between the two publications was one of the most stubbornly fought contests in the history of the rivalry. In the first quarter neither side could advance the ball more than a few yards. In the second quarter the TECHNIQUE offense placed the ball on The Tech's twenty-five yard line. A forward pass was grounded over the goal line and the ball was given to The Tech. Several long runs soon placed the ball on the TECHNIQUE twenty-five yard line, but here the advance was stopped. The half ended with the ball in midfield. In the third and fourth periods both teams made short advances. With the end of the game almost in sight The Tech pushed the ball to the TECHNIQUE seven-yard line. After three line bucks had failed, Smith threw a pass to Truax who received it beyond the TECHNIQUE goal line for the only touchdown of the game. A pass to Roddy added the extra point.

The second game of the championship series was played by Voo Doo and T. E. N. on a gridiron covered with several inches of snow. For the first portion of the game both teams were very evenly matched, but in the second quarter Voo Doo's superiority made itself apparent. Burdick intercepted a T. E. N. pass on his own ten-yard line and ran to midfield before he was downed. Kenney made a brilliant end run and scored the first touchdown for Voo-Doo. In the third period Dickinson tried a fake end run that resulted in another score against the weakened defense of T. E. N. Anderson added the extra point on a line plunge, raising the Voo Doo score to thirteen points. The fourth period was scoreless.

The championship game was played by The Tech and Voo Doo for the Pi Delta Epsilon cup. The first half ended with no score, for neither team could advance very far against the other. In the third period The Tech started a drive for a touchdown, but fumbled when the ball was well within Voo Doo territory. In the closing minutes of the game it seemed that Voo Doo would score as two plays netted forty yards. Voo Doo could not produce the necessary scoring punch, however, and the game ended in a scoreless tie.

Inasmuch as neither team won the championship, the cup could not be awarded to either The Tech or Voo Doo. It was fittingly engraved with the result of the game and placed in the trophy case of Walker Memorial for exhibition.

TECH SHOW

Tech Show

THE board of Tech Show 1930 will be known as the group of men who produced the best show since "Patsy" in 1920. "Snobberies of 1930", judging from the attendance at its five performances and the subsequent comment on it, was without doubt one of the most successful shows ever given by the undergraduates of the Institute.

Immediately after the final performance of "A Tech Riot" last year, plans were begun for this year's show. Realizing the many advantages of the musical revue over the musical comedy, and the outstanding success of the 1929 undertaking, it was decided to produce another revue. The previous board had taken the first steps in the direction of a better production, and it remained for the new managers to profit by previous experience with this different form of show and produce a still better one.

Early in the spring the student body was notified of the plans for Tech Show 1930. The only change in the form of the show was the use of many short skits rather than a few long ones. It was also decided to use as many original musical numbers as possible, and to have scenery designed and constructed by the students.

The annual smoker just after school began last fall marked the beginning of actual work on this year's production. The large number of men who attended this meeting seemed to indicate a successful year. Members of the managing board told the assembled men of the work done in the various departments of the organization, and the two coaches gave an idea of the method of selecting the chorus and cast and the kind of skits and music desired. Tryouts for the chorus began immediately after the smoker. A large number of students, including quite a few of those in previous Tech Show choruses, came out, making it easier to select a promising group. As soon as it was definitely decided to make the mythical figure of Professor Rogers' Snob the leading character of the production, a skit-writer's meeting was called, and the idea explained to them. After a few weeks the sketches written were assembled and the show began to take shape. John M. Cleveland '31, and Adolph H. Feibel '32, wrote all the skits except "Subterfuge" by Richard Chindblom '30, and "Pelias and Melisande" by Howard A. Robinson '30. At the same time the musical numbers were selected, Willis Fleisher Jr. '31, Clarence W. Farr '33, Carl Connable '30, and David Ballantine '33, being the writers of the pieces.

Tech Show 1930 was unusually fortunate in having as coaches two men of wide experience in producing musical revues. The services of Langdon Matthews, who has coached the chorus for the last four years, were secured, and William C. Greene of the English Department consented to act as cast coach again. The untiring efforts of both men, the originality and freshness of the dances of the former, and the subtle wit and humor of the latter did much to make the show successful.

