ITEMS FOR DISCUSSION

1. EHS and Project Safety Risk Management (5:45)

- Have been in touch with Deb, the new person in charge of things EHS related
- Have worked out guidelines with how registration for events will work
- Safety Office is looking for someone from DormCon to be the liaison between the Safety Office and the dormitories
- Basic responsibility of this position would be talking to people in the dorms who want to register things, being available around REX to make sure all projects are approved
- This might distance DormCon from the Safety Office itself by having an extra person in between
- This person would always be available if students have questions about dealing with things related to the Safety Office
- Maybe this would be something that the Vice President of REX or one of the REX Chairs could be in charge of because the previous Risk Management Chair never dealt with the Safety Office before
- James O. is interested in being the DormCon/EHS Liaison

2. The Baker Dining Committee Report (6:00)

-What they found out:

-Baker residents eat about 42 meals per term in Baker dining and to break even you need 74 meals

-About 30% of residents are breaking even

-Met with Office of Campus Dining and they gave a response

-The average student loses $125 a year

-Their understanding was that preferred dining was supposed to be cost effective for MIT and students

-They are concerned about why the prices have continued to rise almost each semester

-Concerns about why the students are losing money from this

-Increasing utilization has not decreased the amount of money lost by looking at Baker and McCormick

-One of the previous DormCon presidents who was involved in the development of this idea did not think that the intent was to be cost effective for students

-Still looking for someone from Baker, McCormick, Next or Simmons to find another DormCon Co-Dining Chair

INAUGURATION of incoming officers and officer transition time (6:15)

-DormCon Oath of Office

-"I, <athena username>, do solemnly swear, to do the best that I can, not to screw up too badly."
