An eminent engineer, Head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering since 1911, a tireless worker for the welfare of Technology, a wise counselor and a sincere friend, we respectfully dedicate this volume.

I N MEMORIAM

SAMUEL HOMER WOODBRIDGE
Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering
Died June 5, 1926

FRANCIS WARD CHANDLER
Professor Emeritus of Architecture
Died September 8, 1926

FORRIS JEWETT MOORE
Professor of Chemistry
Died November 20, 1926

JOHN CHANDLER STEELE
Student in Chemical Engineering
Died October 18, 1926

DONALD ELWYN WILSON
Student in Architectural Engineering
Died January 28, 1927

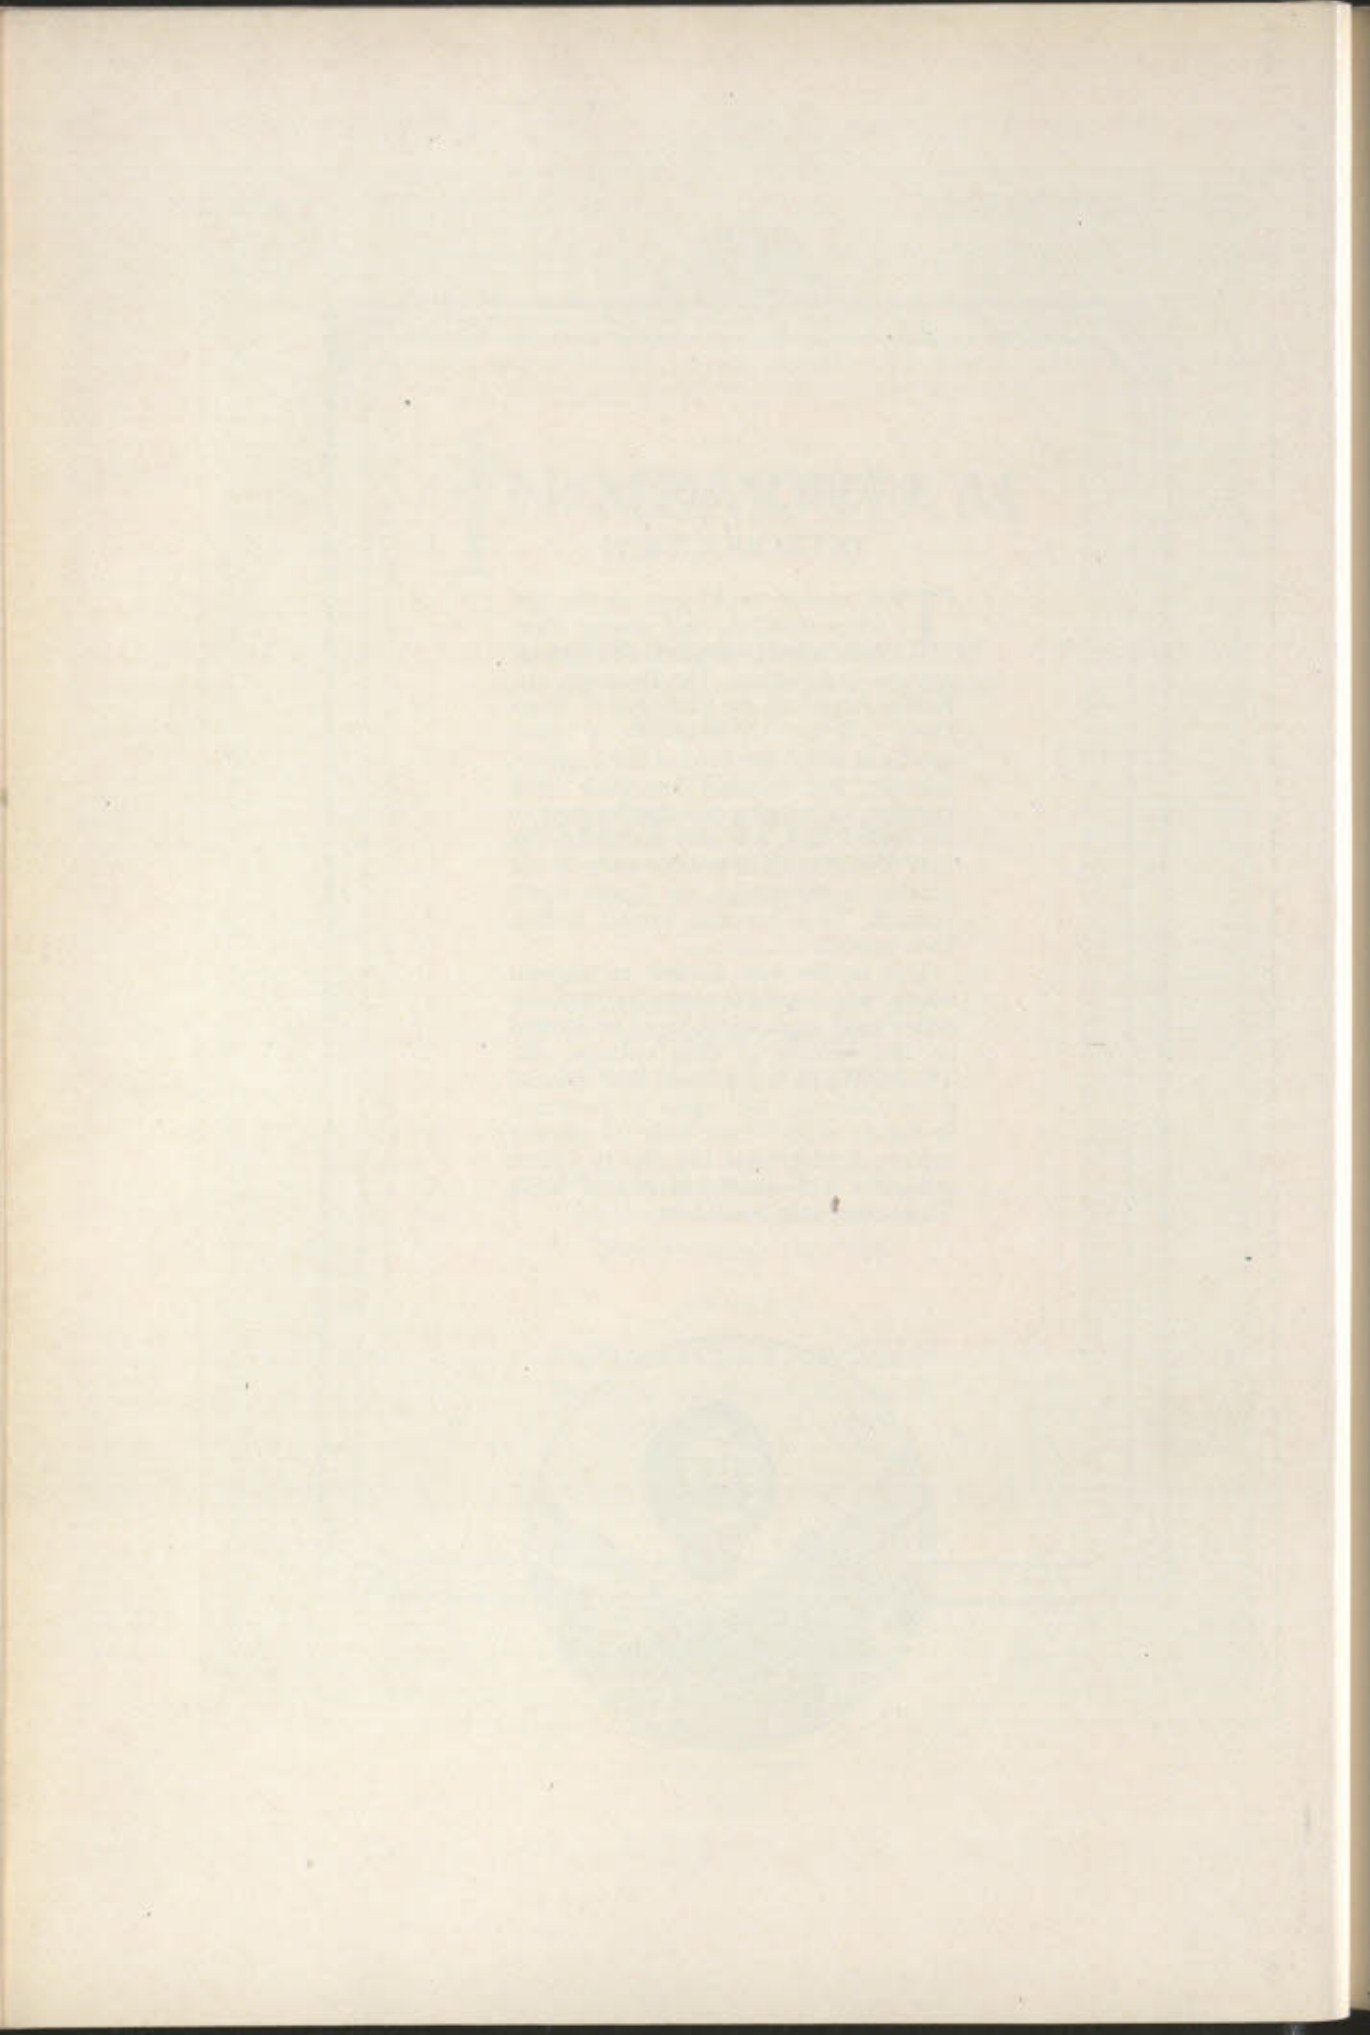

PROJECT SECTION

INTRODUCTION

THE ancient world gave us the first seven wonders, and among these were some great pieces of engineering and architecture. The Pyramids, the Roman Aqueduct, the Cathedral of Notre Dame, all are representative of great epochs in which the hand of the engineer, scientist, and architect has made itself manifest. In bringing this development to the present day, it is only fitting that the 1927 TECHNIQUE portray some of the notable achievements of Technology's Alumni. Thus has this Project Section been created.

Due to the vast amount of material which was available and the unfortunately small space which could be devoted to the section in this volume, the TECHNIQUE Board hopes that Alumni accomplishments will again be presented in future years — not only to portray modern developments but also to inform graduates and undergraduates of what Technology men have done.

Who's Who—Questionnaire

It is customary to note the outstanding individuals of each Junior class in TECHNIQUE'S section, Who's Who. The class may have misjudged some of its members but the consensus of opinion which is recorded here is the final word.

The Class of 1928 nominates the following to TECHNIQUE'S "Hall of Fame:"

WHO OF THE CLASS OF 1928

IS THE MOST POPULAR?

1. WITH THE CLASS?

Dean got the greatest number of bouquets as usual.

2. WITH THE FACULTY?

Eddie Chute got the most votes.

3. WITH THE LADIES?

Dick Goble won the fur-lined turban.

4. WITH HIMSELF?

And R. B. Jones replied,
"Lord, here am I!"

HAS DONE MOST OF THE CLASS?

Bursar Ford has dunned a good many.

IS MOST LIKELY TO GRADUATE?

1. MAGNA CUM LAUDE?

George Palo.

2. MIRABILI DICTU?

Dean is almost as popular with faculty as Chute.

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

IS THE BROWNEST BAGGER?

Willie Beard, son of the famous writer, and member of the Anagram society, took Edie's Polycon to Summer Camp and outlined it just for fun.

IS THE MOST BEAUTIFUL?

R. B. Jones of Tech Show fame.

IS THE MOST FAMOUS ATHLETE?

Cy Meagher broke the tape first in this event.

IS THE MOST PHYSICALLY INSIGNIFICANT?

Klegerman just squeaked in ahead.

IS THE MOST ENORMOUS?

Jake Jamieson by a hand.

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL BLUFFER?

It seems that Bob Kales is still in school.

IS THE BEST KNOWN CO-ED?

Miss Lovely had no competition in this field.

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL SPONGE?

Shipley when soaked surpasses any sponge.

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

GOES ON AT ROGERS?

Although some men didn't know just where or what Rogers is, they all seemed to have heard of the Life Classes.

FRATERNITY IS THE GREATEST ASSET TO TECH?

As every man voted for his own, we suggest turning to the end of the book and finding out which House has the most members.

DO YOU THINK OF COURSE XV?

A private interview will be given any man who would really like to see the answers we got to this one.

IS YOUR AMBITION?

Most men appear to think that getting a diploma is the end and aim of life.

WOULD YOU ADVISE FOR FRESHMEN?

Green Caps.
A course in mob psychology.
A ban on fur coats and cars.
Bigger and better uniforms.

ATHLETICS

AT THE

Season of 1925-1926 in Athletics

A REVIEW of a year's athletics at Technology is very apt to demonstrate a fact particularly to be noted in the case of our dual track meets this last year. That is, that something in the nature of the work done here makes it difficult to develop a consistently strong team. The time is so short and the demands upon it so many, that only the stars or outstanding men will work hard and train. The result is a record of individual successes, but a poor record for the team due to the lack of consistent second and third place men.