Rehearsals of the chorus continued, and tryouts for positions in the cast were held. Several actors who had starred in previous productions were still in school and were cast in new roles. Other positions were filled from the large number of men who tried out. Costumes were made by coeds of the Institute under the direction of Mary Cusick '31, from the designs of the two coaches. Following the original plan, all the scenery was designed, constructed, and painted by students.

Opening the five-night engagement with the entire chorus dancing to the tune of "Bigger and Better Than Ever," Tech Show 1930 got underway to a successful start. Following this came the "Awakening" in which the snob sleeps soundly through the noise caused by three drunken students who get into his room by mistake, and the quarreling of the husband and wife next door, only to jump out of bed, to the amazement of the audience, fully and immaculately clothed, at the sound of a tiny alarm clock. "Be A Snob" was the next chorus number and it was the hit of the show. Written by

"The Flippity Flop"

Connable, it is a plea to the students to marry the boss's daughter and not his stenographer. The dance depicted the quandary of the men as to whom to marry, their first choice, and their final decision. A pantomime, "Artistocrat's Revenge," which showed one of the many advantages of being a snob, and "Subterfuge," a sketch with every word beginning with "s" and a surprise ending followed in quick succession. The twelve chorus men who next appeared on the stage demonstrated to the audience how well trained they had been. "Sailors Frolic" was a series of intricate steps danced to one of the musical numbers of Farr. As the last man danced lightly off the stage, two huge freshmen walked across, so intent on studying that they knocked each other over. This was the audience's introduction to Winslow V. Fitch '31, and Richard S. Pollack Unc., the two comedians of the show, and the laugh-producing "You can't call a spade a spade in Boston." "Pelias and Melisande," the funniest skit in the show was the next to be enjoyed by the audience. Following this came "Dreaming 'Neath the Palm Trees," by Fleisher and Connable, in which Roy W. Ide '30, starred as a hula hula dancer. The audience next witnessed the testing of the "manila strength of a tensile rope" in a pantomime. Once more the chorus was on the stage, this time led by Horace B. Preble '30, to the tune of "Bottoms Up." Following a series of three short skits showing what remarkable results may be obtained by "sending in that coupon," and the finale the curtain fell on the first act of "Snobberies of 1930."

James M. Dunlap

Act two opened with an elaborate ballet, "The Legend of the Willow Pattern Plate." "The Return of Joey" followed this number. Fitch and Pollack once again entertained the audience with their story of the spade. "Educate Your Feet" a dance number by the chorus, and the skit "Poison" followed in rapid succession. A specialty dance to the tune of music by Farr was next on the program. Churchill C. Condie '32, Peyton G. Cooper '34, and Fred H. Cooper '34, then entertained the audience with their clog dancing, singing, and banjo playing. Between two chorus numbers, "The Seven Eleven Blues," and "Turn on the Heat," came three short sketches depicting the snob's valiant but vain attempts to marry the boss's daughter. Another scene in the snob's attempts to follow Professor Rogers' advice was portrayed in "Strange Interlude." The "Race", a scene at a college track meet was followed by a very colorful number, "The Flippity Flop." In the last skit, "Success" the snob finally married the boss's daughter. An elaborate finale brought Tech Show 1930 to a close.

Combined Musical Clubs

THE Combined Musical Clubs of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology opened their forty-fifth year with every prospect for a successful season. The first concert was given at the Franklin Square House in Boston November 12. As an innovation "When Day Is Done," was rendered by a violin quartet. After the selections of the clubs, dancing was held with the music furnished by the Techtonians. An affair of a similar nature was held at the Edison Employees' Club on January 6 and both proved to be distinct successes.

The Christmas Concert and Dance was held at Longwood Towers in Brookline on December 6. Attended by more than two hundred couples, it was without doubt one of the major events of the winter season. The Instrumental Club opened the concert with a march entitled "Thunder and Blazes". The Banjo Club followed with a presentation of a number of late medleys. The offerings of the Glee Club, chief among them being "Jolly Roger", were very well received. An eccentric tap dance by Churchill C. Condie received tremendous applause from the audience while "Piccolo Pete", rendered as a clarinet-piano duet, also was popular. As a climax to a successful evening, the Techtonians played for dancing.

In the fifth annual New England Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest, each club was required to sing three selections, a required song, a school song, and a song of choice. The Technology Club sang "Hark Jolly Shepherd", "Mens et Manus", and "Adoramus Te". Repeating their victory of last year, the Wesleyan Glee Club took first place, Williams and Amherst placed second and third respectively, while Technology was fourth in a field of almost a dozen colleges.

