This Two-Party Agreement is effective January 4, 2006 between The Boeing Company, of Seattle, Washington, and Dr. Mary Cummings from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) of Cambridge, MA.

BACKGROUND

This Agreement sets forth the rights and obligations of each of the parties with respect to the use, handling, protection, and safeguarding of Proprietary Information. The information will be disclosed by and between the parties relating to various Phantom Works Network Centric Operations Programs and Technologies (NCO P&T) efforts, including, but not limited to – Vision for Space Exploration; Heuristic Information-operations Virtual Environment; and MINERVA; the ‘Program(s)’, for the purposes of review, evaluation for preparation and potential submission of future proposals to identified customer(s), which could include the U.S. Government, in connection with the Program(s).

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Definition of Proprietary Information Proprietary Information means all information related to the aforementioned purpose and which is identified as Proprietary Information, including, but not limited to, technical information in the form of designs, concepts, requirements, specifications, software, interfaces, components, processes, or the like.

2. Procedure to Protect To gain protection under this Agreement as Proprietary Information, any originating party will disclose information in written or other permanent form and will clearly and conspicuously mark such information as “proprietary” using an appropriate legend. Information stored in electronic form on disk, tape, or other storage media constitutes information in permanent form. Such electronic information will be adequately marked if a proprietary legend displays when the information originally runs on a computer system and when the information is printed from its data file. If any originating party originally discloses information in some other form (e.g., orally or visually), a receiving party(ies) will protect such information as Proprietary Information to the extent that the originating party:

   a) Identifies the information as proprietary at the time of original disclosure;

   b) Summarizes the Proprietary Information in writing;
c) Marks the writing clearly and conspicuously with an appropriate proprietary legend; and
d) Delivers the writing to the receiving party within thirty (30) days following the original disclosure.

An originating party will not identify information as proprietary unless the originating party believes that such information is proprietary or constitutes a trade secret. The parties will attempt to limit the exchange of Proprietary Information, disclosing only that Proprietary Information necessary for the purposes of this Agreement.

3. Limited Distribution A receiving party will limit access to Proprietary Information it receives to its employees who have a "need-to-know" the Proprietary Information for the purposes of the Program. A receiving party will copy Proprietary Information only as reasonably necessary for it to complete the purposes of this Agreement. In the event that a receiving party intends to disclose the Proprietary Information to contract labor personnel, the following box shall be checked, and the following paragraph shall apply:

- [ ] Contract labor personnel who have a need-to-know the Proprietary Information for the purposes of this Agreement may have access thereto, but only if said personnel are under an obligation to hold such information in confidence under terms and conditions at least restrictive as the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

4. Limitations on Use or Disclosure For a period of ten (10) years after receipt of Proprietary Information under this Agreement, a receiving party will hold Proprietary Information in confidence. Upon expiration of this protection period, all limitations this Agreement imposes on use or disclosure of Proprietary Information will cease. A receiving party may use Proprietary Information only for review, evaluation, or in a Program proposal, during the term of this Agreement. A receiving party will not disclose Proprietary Information to any nonparty during the protection period, despite any earlier termination of this Agreement. A receiving party will not use Proprietary Information that it receives under this Agreement for design or manufacture without first obtaining the written permission of the originating party.

5. Proposal Legend & Restriction Notification If the parties prepare and submit a proposal, each party may disclose such received Proprietary Information to the U.S. Government to support the proposal. The party submitting the proposal will mark the Proprietary Information with the appropriate restrictive legend that the U.S. Government specifies for use with such proposal and, in accordance with the Government’s acquisition regulations, the disclosing party will identify the Proprietary Information which should be furnished to the Government with restrictions on its use, release, or disclosure...The Government and any of its proposal support contractors may review any such proposal that the parties submit. The submitting party, nevertheless, will attempt to enter separate Proprietary Information Agreements with the proposal support contractors to protect the proposal information, all of which is proprietary under the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act, 41 U.S.C. 423.

6. Duty of Care A receiving party will satisfy its obligations to protect Proprietary Information from misuse or unauthorized disclosure by exercising reasonable care. Such care will include protecting Proprietary Information using those practices the receiving party normally uses to restrict disclosure and use of its own information of like importance. A receiving party will not be liable if it accidentally discloses Proprietary Information while exercising reasonable care, provided that, upon discovery of such disclosure, the receiving party attempts to retrieve the Proprietary Information and reviews its practices to attempt to prevent any further accidental disclosures.