One of the notable achievements this past year was the winning of the New England Intercollegiate Track Championship last spring on the same day that our varsity crew defeated Harvard.

Last year crew made another jump in popularity among the undergraduates, and the proportionate increase in victories resulting has placed us high in Eastern Collegiate crew racing circles. It was regrettable that lack of funds kept us from competing in the Poughkeepsie regatta, but, at any rate, the enviable record of our oarsmen coming, as it does, for the third consecutive season has placed the sport in the class with track in bidding for student interest. The 150-lb. or light varsity crew, after defeating Harvard, Yale, and Princeton, was considered invincible.

A notable exhibition of spirit though in a minor sport is the work of the fencing team which, after losing the services of its regular paid coach and with no prospects of replacing him, set to work determinedly to whip itself into form under the advice of the older members. The stimulus of the necessity for hard practice and the initiative of the men was such that the team's record for the season remains practically incomparable.

Although not a recognized team, the career of the Junior football team is worthy of note too; particularly in what it indicates as to the future possibilities of varsity football. The men fought hard when in a game but found that it is a sport that requires more stiff training than they could possibly acquire.

There is one thing that Technology can claim for the competitive aspect of its athletics; despite the unfavorable conditions for developing teams, it always picks its opponents from among the strongest and most formidable college aggregations, and it has always made a showing against them that has made it possible to get return engagements in the most exclusive circles year after year. This is a condition that reflects very well upon the spirit behind our teams.

Award of Insignia

AWARD OF "T"

A cardinal "T" six inches high and five and three-quarters inches wide at top bar and of "standard design" is granted to:

Winners of points at the annual meet of the I. C. A. A. A. A. and winners of first or second place at the annual meet of the N. E. I. C. A. A.

Scoring members of a winning cross-country team, or any man placing in the first twenty per cent, or better, at the I. C. A. A. A. A., or the first fifteen per cent, or better, at the N. E. I. C. A. A. runs.

Any member of the track team who shall break an accepted M. I. T. record in competition. This rule shall apply to a member of the Freshman Track Team breaking a Varsity record.

ADDITIONAL INSIGNIA

Winners of the "T" who already hold it shall be granted additional insignia which shall take the form of a star.

Any student winning a "T" in two different years in any one form of sport or in the same or different years in two forms of sport, as recognized by the Advisory Council, shall be granted on the event of the second win, a star to be worn in addition to the "T" upon the sweater, jersey, or other prescribed garment.

No student shall be regarded as eligible for qualification for additional insignia until after beginning his third academic year.

SPECIAL AWARD OF "T"

To the first man in a dual meet or first and second in a triangular intercollegiate meet, and to the first, second, and third in a triangular cross-country run.

Members of winning team in relay races and in dual or triangular cross-country runs.

Members of teams who as individuals are winners of final events in any intercollegiate championship competition.

Members of the doubles team reaching the final or of the singles team reaching the semi-final round at the annual tournament of the N. E. I. C. A. A.

Members of a team in any sport officially recognized by the Advisory Council who participated in not less than two-thirds of the games of the season.

The manager of the crew and track team.

AWARDS TO MANAGERS

Insignia awards to the managers shall differ from those made to competing members of teams by the addition of a bar three inches long and three-quarters of an inch wide placed symmetrically with its superior edge one-quarter of an inch below the base of the "T".

A T A

Winners of points in intercollegiate track and field events.

Winning teams in outdoor intercollegiate relay races.

Managers of the cross-country and track team.

Teams, or members of teams, who shall equal any accepted M. I. T. record in competition. The rule shall apply to a member of the Freshman Track Team equalling a Varsity record.