The Annual Pop Concert and Dance was held in the Main Dining Room of Walker Memorial on March 21. After a program rendered by the Clubs, a large number of students and their friends enjoyed almost three hours of dancing to the music of the Techtonians.

The season culminated in the Spring Concert and Dance which was held on April 25. Besides being one of the most important social events of the second term and of the Musical Clubs' roster of dances, it came during the week-end of the TECHNIQUE Rush and the Activities' Tea Dance, at a time when the social events of Junior Week were formerly held. Though Junior Week has been withdrawn from the calendar a holiday spirit still prevails which is manifest at the Spring Concert.

One of the greatest TECHNIQUE Rushes in the history of the event was witnessed on the afternoon of Open House Day by an assembled crowd of people numbering many thousands. Newspaper photographers and Vitaphone microphones were everywhere. Shortly after two o'clock the retiring TECHNIQUE Board marched from Walker Memorial to the scene of the Rush, led by "Eddie" Morris, famous Harvard Stadium football announcer, and three Scottish bag-pipers. The TECHNIQUE Board members surrounded the hut and "Eddie" Morris climbed on top of the hut, where he announced the incoming managing board for Volume XLV. Soon the first paddle made its unexpected appearance in the form of a large play ball and before the men had recovered from their surprise the ball was whisked away by an alert contestant. The hut from which the paddles were to appear was then smeared with a liberal coating of grease and oil by the retiring General Manager, David F. Bremner, Jr.

At the crack of the starter's gun, the two main groups of contestants on either side of the field dashed toward the hut and fought 'midst the oil and grease to reach the top. The dormitory men were organized into two units and each contestant was marked with the sign of his group. Ten seconds after the rush had started, however all means of recognition were obliterated beneath a dark covering of grease. The heavier men of each group pushed the lighter men to the top of the hut, where the issuing paddles were eagerly seized, only to change hands several times before becoming the permanent possession of any one man. As the contestants secured the coveted paddles they were obliged to run to the TECHNIQUE desk and report their captures, so that they might be eligible to receive free books.

The battle raged with an incredible intensity. Fraternity men and free lances were accorded little opportunity to secure paddles, so well organized were the dormitory men. The cooperation of the latter was the keynote of the day, but the two rival factions from the dormitories supplied abundant competition among themselves, much to the enjoyment of the thousands of spectators, to many of whom the Rush was the outstanding event of the day, long to be remembered as evidence to the fact that Technology is not "all work and no play".

After twenty paddles had found their way in as many minutes into eager hands, the sound of the starter's gun ended the fray, with a happy, though tired, group of warriors proudly displaying the fruits of victory, their paddles. They grouped around a Movietone camera and gave a lusty "We are Happy" cheer to finish one of the most keenly contested Rushes Technology has ever seen.

The Picnic is one of the most interesting and amusing affairs of Technology's Senior Week. Nearly all of the members of the Senior Class assembled at school wearing the large straw hats that are an institution with every Senior picnic. Special cars carried the boisterous students through the streets of Boston to T Wharf, where the good ship "Myrtle" was awaiting them. They clambered aboard the vessel and proceeded to take general possession of the upper deck. The trip to Rainsford Island was nothing short of hectic. Affairs soon reached such a state that the captain of the "Myrtle" threatened to turn back to Boston while the ship was still in a condition to do so. The committee in charge finally quelled the disturbance so that the ship could proceed to the island. The usual races were held and the Dormitory-Fraternity baseball game was the source of much confusion and hilarity. A fire "broke out" and the combined efforts of the volunteer bucket brigade were not sufficient to quench the blaze. The return trip to Boston was without incident, for the picnickers were too fatigued to do anything requiring exertion.

The Pops Concert was enjoyed at Symphony Hall on the evening of Memorial Day, and the music of the Boston Symphony Orchestra delighted those members of the Senior Class who were present.

The Hotel Kenmore was the scene of the Class Banquet, June 1. C. Brigham Allen, class president, was toastmaster and the speaker of the evening was Professor Robert E. Rogers, whose advice to the graduates received country-wide publicity.

