Engineering Systems Division
Room E40-261

Dear Yossi:

I write to extend my warmest congratulations on your selection to receive the Salzberg Lifetime Achievement Award from the Whitman School of Management at Syracuse University.

Recognized as prestigious in the field of transportation and supply chain management, this award honors your extensive work in logistics and supply chains and represents the high esteem in which you are held by both academic and business practitioners in the field. Such acknowledgement brings wide acclaim not only to you but also to ESD, CTS, and all of MIT!

Your faculty colleagues join me in applauding this latest accolade. I hope you enjoy your October 6 visit to Syracuse University, your receipt of the Salzberg Medallion, and your opportunity to present the Harry E. Salzberg Memorial Lecture.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Susan Hockfield