To members of winning relay teams in indoor intercollegiate competition.

To winners of first place in open class meets.

C T C

Any man who places in the first forty per cent, or better, at the annual cross-country run of the I. C. A. A. A. A., or the first thirty per cent, or better, at that of the N. E. I. C. A. A.

Any point winner who makes tenth place, or better, in a collegiate dual or triangular cross-country race.

The four men who make the best time in the annual M. I. T. open cross-country race.

G T T

To first place winners in intercollegiate gymnasium team meets.

T T T

To the winners of the singles and doubles in M. I. T. intramural championship.

To point winners at the annual meet of the I. S. A. and at the annual N. E. I. S. championship meet.

W T T

To winners of finals in the annual championship meet of the N. E. I. W. A.

OTHER INSIGNIA

The appropriate insignia to members of any team, exclusive of track team, who participate in two-thirds or more of the meets of one season and to the manager.

The insignia to be as follows: A T T Soccer Football, C T C Cross-country, S T C (crossed oar) Crew, S T B Basketball, S T B Boxing, T T T Fencing, G T T Gymnasium, G T C Golf, H T T Hockey, S T T Swimming, T T T Tennis, W T T Wrestling, together with similar insignia for such other sports as may be recognized officially by the Advisory Council at any future date.

The insignia for the gymnasium team shall be grey letters on a red ground and for the golf team red letters on white.

The Advisory Council at its discretion may award the "T" with crossed rifles.

To members of the outdoor rifle team who score 143 or better out of a possible 150 at the outdoor competition of the N. R. A.

Members of the indoor rifle team who participate in two-thirds or more of the competitions of one season and demonstrate an excellence comparable to the preceding.

Competitors who shall win the "T" with crossed rifles more than once shall qualify for an award augmented with stars under the same rules governing the "T" stars.

To the six members of the rifle team and the manager provided the team position in competition places it among the first third of the competing teams.

The members of the indoor rifle team who participate two-thirds or more of the competitions of the season, provided the team be placed in Class A (the first third of the competing teams).

CREW AWARDS

The "T" with crossed oars to the members of the first crew who have competed in not less than two-thirds of the intercollegiate races of one season; under the same conditions, the same award augmented by the letters SC may be granted to the second crew and the 150-lb. Varsity crew.

CLASS NUMERALS

The following are entitled to class numerals, three inches in height, three inches in width.

Winners of points in open class meets.

Members of the Freshman track team who are winners of points in recognized extramural meets who have competed in not less than two-thirds of the meets of one season.

The Manager of the Freshman Track Team.

The Manager of the Freshman Cross-Country Team.

Members of winning Freshman relay teams in recognized indoor meets.

Members of the following teams who have competed in two-thirds of the meets of one season:

Members of the Freshman Swimming Team who have competed in not less than two-thirds of the meets of one season and who have won a total of at least five points during the season.

Members and managers of the winning teams of any form of interclass competition recognized jointly by the Advisory Council and the M. I. T. A. A.

Participants on Technology Field Day as follows:

First, to members, not more than five substitutes, and the manager of both football teams; second, to members, not more than two substitutes and manager of the winning team of the relay race; third, to members, not more than two substitutes, the manager, and the counter of the winning tug-of-war team; fourth, to members, not more than two substitutes, and the manager of the winning crew.

ALL THE ABOVE AWARDS CAN BE RECOMMENDED BY THE M. I. T. A. A., BUT MUST BE SUBMITTED TO THE APPROVAL OF THE ADVISORY COUNCIL.

The Technique Award

FOR some years a large silver cup, presented by TECHNIQUE to the M. I. T. A. A., has held the name of the high-point winner of the track team of each season.

It was with this understanding that the cup was given, as a reward for the consistent good work and service to Technology that the winner must have given. It has become a custom, inaugurated by the M. I. T. A. A., to present the cup to the year's winner at the All-Technology Smoker. Since this is the only athletic award of its kind, and the only one given at the Smoker, the occasion is one that is counted upon to bring fitting acknowledgment to the recipient.

At the Smoker this year, on the evening of October 8, John H. Field, President of the Athletic Association, mounted the stage with the shining cup and with a few words of introduction called Henry G. Steinbrenner, captain of track and last season's winner of the TECHNIQUE Cup, to the front of the hall. Steinbrenner was a familiar figure to many of those present, as he has been a consistent point-winner since his freshman year. He holds several Institute records in the hurdles and dashes.

The height of Steinbrenner's season was reached when he won the National A. A. U. junior 220 yards low hurdles championship at Philadelphia last August. In the spring, before going to the Exposition, his record was enviable, too. At Tech Field he won the New England Intercollegiate low hurdles title, and later at Franklin Field the N. E. A. A. U. championship in the same event. These successes were followed in June by a very pretty display of running at the Intercollegiates held at the Harvard Stadium, when Steinbrenner was third to Grumbles of California and Wolf of Pennsylvania. This was the fastest race of his with the official time over the low hurdles of 23 4/5 seconds.

Steinbrenner

The Technique Cup

In all these races he showed excellent form, developed by long practice, as well as marked natural ability and the spirit to win. His record compares very favorably with those of many of the men whose names already appear on the trophy.

He accepted the cup with a smile and a few words of thanks, unheard by the crowd who set up a cry of, "Speech, speech!", before which the lengthy athlete beat a hasty retreat with the prize.

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

Track, 1926

THE 1926 season of the track team had its bright and shady sides. Meets that were lost were well redeemed by decisive individual successes.

During the fall before the track season the handicap meets were held on Saturday afternoons. The first spring meet occurred on Tech Field with Harvard. Although Technology lost to Harvard by a score of 153 to 72, the running of Steinbrenner in the low hurdles and of Leness in the half mile was certainly worth commendation. Jack Wiebe added to the score by taking first in the broad jump, third in the 100-yard, and third in the javelin.

On May eighth Technology nearly doubled the score of Colby by taking the majority of first places. Wiebe tied the Institute record for the broad jump while the first three places in the two-mile run went to Chute, Rooney, and Akerley respectively. Steinbrenner was first in the low hurdles but was disqualified in the high hurdles. Leness showed excellent form in the quarter, and half-mile runs, taking first place in both. Glantzberg placed in three events; he was first in the hammer throw, second in the shot put, and third in the discus throw. Brodsky, as usual, won the shot put, Sanford easily took the pole vault, and Meagher tied for first place in the 440-yard run.

On the following week Technology took nine out of fifteen first places in the meet with Cornell. Every race was closely contested and each athlete was forced to put his best into the events. Steinbrenner did exceptionally good work in winning the high hurdles as did Kirwin in the mile which he won by the narrow margin of one foot, after a hard fought race. Leness took first place in both the 440 and the half mile, exhibiting good form in each. Chute repeated his performance of the past week by placing first in the two-mile run. Glantzberg again took first place in the hammer throw, and Brodsky was first in the shot put. In spite of the excellent records of these men, a lack of adequate support from other members of the team accounted for the fact that Technology lost to its opponents, but by less than twenty points.

The Harvard Meet

The New England Intercollegiate meet was held on May twenty-second on Tech Field. The work of the team at this meet was generally good so that it would prove difficult to name one man as star. George Leness, competing in his last N. E. I. C. A. A. meet, made 8 out of the 31 points which was the team's total, and gave Technology first place in the meet. In the 440 Leness was led by two Holy Cross men, but by putting his best into the race he was able to pass one before the finish. The fact that he was forced to run in the half-mile only a short time after the 440 had ended put Leness at a disadvantage. However, he was able to win the event in a time of one minute fifty-six seconds. Steinbrenner, true to form, placed first in the low hurdles, also taking second place in the high hurdles. First place in the pole vault went to Sanford who topped the bar at 12 feet 2½ inches, a mark above his previous record. Wiebe, who obtained five points for Technology, was second in the broad jump, while Brodsky was second in the shot put, and Glantzberg, third in the hammer throw. To the victorious team should be given considerable credit for winning a closely contested meet.

Jack Wiebe

Major Sanford

The intercollegiate meet was held at Harvard Stadium, on May 28 and 29. Technology placed in two events, Leness running fourth in the 880, and Steinbrenner finishing third in the 220-yard hurdles.