The Baccalaureate sermon was delivered Sunday, June 2, by Rev. Russell H. Stafford, D.D. at the New Old South Church in Copley Square. The Seniors assembled, dressed in caps and gowns, at the Rogers Building and marched to the church, where they occupied special pews. Parents and friends of the graduating class were present in large numbers and Dr. Stafford's sermon was well received.

Class Day was held the following day in the Main Hall of Walker Memorial. The Ivy Oration was delivered by Hunter Rouse, while M. Richard Boyer read the Class Prophecy. C. Brigham Allen presented the Class Gift to the Institute, and it was accepted by President Stratton. In the afternoon the Senior Tea Dance was given in Walker. Music was furnished by Leo Reisman's Orchestra from three o'clock to six o'clock for a large number of Seniors and their friends.

TECHNIQUE 1930

The Commencement exercises of the Class of 1929 took place in Symphony Hall on Tuesday, June 4. Special guests in the procession were the members of the Class of 1879. The speakers of the day were President Stratton and Senator Hiram Bingham. The main speech was delivered by Senator Bingham and proved to be of special interest to the members of the graduating class.

Alexander Macomber '07 presented the diplomas to the graduates. Following the presentation of the sheepskins, the graduates crossed the threshold of Symphony Hall as Alumni of Technology, leaving behind them four years of work and play that will never be forgotten.

On the evening of Commencement Day the Senior Prom was held in the main ballroom of the Hotel Statler and Leo Reisman's Orchestra furnished the music for the memorable occasion. Around the ballroom were tables to which the dancers returned between dances. The Prom was very well attended and the revelry of the evening gave evidence to the fact that the cares of undergraduate days were ended. An excellent dinner was served at mid-night and was very much enjoyed by the dancers. The Prom music was resumed at one o'clock. Dancing continued until three o'clock, when the Prom came to an end, very much to the regret of everyone.

All Technology Smoker

THE annual All-Technology Smoker of 1929 found gathered in the main hall of Walker Memorial six hundred Freshmen and transfers, to partake in the welcoming supper provided for them. At the conclusion of the dinner Edgar M. Hawkins, Jr., President of the M. I. T. A. A., introduced the speakers, among whom were Dr. John A. Rockwell '90, who outlined briefly the athletics and their value to the students of Technology. Prof. Winward Prescott spoke on the various publications at the Institute and urged every one to grasp the opportunities offered by these activities. Prof. Robert E. Rogers, the final speaker, gave his version of the Tech Show and the Musical Clubs.

After the dinner speeches were delivered, and the men visited the various activity offices where exhibits of the work of the activities were shown. In the gymnasium exhibitions of numerous sports were given by members of the Varsity teams. The students then returned to the main hall where the key to Walker Memorial was presented by Alexander Macomber '07 to John F. Bennett, President of the Senior Class. The Schwartz medal, awarded to the most efficient athletic manager, was presented by Edgar M. Hawkins, Jr. to Thomas F. MacLaren, manager of the 1929 gym team. The TECHNIQUE Cup, awarded to the high point winner in spring Track, was presented to Bror Grondal, the first Sophomore to ever receive the cup.

Old-time movie reels and vaudeville acts were next on the program and a raffle brought the evening program to a close.

Senior Ring

THE idea of a Standard Technology Ring has since 1927 been frequently discussed, but the time for actual choice seemed always just around the corner. Students had no definite ideas concerning a Standard Ring and many questions arose. What should be its general shape? Should the ring have a stone in it? Should it be heavy or light? And, should it be distinctly a Technology ring?

In the Spring of 1929, C. Brigham Allen, President of the class of 1929, appointed a ring committee consisting of one member of each of the classes of 1930, 1931, and 1932. The committee was headed by Theodore A. Riehl, and its sole purpose was to provide a ring which the Institute Committee would approve as the Standard Technology Ring. In October the committee submitted its first detailed report to the Institute Committee and requested a decision as to whether the Institute Dome or the Beaver should be used on the face of the ring. This precipitated a vigorous discussion concerning the exact status of the Beaver as the Institute mascot. Investigation showed that, on January 17, 1914, President MacLaurin formally accepted the Beaver as the mascot of the Institute at the annual dinner of the Technology Club of N. Y. There was no record of any action having been taken by the Institute Committee so that body then went on record as approving the Beaver for the official mascot of Technology. Opinion was still divided on the question of Dome versus Beaver, but with the realization that many schools had domes somewhat similar to Technology's the Institute Committee decided to use the Beaver on the face of the ring. The Dome lent itself particularly well to use on the shanks. When coupled with M.I.T. on one shank and the class numerals on the other, the ring was well balanced. Rounded corners for the face and a raised bezel to prevent excessive wear on the Beaver were suggested together with three-piece construction. The Institute Committee approved the general design as outlined by the ring committee, who chose the present ring, which has been approved by both the Institute Committee and the Alumni Council.