7. Exceptions to Duty This Agreement does not restrict disclosure or use of information otherwise qualifying as Proprietary Information if the receiving party can show that any one of the following conditions exists.

   a. The receiving party knew the information and held it without restriction as to further disclosure when the originating party disclosed the information under this Agreement.

   b. The receiving party developed the information independently.

   c. Another source lawfully disclosed the information to the receiving party and did not restrict the receiving party in its further use or disclosure.

   d. The information was already in the public domain when the originating party disclosed it to the receiving party; entered the public domain after the originating party disclosed it under this Agreement, but through no fault of the receiving party; or became generally known through no fault of the receiving party.
e. The information was ascertained by proper means other than disclosure under this Agreement.

f. The protection period has expired.

8. Disclaimer of License Proprietary Information is and remains the property of the originating party. The receiving party does not receive any right or license under any patents, copyrights, trade secrets, or the like of the originating party.

9. Disclaimer of Warranty Neither party warrants that a receiving party's use of information it receives under this Agreement will be free from claims by nonparties for infringement or misappropriation of intellectual property rights. An originating party does not warrant that any information it discloses is complete, accurate, free from defects, or useful for the purposes of the receiving party.

10. Notice Addresses The parties will transmit Proprietary Information, notices, and authorizations under this Agreement addressed as follows:

A party may change its address or designee by written notice to the other party.

11. Term and Termination Either party may terminate this Agreement upon thirty (30) days written notice to the other party. Nevertheless, this Agreement will terminate when:

a) the customer or U.S. Government cancels the Program, or
b) the customer or U.S. Government awards a contract for the Program to a non-party, or
c) the parties either enter or decline to enter into a subcontract with each other for the Program, or
d) on December 31, 2008, whichever occurs first.

12. Return or Destroy A receiving party will, upon written request, use reasonable efforts to destroy all received Proprietary Information, including copies, then in its possession or control. Alternatively, a receiving party may use reasonable efforts to return all such Proprietary Information and copies to the originating party. A receiving party may retain one archival copy of received Proprietary Information.

13. Independent Contractors The parties are independent contractors. Each will bear all costs and expenses it incurs in connection with this Agreement. This Agreement does not obligate either party to enter into a contract, subcontract, teaming agreement, joint venture, partnership, or other business relationship with the other party.

14. Precedence Over Conflicting Legends The U.S. Government sometimes requires legends or markings on information, such as classification markings or legends concerning export control under ITAR or EAR. This Agreement does not change those requirements. The terms of this Agreement do, however, take precedence over other specific legends or statements that the originating party marks on Proprietary Information.

15. Additional Requirements for Classified Information The parties will handle, disclose, mark, and use classified information in accordance with the National Industrial Security Program Operating Manual (NISPOM) and any other applicable security laws or regulations.

16. Disclosures to Parent Company or Wholly-Owned Subsidiaries Notwithstanding the above, a receiving party may disclose Proprietary Information to (1) employees of its parent company or (2) of a wholly-owned subsidiary of its parent company or (3) employees of the receiving party’s wholly owned subsidiaries having a need to know for the purpose of this Agreement, but only if said employees are under an obligation to hold such information in confidence under terms and conditions at least as restrictive as the terms and conditions of this Agreement.
17. Applicable Law In the case of a dispute, the parties will interpret, construe, and apply this Agreement using the law of the State of Washington, excluding from such law the rules regarding choice of law.

18. Export Control A receiving party will comply with all applicable laws and regulations concerning export control.

19. Merger This Agreement contains the entire understanding between the parties. It supersedes all prior or contemporaneous communications, agreements, or understandings between the parties about the exchange and protection of Proprietary Information for the Program. A modification will not bind any party unless the modification is in writing and authorized representatives of each party signs it.

20. Reportable Transactions Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any party to this Agreement (and any employee, representative, or other agent of any party to this Agreement) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to it relating to such tax treatment and tax structure; provided, however, that this sentence shall not permit any disclosure that otherwise is prohibited by this Agreement if such disclosure would result in a violation of federal or state securities laws, and provided, further, that this sentence shall not permit disclosure of any information to the extent not solely related to the tax aspects of the transaction. The parties to this Agreement acknowledge that they have no knowledge or reason to know that such disclosure is otherwise limited.

(This provision is included as a result of recently issued IRS regulations (IRS Reg. 1.6011-4), and is included in order to avoid the tracking and filing annually of all confidentiality agreements with the annual Tax Filing (and to avoid any potential penalties for non-reporting).
IN AGREEMENT, the parties’ sign duplicate originals of this Agreement.