A review of the season is one typical of Technology's athletics. It is a record of brilliant individual successes, with a lack of general strength due to a lack of material.

The necessity for year-round training has been one of the tribulations of the coaching staff, who realize that they must have seasoned men on the cinders in the spring if they are to turn out a successful team. The efforts to get candidates to report with the opening of school have met with increasing success of late years and work has been started early.

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

This is accomplished by the handicap meets mentioned before as taking place in the fall. Cups are given at the end of the series to those men with the highest number of points in each event. This system gives the men incentive to report early and keep in condition.

Fritz Glantzberg

Another method for keeping the men in good condition is the pre-season training which is conducted in preparation for the Inter-class meet held in April during Junior Week. This competition also affords an opportunity to the coaches to discover any hidden material among the classes and among fraternities, for men are urged to enter the various events regardless of their prowess. This year the meet was closely contested, and the Juniors finally won after strong unexpected opposition from the Sophomores.

The training methods, necessarily curtailed by the nature of the work at the Institute, nevertheless have developed stars, whose records deserve reviewing.

Captain George Leness has been one of the outstanding half-milers in inter-collegiate competition for two years. At all the season's meets he displayed faultless form. In two of them he won first in both the quarter and half, while in the New England meet itself he placed a close second in the quarter and won the half, with hardly time to catch his breath between the races.

Hank Steinbrenner, George's successor as captain, also stood out. He took four firsts and three seconds, not to mention a third in the Intercollegiates against the best hurdlers of the country. Although more fond of the low than the high hurdles, the Cornell meet found him first in the latter, too.

Saul Brodsky and Fred Glantzberg were best in the weights. The former, holder of the Institute record, scored consistently in the shot put. Fred followed his team-mate in this event, but excelled in the hammer and discus.

Major Sanford took first in the pole vault in the Colby meet and made a new record for that event at the New Englands.

Jack Wiebe, a versatile and consistent point winner, obtained two firsts in the broad jump, and also made points in the 100-yard dash and javelin throw.

Eddie Chute took two firsts in the distances, and Pete Kirwin, one. While Cy Meagher, running the 440, though overshadowed by his captain, Leness, was a high scorer.

Leness wins from Cornell

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

Although the work of these men was unusual and spectacular, credit must also be given to the men of less natural ability who still work hard to take the less important places in their events and so add to the score. The general strength of the team depends, of course, upon these men.

It is evident that the season was on the whole a successful one. The first meet, that with Harvard, was the only decisive defeat experienced and the overwhelming win over Colby, together with the winning of the New England Intercollegiate Championship was more than enough to offset it. With many of the stars still in school, considerable material now available from last year's Freshmen, and the increased interest in Track, there seems to be grounds for predicting even better success for the 1927 season.

This season will show the effects of new coaching in one department of the game — the field events. The Technology team was fortunate in obtaining, in October, 1926, the services of coach William Meanix. Meanix not only made an enviable track record during his high school days at Boston English and college training at Colby but also was a member of the 1920 United States Olympic team. Undoubtedly the field events will show the benefits of this valuable addition to Technology's coaching staff.

Hank Steinbrenner

THE opening race of the relay team was with Brown in the K. of C. games. The team, composed of Captain Steinbrenner, Hallahan, Meagher and K. A. Smith, formed a powerful combination of runners and could well enter the contest with high hopes of carrying off the laurels that day. Meagher was lead-off man, passing the baton to Hallahan who was succeeded by Smith and Steinbrenner. Despite the fact that through some blunder the race had to be run twice, the team succeeded in beating the Brown squad by half a lap in the good time of 3-14-2 for the mile.

Next on the schedule was the race against Syracuse and Columbia at the Millrose Athletic Club. The Syracuse team nosed the Technology team out at the finish by a few yards after a hard battle. Columbia, however, was left far behind.

The third and last meet in which the mile-relay team was entered was the traditional contest with Harvard in the B. A. A. games. Meagher again started off and obtained the jump on Brayton whom he led by five yards to the finish of his lap. Hallahan, however, was unable to hold this lead against his opponent. Steinbrenner ran a remarkable race, catching up to Haggerty in the straight stretch at the start, but losing his stride at the second turn he gave the Harvard runner a chance to cut in front of him. The Harvard team thus obtained a lead which neither the efforts of Steinbrenner nor the splendid running of Smith against O'Neil could diminish.

Cross-Country

TECHNOLOGY could well face the 1926 cross-country season with high hopes. All but three men were back from the preceding year, among them Harold Akerley, captain-elect of the team. Furthermore, there were such aces as McClintock and Payson to fill in the gaps while men like Worthen and Burgess could be counted on to make worthy contributions to the team's record. With no summer training camp as in previous years, however, the team as well as coach Hedlund found it no easy task to prepare themselves for the first meet, to be held only a few weeks after registration.

Captain Akerley

Their constant efforts and intensive training were well rewarded, when they succeeded in defeating the Holy Cross team in the opening meet by a score of 15 to 50. In the varsity race Technology made a perfect score, the last man of the team finishing ahead of the first Holy Cross man. McClintock, Akerley, Kirwin, and DeFazio crossed the finish line almost side by side. While the varsity thus proved its complete superiority, the Freshman team found the experience gained by their opponents in two earlier meets too much for them. Throughout the race the Holy Cross Freshmen were able to keep a decisive lead, defeating the Technology team in the end by a score of 16 to 40. Thus the Holy Cross Freshmen partly retaliated the overwhelming defeat inflicted upon their varsity.

With such an encouraging result in their first meet, the varsity could look hopefully forward to their encounter with Harvard. However, against all hopes and expectations, Harvard succeeded in wresting victory from the Technology team, beating them by twelve points (24-36). Nevertheless, Technology can look with pride upon the fact that they gave the strong Harvard squad one of the hardest fights of the season. Harvard's first man, Reid, early gained a large lead which McClintock succeeded in reducing from sixty yards to fifteen in the last mile, a remarkable performance indeed, though his effort was not rewarded by victory. Even closer than the Reid-McClintock race were those between Haggerty of Harvard against Kirwin and King against Akerley. In each case the race was a classic, ending at the finish line, though in both cases the Harvard men succeeded in gaining a yard or two in the last stretch, to defeat their game opponents.

The Freshman team fared no better than the varsity, being defeated by a score of 15-59.

Although disappointed, the team was by no means discouraged and in their next meet with New Hampshire they once more carried off the laurels, defeating the opposing team by 25-31. McClintock was the individual winner. Again, less successful, the Freshmen lost, 39-16.

Technology was favored to win the N. E. I. C. A. A. meet but was unable to realize the hopes of those who wished to see her champion of New England. Taylor of Maine in first place defeated McClintock by ten yards, and the latter captured second place for Technology. The well balanced New Hampshire team, which only a week before had bowed to the Technology squad, surprised everyone by winning the meet with 55 points. Technology had to content herself with third place while Tufts came fourth in the final scoring.

The Freshman team made out much better than expected, taking fifth place, while New Hampshire again came forth as the victor, with Tufts, Maine, and Holy Cross taking second, third and fourth places respectively.

Then came the day of the team's biggest race, the race for the national title in the I. C. A. A. A. A. meet at Van Cortland Park, New York. It was one of the closest races in history. Penn State, who won the title, edged out Syracuse by three points while Yale unexpectedly beat out Harvard for third place. Technology may pride herself in her men who captured fifth place for their Alma Mater and placed the Institute well within the front rank of the eastern college cross-country teams. Every man on the team ran a fine race to the finish, McClintock leading the squad and finishing in tenth place.

In the Freshman race the Technology team once more proved how much they had improved by taking sixth place.

It is gratifying for both the coach and the teams to be rewarded with such brilliant success at the end of a season inasmuch as it proves that the hard work done by both for the sake of the school was not in vain. Technology can be proud of her two cross-country teams of 1926.

Crew, 1926

WITH a 150-pound crew which held the Eastern light varsity championship, Technology was brought to the fore this season as an important factor in the rowing world. The coaching staff was under the direction of Bill Haines, who had as assistants David Sutter for the 150-pound crew and Daniel C. Sayre for the Freshman crews.

Interest was aroused in crew as early as registration day when bulletins were distributed; this was followed by a mass meeting for all those interested in the sport. Shortly afterward seven crews rowed regularly in preparation for the Field Day races. These races resulted in a win by the varsity over the Junior varsity and 150-pound crew, and a win of a third of a length by the Sophomores over the Freshmen. After Field Day all rowing on the river was stopped, and the machines used until Christmas vacation.