The Technique Letter

TO some the value of an article for sale is immediately evident, but to those who do not believe when they first see, the world of advertising must appeal. TECHNIQUE this year has again come forth with something which is original, new, and unique. The members of its managing board have again seen the value of appealing to the public by visual interpretation. During the sign-up campaign which continued all of Registration week and in which all those who desired a TECHNIQUE promised to buy one by pledging one dollar, TECHNIQUE published or "wrote" a letter to the student body. This letter was on a paper whose dimensions were probably familiar to the Biblical Goliath.

To those who can imagine a typewritten letter which stood twenty-four feet high and nine feet wide nothing can be said. This gigantic note became a reality when it was placed on display in the Main Lobby during the week of the campaign. The letter bringing forth the value and advantages of possessing a copy of TECHNIQUE was typed on the Giant Underwood typewriter.

This machine of extraordinary proportions is part of the National Underwood Exhibit on the boardwalk in Atlantic City. It was constructed over a period of three years at an expense of $100,000. It weighs 14 tons and the fact that, when knocked down, it requires two box cars for transportation makes it little desired as a portable. Its overall dimensions are 9 feet wide and 18 feet high. To Mr. A. Rohr, manager of the exhibit, TECHNIQUE wishes to express its gratitude for the help rendered in the making and delivery of the letter.

The Prom Week-End

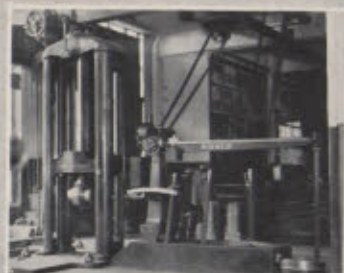

PROM week-end was underway as the curtain rose on "Snobberies of 1930" the Tech Show performance for Prom night. Everyone agreed it was the best Tech Show in years—entertainment from the minute the curtain went up to the final chorus number. The audience seemed to enjoy everything, especially the chorus, which surprised everyone by the way in which the embryo engineers could dance and sing. The short snappy skirts were received with applause—everything from a travesty on grand opera, a blackface act, a burlesque of the "snob theory," to a take-off on Eugene O'Neill.

Soon after 10:30 the curtain fell and a long line of cars and taxies wended their way across Harvard Bridge, to the Walker Memorial Building where for the first time in many years the Junior Prom was being held. Soon the strains of the Prom music were heard and as the couples entered the hall the men received their Prom favors. Paul Specht and his orchestra had come all the way from the Hotel Governor Clinton in New York to furnish music for the three-hundred couples present. At the door the ushers met the guests and introduced them to the patrons and patronesses, President Samuel W. Stratton, Dean Harold E. Lobdell, Mr. and Mrs. Horace S. Ford, and Professor and Mrs. James R. Jack.

The beautiful floral decorations and the colored lights playing on the dancers gave the scene an added charm; in fact with the long dresses of the girls and their long white gloves all necessitating the new type of slow rhythmic dancing, one might almost have been carried back to grandmother's day of long skirts and slow dancing. Gone were the fast music, short skirts, and bobbed hair of two or three years ago. At midnight everyone adjourned to North Hall, the balconies, and the Faculty dining room, where an excellent meal was served. At this time the girls received their Prom favors. Dancing was again resumed at one o'clock and so fast did time fly on the wings of Paul Specht's music that four o'clock arrived before one was aware of it. Coffee and doughnuts were served before the guests left for home at dawn.

The next day a large number of those who attended the Prom and many other students and young lady friends again entered Walker to dance, this time as guests of the Corporation at a Tea Dance, from three o'clock to six o'clock. Many came from viewing the M. I. T.—Union College basketball game in the Hangar gymnasium. The tea dance was especially successful this year, probably due to the presence of Ruby Newman and his Ritz-Carleton orchestra, whose music is held in such high favor by Technology men. When the tea dance was over at six o'clock, Prom week ended officially, but many continued the festivities that night with dancing at the several hotel and fraternity dances.