Manager Perry

Practice on the machines was resumed directly after the opening of school for the second term, and by the middle of March actual rowing was begun.

On April 24 the first races were held at Annapolis, the varsity rowing against the Navy varsity, and the Junior varsity opposing the Navy Junior varsity, 150-pound crew, and Plebes. Encountering difficulty with the choppy Severn River course and having the misfortune to break a slide, the varsity lost to the Navy by seven lengths. In the second race the Navy Junior varsity held the lead during the whole course, the Technology crew ending two lengths ahead of the Navy 150-pound eight.

On May first the light varsity traveled to Derby where it encountered the Yale light varsity on the Housatonic. The first mile was rowed with neither crew in the lead, but at the end of the mile the M. I. T. crew put up the stroke. Gradually forging ahead despite the efforts of the opposing shell, it finished a half length in the lead. On the same day the Junior varsity raced the Union Boat Club, ending seven lengths ahead of its opponents.

The 150-pound crew continued its excellent record by defeating Princeton (light weight) on Lake Carnegie, and by making the best record of any 150-pound crew over that course. Princeton jumped into a small lead at the start, but after the first quarter-mile M. I. T. pulled ahead, rowing 33 strokes to Princeton's 34. Princeton vainly attempted to regain the lead by increasing the stroke, but our boat crossed the finish line a length and a half ahead of their opponents.

The varsity crew, in the race with Columbia on May 15, took the lead at the start and held it during a greater part of the race, but ended a half length behind the Columbia shell only after that crew was forced to increase its stroke. In the Junior varsity race the judges were unable to make a choice, and the finish was declared to be a dead heat. The Freshman crew lost by a length and a half after having difficulty, as did the other crews, with a considerable amount of floating debris.

In their last race of the season, on May 21, the light varsity raced Harvard on the Charles over the Henley distance. The Technology eight took the lead directly from the start, and gradually drew away from the Harvard shell. At the bridge two lengths of open water separated the shells, and at the finish the M. I. T. crew had increased the lead to three lengths.

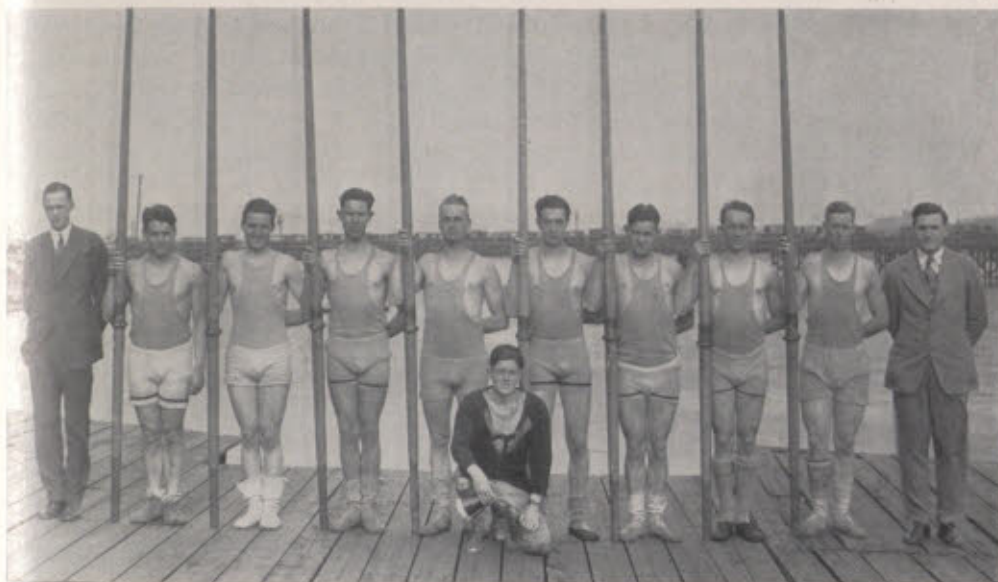

The varsity race with Pennsylvania and Harvard was held under poor conditions, but the rowing was very good, and the race one of the hardest fought of the season. The Technology crew was in the rear at the start, but by the time Harvard Bridge was reached it had passed the other two shells. After the mile mark had been passed the Pennsylvania shell crept up and fought with ours for a considerable distance before taking the lead. Harvard was unable to pass either and when the mile and three-quarters mark was reached Pennsylvania led Technology by a half length, while Harvard was as much behind the second shell. In the Junior varsity race Pennsylvania took the lead at the start and maintained it during the entire course. The Technology crew was last until the bridge was reached when it slowly gained, and passed Harvard before the finish. Pennsylvania finished three lengths ahead of Technology who led Harvard by a length. In the Freshman race Harvard finished first with the other two shells close behind.

Captain Dearle

The last varsity race of the season was rowed against Harvard, Cornell, and the Navy. Cornell led for nearly a mile, but at Harvard Bridge the Navy increased its stroke and passed the other shells, ending three lengths ahead of Harvard.

The season was brought to a close with the crew banquet held in Riverbank Court Hotel on the evening of May 29. Crew awards were given out, and Mr. Richards was present to award the medals.

A moving picture of the 150-pound race with Harvard was shown, and there were speeches by several interested in crew.

Swimming, 1926

THE 1926 Swimming season was featured by a number of very close scores, due to the team's ability to take many second and third places instead of only a few first place points won by star performers, as was the case in 1925. With twenty firsts, twenty-two seconds, and twenty-three third places, the 1926 Swimming team had a good record on which to look back.

A good schedule was arranged early in the season by Manager Gentry, and an auspicious beginning was made at a mass meeting held in October. The season started with large squads out for both Varsity and Freshman teams. The usual handicap of not having a pool at the Institute had to be put up with, but the team made the most of the facilities of the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. pool. The fall practice season was followed by the Interclass meet held December 9 and 11, which was won by a large margin by the Class of 1928.

Captain Grover

Manager Riley

The season opened with a meet on January 9 with the Boston University team, won by M. I. T. 38-24. This was followed by the Amherst meet a week later, won by Amherst 32-30. Williams ran up a 36-26 score in the next contest. Two of these meets were held in the Cambridge pool.

The Yale and Dartmouth meets took place on February 19 and 20, Yale winning over M. I. T. 38-24, and Dartmouth winning, 48-14. Grover distinguished himself in the Yale meet by breaking the former Institute records for the fifty and hundred-yard swims.

The Union and Syracuse meets also resulted in close scores. Union winning 39-23, and Syracuse, 33-29. The Syracuse meet held the next day showed the effect of the previous evening's contest with Union, but the score was very close.

The Brown meet was run in conjunction with the Freshman. Grover again starred, taking seconds in the fifty and hundred-yard dashes, pushing Cales of Brown to remarkable records for these distances. Hull took a first in diving, while Puschin and Captain Wies also turned in creditable performances.

The N. E. I. S. A. meet at Wesleyan was won by Dartmouth, Puschin making the only point for M. I. T., incidentally breaking the Institute record for the 200-yard breast stroke.

The team's performance shows that swimming at the Institute is on an upward trend, and with a strong nucleus around which to build next year's team, Captain-elect Grover looks forward to a successful season.

Basketball, 1926

THE 1926 Basketball season was not a successful one, if one considers the record of only four victories in fourteen games. However, many of the games were lost by very close scores.

Only two men returned from last year's team, necessitating the construction and training of practically a new team. Captain Forrester proved to be a very capable leader, as well as the high point scorer for the team. With Hinck and Myers as guards, Bielle at center and Estes at the other forward position, Coach McCarthy had a combination that developed into a real basketball team.

The season started well, the New Bedford Textile team being defeated 45-18. The second game saw M. I. T. bow to Dartmouth, since the Engineer defense was unable to cope with the strong attack of the Dartmouth captain. A week later, two more losses were piled up, for the Tufts' game at Medford was lost 26-22 and the Brown game the following day 22-20. Both of these were very close games, the Brown meet particularly so. This last game was played in the Hangar gym and although the Engineers seemed to have the superior team, they were nosed out in the final few seconds of play.