With the Show, the Prom, and the Tea Dance so successful, everyone agreed that this Prom week-end was fully as enjoyable as the entire Junior Week of several years ago.

GENERAL INFLAMMATION

Purpose of the Massachusetts Society for Brown Baggers. Its primary purpose is to afford to students such a combination of professional training as will fit them to marry the boss's daughter. Candidates with flat noses will not be admitted. It also affords to advanced students and to more experienced investigators excellent opportunities for the pursuit.

Location. After occupying for 50 years its original location in Boston, the Society had to be moved to Cambridge for moral purposes. It now occupies an ideal industrial sight. However, the Dept. of Architecture is still located in Boston where a large supply of models may easily be obtained.

Dormitories. The dormitories possess many advantages to the student. The proximity of Page & Shaw's and L. E. Knott's offers many additional advantages which soon become apparent to the student. Although it is not a recognized part of the curriculum, the men living in the dormitories have availed themselves of excellent opportunities in dairy farming.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

Admission to the First Year will be found a great aid. Insanity is not required. To be admitted as a first year student the applicant must have attained the physical age of 17, the mental age of 9 and must meet the entrance requirements as follows:—

GENERAL INFLAMMATION

FRESHMAN RULES

Rule 1. If entering a class late, walk in quietly on the toes. Striding in on the hands or sliding up the aisle on the left ear is almost sure to cause commotion and might possibly annoy those who are trying to sleep.

Rule 2. Never have your hair cut or wear a shave. There are men here like Handsome "D.T." Verveer who do not indulge in such superfluous niceties and your action would tend to build up class distinctions. The absence of a collar and tie also makes towards good feeling.

Rule 3. Do not sit around in your shirt sleeves. You will find trousers more comfortable for the lower limbs and the percentage of co-eds is gradually increasing.

Rule 4. When the innocently pure Page and Shaw girls pass by on their way to work it is perfectly correct to lean out of the window and yell at them like this: "Ah there, Tessie" or "What's your hurry, Gladys?" This is a convincing proof that you have an easy address and a graceful freedom in your dealings with the Ames Street Smart Set. It is not correct, however, to pour water and other liquids at them or to throw wet towels.

Rule 5. If young lady slips in front of Walker, do not rush to pick her up. She may not be that kind.

Rule 6. If any of your professors yell out in class "Or-der!" do not be backward in stating whether you prefer light or dark.

Rule 7. Whenever you meet a member of the Faculty, always touch your hat, but not the professor, as it may be a poor season for tutoring, and he may have left all his change at home.

Rule 8. If you have a condition to make up, you cannot get in conditions by going on a toot the night before. If you have to make up your work, be sure to use an extensive use of inventive faculties, so that they will be able to see readily that you made up your work.

Rule 9. Be particularly careful of your table manners at Walker. Never eat with your knife unless long practice has fitted you to do so without cutting your mouth. Also Freshmen are not allowed to eat peas.

Rule 10. If you are dining out and the family is accustomed to silent grace, wait until heads are bowed and all are silent, then look up brightly, and exclaim "It must be twenty minutes after."

Rule 11. If you have accepted an invitation to dinner do not forget to make your bread and butter call. This affords your hostess an opportunity to question you concerning any silver which may have disappeared on the night of the dinner.

Rule 12. When dancing at the Symphony, be careful not to collide with the other dancers. The artificialities of elite society are here done away with, and "knockdowns" are unnecessary.

Rule 13. If you fall while dancing at the Prom, and your partner attempts to cover your confusion by remarking "How slippery the floor is", smile sweetly while you are cussing under your breath and say, "Yes, I just tumbled to it."

Rule 14. Be sure and pay your respects to the patronesses, even though you did blow in.

Rule 15. Never flash a burning glance at the face of a society beauty—the powder may ignite.

Rule 16. Start a "Wear your Freshman tie" campaign.

Voo Doo. Monthly attempts at humor. Their missing pages are a constant source of amusement to the students.

T. E. N. The efficient magazine. Specializing in autobiographies of Tech Professors. The Engineers' Bible.

FRATERNITIES

There are a few good fraternities at Technology; the rest are just eating clubs. These eating clubs are organizations which band themselves together for bull sessions, drinking bouts, and parties, which start out as dances. To be a non-fraternity man is not a serious incident—in fact it is much more serious in the fraternities, especially during Hell week.