The victory over the Lowell Textile five was followed by a defeat at the hands of Harvard. The Harvard team had to work hard for their 29-23 score, M. I. T. having held them even, during the first half, mainly through the efforts of Forrester and Estes. On Saturday, January 16, M. I. T. defeated Northeastern, but in a return game Northeastern reversed the tables and won.

On Friday, February 19, the team started on its New York trip, meeting with three reverses at the hands of the Pratt Institute, Crescent A. A. and Montclair (N. J.) A. C. teams.

In the last two games of the season, New Hampshire won by only one point, while Holy Cross invaded the Hangar to take the final game of the season.

THE 1926 Golf season was a fairly successful one, the Technology team taking three out of the eight matches played.

On April 21 the team defeated Burdett and on the following week Boston University. The Brown meet came on May 1 when Technology was defeated. The next three matches entered were lost to Holy Cross, Williams, and Harvard. In the following meet Technology defeated Bowdoin, but lost to Amherst on June first.

Hockey 1926-1927

WITH but two of last year's first string men back, the hockey team faced a prospect not altogether bright as it started practicing last November. Captain Berkeley however, was justified in his faith in the less experienced men who were to be trained to take up their heavy tasks. The season turned out to be a successful one, and all the games were fast and interesting to watch. The lack of wins in the early part of the season was due to the inexperience of the new men. The later games showed unusual team-work on the part of all the men. It would be difficult to pick out particular stars, especially late in the season, but the work of Berkeley, individually and with Duplin in combination plays, Crandell, Crosby, and Richards all deserve special notice.

The season opened December 10 when the team, perhaps overconfident as a result of smooth-running practices, played Harvard. The result was a loss, by no means overwhelming, with a score of 1-5. As a team, the playing was weak, and the Harvard defense was too strong to be broken up by individual attacks. The effect of this game on the team was evident in the next which was played with Boston University on December 17. Ending in a 2-2 tie after a ten-minute overtime period, it was a fight from start to finish. Berkeley and Duplin worked beautifully in combination and played the puck to the goal several times.

Captain Berkeley

After the Christmas holidays the games followed in quick succession. January 6 at Springfield the team lost to Yale, 2-3, in an overtime game. Berkeley and Crandell did the best playing of the game. Two days later, January 8, they completely overwhelmed the West Point aggregation, continually crossing their opponent's territory with rapid passing and excellent team-work. The score was 7-0 in Technology's favor.

Once more at home, they tackled Boston University for the second time, and on January 13 played a furious game from the start and finally won, 4-3, in the last minute of play. This game, too, was marked by strong team-work. The Boston College game and the postponed Dartmouth game, finally played at Springfield, were defeats for the Technology team. On March 5 the team played its last game at Providence against Brown and won by the score of 3-0.

This year's schedule included games with only the leading teams of the country. Against these, Technology performed very creditably. Much praise goes to Captain Berkeley not only for his efficient leadership but also for his outstanding performance as a player which was considered by critics as one of the best in New England.

Fencing, 1926

WHEN one considers that the 1926 Fencing team went through the entire season without the services of a coach, its record of seven victories and two defeats seem very creditable. Starting the season with but three veterans from last year, the team practiced throughout the fall months without any instruction and with only occasional aid from graduate students. A preliminary meet with the Alumni, which the team won 14-13, showed the effects of hard and diligent work.

Captain Ferré

The first outside meet of the season was with Bowdoin, and Technology won 9-4. Levis and Hawthorne took the honors in this match. In the Columbia meet, the team entered more or less as a "dark horse" with the chances against them. Columbia was fresh from a victory over the strong Navy Team, but Technology proved to have the better team and won a close match by a 7-6 score. Fuertes of Columbia was the individual star with Levis of Technology a close second.

Manager Spofford

The fencers met their first defeat at Annapolis, where the Navy won 8-5. On the next trip, Syracuse was beaten 11-2, Levis, Hawthorne and Ferré starring for Technology. On the same trip, Hamilton was also defeated after a considerably more closely fought match. Cornell then fell victim to a 10-3 beating.

In the Dartmouth meet, the team was up against an entirely new proposition in the Italian style of swordsmanship. However, after solving this method of attack, Dartmouth also was added to the list of victims. In the last dual meet, that with West Point, Technology lost by a close 7-6 score.

The team as a whole did not fare well in the New England Intercollegiate meet. Levis, however, compensated for this by winning the individual foils title in both the New England and the National intercollegiate meets. This was a fitting climax to his brilliant work of the season, when on many occasions his individual performances enabled the team to win.

Having made such a good showing without the assistance of a coach, the fencers next year can look forward to even better results when every effort will be made to secure a competent instructor.

Wrestling, 1926

STARTING out without veterans or a coach, the varsity wrestlers gradually improved through the season, closing with a second place in the New England Intercollegiates. Five victories with as many defeats was the record of the season.

The season started with mass meetings and with good squads out for both freshman and varsity competition, but with a dearth of men in the heavier classes. With the advent of Coach Albright, the team's prospects brightened considerably.

Captain Franks

In the first meet of the season, after only three weeks under Albright's tutoring, the team was defeated by Northeastern 17-10, Johnson and Harris performing well for Technology. The meet with Tufts was also lost by a very close score.

With the return of Burke, last year's New England Intercollegiate champion, the team defeated Norwich. The Harvard meet was also won by the Engineers 16-9. Harris and Franks scored falls in this meet, while Cullen and Burke added to the total by winning their bouts by decision. Harvard had an unusually strong team and the Engineers were justly proud of their performance.

In the next two meets the team slumped from its previous good record and lost to Yale and to Brown, the latter meet being held in the hangar gym. It was witnessed by a good sized audience, a basketball game and dance being additional attractions. On a week-end trip to New York the team was fairly successful, overwhelming Rensselaer, and losing to Syracuse by a close score. Cullen, Harris and Franks were the individual stars in these meets, each winning two bouts.

On March 10, the wrestlers met Tufts in a return meet and just reversed the former score, when Staebner won by a fall in the last bout, giving Tech a 15-14 victory. The team secured an even break for the year by defeating Stevens in the final meet of the season on March 13, by a score of 15-9.

In the New Englands, the team took a second place in a field of six. Harris in the 145-pound class was the high scorer, by virtue of his eight victories. Harris, Franks and Rabinovitz were runners up in their divisions.

The prospects for the 1927 season are particularly bright. The whole team is expected back and with the addition of some good men from this year's freshman squad, next year's team should make a very fine record.

Boxing, 1926

THE record of the 1926 Boxing team shows only one victory to balance four defeats. The team, however, made a showing in those bouts which were lost, that pushed the opponents to the limit to win them. As only two men were lost by graduation, the 1927 team will have an experienced nucleus for a new start.

The season started with only three veterans returning. Difficulty was also encountered in securing men for the heavier classes. In the first meet of the season, that with McGill University, the latter won, 4-2. Kwauk of the Technology team scored the only victory for M. I. T. In addition, one other place was taken by default. This meet was the only one of the season that was held at home.

In the next meet, Colgate overwhelmed the team by a 6-0 score. The meet was not so one-sided as it appears, however, since the Colgate boxers won decisions over Kwauk and Conroy only by narrow margins.

Captain Kwauk

Manager Weston

The first meet with New Hampshire followed on February 20, New Hampshire winning 3-2. Epstein and Kwauk scored for the Engineers. The Yale team, with a squad of veterans, won the next meet by a 4-1 score, Kwauk again taking the only bout for M. I. T.

Up to this point, although not yet winners, the men felt that they were developing better form and greater ring strategy. A return match with any of their earlier opponents, they believed, would end in a manner more to Technology's liking.

The last meet of the season, the return match with New Hampshire, produced the only victory of the season, the Engineers winning 4-2. Blackwood of Technology won his bout in sensational style. This meet, then, justified their confidence and brought home the need of actual ring experience for the team.

The unsuccessful aspect of the season should not be laid at the door of Coach Rawson nor of the men who took part. There could be no better results expected with so few men turning out. Those who did report fought with a spirit deserving to win and trained with a consistency that proved their desire to maintain the reputation of Technology in intercollegiate competition.

Gym, 1926

THE Gym team season was not a particularly successful one. The team had to struggle along without a coach and its season's record shows a string of losses to opposing teams. Practices were held three days a week during the winter and the team was in fairly good shape for the Navy meet on February 10. Five men were sent to Annapolis. However, the Navy, which always has a very strong team overwhelmed the Engineers; Newcomb making the only score for Technology.

In the next meet, that at Hanover with Dartmouth, Newcomb took second place in the rope climb and flying rings, with Smith taking a second on the parallels and a third on the side horses. However, Dartmouth won all the first places, so that M. I. T. lost the meet.

In the Princeton meet, held in the Walker Gym, Princeton took four firsts, while Newcomb and Waller of Tech won firsts in the flying rings and tumbling respectively. The meet was won by Princeton.

Captain Waller

Manager Dick

The strong University of Pennsylvania team took the next meet, mainly by the star performances of Krueger and Kramer of the Penn. Team. Waller of Technology scored an impressive victory in the tumbling while Newcomb took a third on the flying rings.

The closing meet of the season was lost to West Point by a 29-25 score, the meet being held at the Academy. The Engineer team showed the best form that it had shown during the season, thus ending up its last contest with a much better showing.

The victory of captain-elect Waller in the National Intercollegiate meet at the University of Pennsylvania was a bright spot of the season, this victory making him the National Intercollegiate tumbling champion. With this record back of him, Waller should be able to lead the team through a more successful season next year.

Tennis, 1926

THE annual fall tournament served the purpose of estimating the material that would be available for the varsity and Freshman squads. With the number of entrants very large, and the competition stiff, the tournament proved to be a success. Throughout winter and early spring indoor practice was of great value, and put the men in shape for the coming season.

The first match was against Brown University, and it proved to be an easy victory for Technology, the score being 6-2. The next scheduled meet was to be on the 28th of April against the Army but unfortunately it had to be cancelled on account of the weather. The Engineers then obtained a series of three consecutive victories. Boston University was defeated with a score of 5-1, while Tufts was left scoreless. The Oakley Country Club, which is composed of college graduates, many of whom ranked high in their undergraduate days, was the next victim of the aggressive Technology tennis team, losing by the margin of 5-4. The next meet, against the strong Harvard team, on the 12th of May, proved to be the first defeat of the season. Although several matches went to deuce sets, Tech lost 8-1. The following week-end the team traveled to New York and Philadelphia to play Pratt Institute of Brooklyn on the 14th of May and the University of Pennsylvania on the 15th. The first game was easily won by the score of 6-0, but the University of Pennsylvania proved too strong for Technology. The last two matches of the season were a defeat and a victory. Dartmouth defeated Tech 4-2, while Wesleyan was defeated 6-0.

The team was exceptionally well balanced, but without individual stars, and thus in the New England Intercollegiates Technology was unable to score for the first time in two years. With six victories and three defeats against strong intercollegiate competition the team closed a successful season.

Field Day, 1926

FROM the sidelines the night before Field Day looked more like another war than a class fight. Railroad ties, tear gas, and other implements of modern warfare were employed to good advantage by both sides. It was a truly technical fight, that degenerated into a non-technical one only when the supplies gave out.

As last year, the Sophomores decided upon the Hangar Gym as their stronghold. Major Smith, however, anticipated trouble and had all the water turned off early in the evening. Thus assured of a dry reception, the attacking Freshmen, mysteriously supplied with tear gas bombs, raided the Hangar where the Sophomores had assembled, battered in the doors with railroad ties, and filled the interior with tear gas. Not a Sophomore could remain in this atmosphere, and after valiant efforts to defy the effects of the gas, they were forced out into the open where they were set upon furiously by the Freshmen. Wholesale stripping of vestments seemed to be the plan of both sides, and it was not long before numbers of nude forms flitted about in the semi-darkness. Tired of this denuding process and exhausted by numerous impromptu battles, the warring classes called a truce, and joined forces in a parade down Massachusetts Avenue. Arriving at Harvard Square, a sally was made against the recently opened University Theatre there, but little or no damage was done. The entire mob then burst into the subway, charged past the turnstiles and the dismayed guards and took possession of a whole Boston-bound train. A hasty exit was made at Park Street, and a snake dance started en route to Rogers. There, cheers and songs were in order, after which a noisy parade in the Back Bay acquainted that staid old section with the classes of '29 and '30.

By morning all Boston and vicinity knew that something was going on at Technology. The police were intensely interested and sent large delegations to the afternoon exercises to cheer for their favorite class.

Scholastic activities ended at noon. An hour later the esplanade was swarming with students awaiting the finish of the crew race, which was postponed on account of rough water to later in the day. For the first time in years, a Technology band was in evidence. To its spirited strains the lower classmen marched in semi order to the stands, where they settled down and had not long to wait for the first pull of the tug-of-war.

At the crack of the gun, the heavy and experienced Sophomores seemed to have the advantage. But after an even start, the Freshmen steadily gained and finally pulled over victorious. This was a signal for a concerted attack by the '30 men on the Sophomore stand. Aided by a broadside of tear gas they succeeded in confusing the entire body, and until the beginning of the football game kept up a rapid-fire attack. Nor did the football team show any less vehemence than their fellows in the stands. They outplayed the Sophomores, and might have won were it not for numerous fumbles. The '29 line could not stop the rushing of the grey-jerseyed backs, nor could they hold long enough for their own aerial attack. In the first quarter McKenna picked up a Frosh fumble and was downed only on the '30 fifteen-yard line. The Sophomores failed to score, however, until the second quarter when Roche took the ball over for a touchdown. At the end of the first half the score stood 6 to 0 for '29.

Intermittent spattering of rain threatened to put a stop to further activities, but the clouds passed by with nothing more than a brisk shower. Between the halves the Freshmen won the second pull of the Tug-of-War giving them a lead for the day of two points. It was at this point that the Sophomores made a very determined effort to recover their President who had been held captive by the Freshmen since the morning before. They were repulsed in a raid on the Freshman stands, and even with the aid of tear gas were unable to rescue their leader.

The relay race proved to be the most thrilling event of the day. Jandris gave the Freshmen an early lead of about forty yards, finishing ahead of Keyser.

Touchdown

Smith cut down this lead considerably but collapsed at the end, and could not pass the baton to his team-mate Danner until the Freshmen were again 60 yards ahead. The Sophomore cause now seemed hopeless, but man by man the lead was cut down until on the last lap Edlund had only a five-yard advantage over Hallahan, captain of the '29 team. The two raced neck and neck toward the finish, Hallahan gaining the difference and pushing out ahead about twenty yards from the tape, finally winning by about six yards.

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

Between the Halves

This put the Sophomores in the lead 3-2.

In the second half of the football game the Freshmen made a drive for a score. They plunged through and around the line for substantial gains but could not put over a touch-down, until Riley made his way through center and dodged past the Sophomore secondary defense over the line. The try for the extra point failed, and the score stood 6-6. The game ended before further scoring, so the two classes divided the 5 points evenly. The score of the day was now $5\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ in favor of '29. The Freshmen were still able to win the day by taking the crew race.

The stands were soon emptied, and led by the Field Day Band, the Freshmen and Sophomores paraded around the field and over to Walker Memorial where cheering and singing replaced the customary parade and snake dance to Boston. For an hour or more the crowd lined the banks of the river waiting for the crew race to decide the final score of the day. Long after dusk, the two shells were seen under the bridge, the '30 men in the lead. The Freshmen greeted them with wild enthusiasm but calmed down as the Sophomore shell slowly pulled up from behind and crossed the finish line in the lead. Thus the class of '29 saved themselves from two consecutive defeats. The final score was $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ for '29, one of the closest in years.

After the Kick

It was now long after dark, and both classes were thoroughly tired after the strenuous day and the night before. It was not hard to persuade them to desist from the snake dance to Boston, and the crowd dispersed in a most unconventional manner. Boston, Cambridge and Technology breathed a sigh of relief. The war was over.

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

Thus in November every year the Freshmen and Sophomores have their annual tussle. Although on the face of it this is merely class rivalry which is all let loose within the small time of twenty-four hours, nevertheless Field Day has far more lasting and important results than deciding class supremacy. Its first purpose is to organize the first year men into a class. It gives them something to strive for and affords them an opportunity to work with their classmates. Only after such an event can the Freshmen vote intelligently for their class officers. Indirectly, too, Field Day starts the new men in their activity work. By working on a class team or in the temporary class organization set up for the event the men take the initial step in doing something for their school and class which might never otherwise occur.