Freshmen should always ask themselves the following questions before accepting any bids:

1. How do the members of this house rate at Wellesley? With the Old Howard troupers?
2. What are the facilities for sleeping on Saturday mornings at 3:30 A.M.?
3. How large is the mortgage on this particular house? Do the Sigma Alpha Mu's hold this mortgage too?
4. Is there a large supply of finals and lab reports on file?
5. Should I lower myself to this? and if so why?

The equipment and methods introduced by the Company for carrying on continuously such operations as classification, thickening, washing, clarification, filtration, etc. are used in the treatment or production of over 80 materials, in all quarters of the world.

From the time that the first Dorr machine was put into operation at a metallurgical plant—an installation, incidentally, that put years of profitable life into a previously losing property—a continued expansion into other fields has borne witness to the merits of Dorr Equipment and processes.

Today Dorr Equipment is standard not only in metallurgical practice, but in various branches of Industrial, Chemical, and Sanitary Engineering.

And in our testing plant at Westport, Conn. the groundwork for further expansion into new fields is worked out on a basis of scientific research backed up by actual operating tests.

EVERY KNOT A WEAVER'S KNOT

SPOOLING and WARPING the BARBER-COLMAN Way

This modern way of Spooling and Warping is the Barber-Colman way—using Automatic Spoolers and High Speed Warpers. The Automatic Spooler winds at 1200 yards per minute, building up a self-sustaining package (called a "cheese") on a ball-bearing core and winding the yarn under low and uniform air friction tension. The High Speed Warper winds at 500 to 600 yards per minute, which is an increase of 900% and more over the old slow speed system, and on this machine also air friction produces a low uniform tension in the yarn. The result is that warps are more uniform, there are less loom stops in the weave room, the product is improved and there are many other valuable advantages.

1855 • SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY • 1930

EVEN Sarah Bernhardt, who threatened to sue a hotel because an uninviting bathroom spoiled her day and her evening performance, would have been charmed by the beauty of this typical Crane room. Even the most frugal will be delighted by the economy with which this beauty is here offered to American home builders. The Corwith bath with overhead shower, the Norwich lavatory, the Santon closet, all new fixtures full of character, cost no more than clumsy ones. The fixtures can be had in any one of a dozen delicate hues, with only a fraction added to the complete cost of a bathroom. The decorations . . . linoleum for the floor, canvased wainscot, papered walls . . . actually can be carried out for less than it would cost to build a stereotyped room. For a book giving the floor plans, color schemes, and full information concerning twelve such beautiful rooms, write for Bathrooms for Out-of-the-Ordinary Homes. Among them you may find some ideas which will be of real worth to your clients.

How much Humidity and Why?

How much humidity is a question of location, building construction, power consumed and air change.

If the customer will decide what condition he wants, the problem becomes

Not a salesman's promise, but a matter of fact; of how much evaporated water is necessary. If it is not thought desirable to accept our data, the customer's engineer can figure this out.

The value of a humidifying equipment lies in its proven (I said proven) ability to evaporate a definite amount of water as, when and if wanted.

We not only guarantee to evaporate this pre-determined definite amount of water but no contract of ours is complete until it is proven to the satisfaction of the customer.

THE NEW STANDARD SENIOR RING

patent applied for

recently adopted by the Institute Committee is illustrated herewith. The Beaver is the symbol as adopted by M. I. T. and is shown as the top feature beautifully modelled and correct in detail. On each side of the ring is shown the characteristic M. I. T. dome and entrance to the administration building in bold relief and faithfully reproduced. Below this on one side are the letters "M. I. T." and on the other side, the senior or alumni class numerals. The ring is strongly constructed for life-long service and is very distinctive in appearance. This ring is outstanding because of its beauty and originality in design. (design patent applied for)

A Mark and its meaning

The Jenkins "Diamond" is more than a mere identification mark. It is a symbol valve users have long learned to associate with trouble-free service and with freedom from frequent repairs and costly replacements.

The Jenkins "Diamond" stands for a valve well-built from metals which have been proved by analyses before and after casting. It stands for a valve that has passed a test under conditions more severe than those for which the valve is recommended.

Jenkins Valves are made in standard, medium and extra heavy patterns—for practically every plumbing, heating, fire protection and power plant requirement.