Field Day also brings to the fore certain necessary activities at the Institute such as class cheer leaders and the band. These activities would never exist under the present form of organization without the aid of the annual class fight.

A review of the 1926 Field Day is an interesting one. The band again made its appearance after a two-year rest and added a great deal to the holiday aspect of the familiar surroundings. The Freshmen showed more spirit and fight than has been shown for many years. This is undoubtedly due to the advantage which they had of early class organization originating at the Freshman Camp conducted by the Technology Christian Association earlier in the fall. The score, $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$, does not begin to show the narrow escape from defeat which the Sophomores had. Out of the four events, the tug-of-war, won by the lower class, was the most decisive victory; in the football game which resulted in a tie the Freshmen outplayed the Sophomores; and only after an uphill fight at the last few moments of each contest did the Sophomores emerge victorious in the crew and relay races.

Institute Committee

THE Institute Committee is perhaps the most powerful of the Student Organizations at Technology. It is the legislative part of the student government and has a very active and creditable record. Seldom are its decisions overruled, and it is recognized as being the most reliable source for determining student opinion.

The Committee is composed of representatives from the four classes and a delegate from each of the recognized activities of the Institute. Its meetings are open to the entire student body. It is thus readily seen that this is truly a representative body, expressing in many ways the will of the majority of the Technology undergraduates.

The Budget Committee functions mainly to insure a just appropriation and prompt distribution of the money accruing from the collection of the Student Tax to those activities entitled to a share thereof. It deals with all financial questions relating to student activity, controls the expenditures of the Athletic Association, and receives and permanently files financial reports of all undergraduate activities.

The Committee is composed of three members, namely, the Treasurer of the Institute Committee who is ex-officio chairman of the Budget Committee, the Treasurer of the M. I. T. A. A., and one member-at-large chosen by the Institute Committee.

IT is to the Walker Memorial Committee, a sub-committee of the Institute Committee, that the care of the Walker Memorial Building, our gift from the alumni, and the Naval Hangar Gymnasium is entrusted. This student administrative body has the responsibility of enforcing the house rules of Walker Memorial, of controlling the publicity campaigns that take place on the Institute grounds, of supervising the meetings of organizations held in the building, and of assigning the rooms in the Walker Memorial and Naval Hangar. These duties are executed in such a manner that the facilities are put to uses most advantageous to the largest number of students.

THE Architectural Department is the only part of the Institute regulated by the honor system. Since 1920 the Student Council, composed of eight elected representatives from the classes, has been the governing body of the department with power to act in all matters concerning undergraduate discipline. It functions as an intermediary between the faculty and the student-body and its especial duty is to uphold the honor system.

Every registered student in the Department of Architecture is a member of the Architectural Society and as such belongs to this self-governing organization operating under the honor system.

Payment of the yearly dues allows the student to enjoy special rates at the social functions. These smokers, dances, and a picnic at the end of the year, are intended to bring into closer relationship the members of the Department in an effort to better perpetuate the ideals and traditions which lend to Rogers an extraordinary interest.

PUBLICATIONS

The Advisory Council on Undergraduate Publications

MEMBERS

Winward Prescott, Chairman

Harold E. Lobdell, '17

Harry D. Peck, '13

THE Advisory Council has for its purpose the furtherance of publication facilities, the supervision of all undergraduate work to appear in print and the encouragement of sound policies on the part of Technology periodicals. Its attitude is one of encouragement towards every branch of truly representative literary pursuit.

Prof. Winward Prescott, Chairman

It was founded in 1910 by the Institute Committee in response to a widely felt need for coöperation between the alumni and undergraduates in the management of publications. The Alumni Council was asked to form a connecting link between the alumni and these activities. This it accomplished by means of the Advisory Council on Undergraduate Publications, the capacity of which was to be in loco parentis to The Tech, TECHNIQUE, Voo Doo, and The Tech Engineering News, both in time of financial uncertainty and in the event of radical changes in style or service.

A Constitution making clear the relationship of this Council to the Alumni Council, the Institute Committee and the activities concerned, was approved by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Council and the Institute Committee.

The concepts which govern the operation of undergraduate publications under its jurisdiction as stated in this document are:

3. (a) "The Alumni have a direct interest and a right to a voice in the management of any student activity that trades in the good-will of the Institute as a whole and by which the good name of the Institute might be compromised . . ."
4. (b) "The Alumni claim no right or desire to interfere in any student activity not involving the principle outlined in (a) except insofar as their advice may be requested, or proffer of it may appear to be in order."

Technique

ON issuing this, its forty-second edition, TECHNIQUE may look back with pride upon the past. When TECHNIQUE made its first appearance in 1885, it was no more than a paper-bound book of some two hundred odd pages published by the Junior class of that year in the hope of establishing a publication which would not only record the facts, events, and activities of that year but would live on and grow up with the Institute of which it was to become a tradition.

The First Technique

In the course of these forty-two years the year book has adhered to its original name as well as its fundamental purpose. Nevertheless, there has been a long step of progress between that first modest volume and the five-hundred page book of today.

In 1923 TECHNIQUE resolved that its publication should no longer be a Junior class activity but that positions on the board should be determined by competition rather than by arbitrary election. Accordingly, a Junior and Senior board, and a Sophomore staff, were created. The advantages of this alteration are undeniable. Obviously, a publication which deals with all classes and hence is of interest not only to upperclassmen but to the whole student body ought to have representatives of all classes working for it. Moreover, the system of competition is a fairer means of judging a man's fitness for a position than an electoral system where insufficient knowledge of a man or both prejudice and favoritism may lead to an unwise choice.

Only with constant effort have previous boards been able to give to the Institute a year book which would depict all phases of student life at Technology, whether on the athletic field or in activities, whether of formal or informal nature, and still keep its price within the reach of everyone.

This year TECHNIQUE, by introducing the project section, showing a few of the better known achievements of Technology's alumni, attempts to introduce a bond between the alumni and students in the year book. It is our hope that future volumes will follow this example, which gives the student a glimpse of the work of his predecessors. The editors have also endeavored to carry throughout this volume a theme which unites both the informational and historical with the artistic.

The 1927 TECHNIQUE Board, upon publishing this edition, hopes that it has added to the already existing set of volumes one which fulfills all the requirements of a year book, and gives to the individual something more than just a cold record of facts — something which will bring Technology back to him long after he has left its halls.

AS the oldest publication at Technology, The Tech can rightfully look backward and point to many things that have come to pass during the varied term of its existence.

The Tech has its traditions just as the Institute and the other activities have their traditions, and it treasures them most reverently. Technology's steadfast friend, Dean Alfred E. Burton, has said that there are two things that have been responsible for binding Tech men together and for the development of that fine spirit that is noticeable in so many of our Alumni, namely — Technology songs and The Tech. Such is the rightful position of a college newspaper, the one publication that provides a field of common interest for all undergraduates by informing them of the latest news concerning themselves, their activities, and their Alma Mater.

Nevertheless, enjoyable as it is to look backward, there is far more interest in the future. Every son of Technology looks forward to the day when Technology undergraduates will be joined together with truer and more lasting ties than they are at present. If The Tech can aid in establishing such a spirit or in any way broaden its field of service to the student body, its traditions will have been upheld.

At present, The Tech is performing two important functions. It is providing a news service for Technology, and for the members of its board and staff it is furnishing a desirable training course along the lines of conservative journalism and constructive business policy.

Under efficient business administration it has become a large advertising medium with a consequent financial stability. It has the largest trust fund of any Institute activity. In style and make-up it is run along the lines of a professional daily. Pride in the appearance and form of the sheet has done much to vary the monotonies of make-up and add to the attractiveness of the paper.

With a constructive editorial policy it strives not only to present current views on Technology life, but to broaden the interest of the undergraduates and to direct the current of opinion in proper channels when such direction is necessary.

The Tech trusts that it can be of increasing service in every way possible.

THE ninth successful volume of Voo Doo does close with the appearance of the annual Prom Number. Phosphorous has been applauded for his work and his philanthropic efforts to dispel the cloud of seriousness which, of necessity, shrouds our Institute, have met with continued approval. Volume IX has to its credit several new numbers and original ideas which were immediately acclaimed by the undergraduate body. The practice of printing a full page of photographs of leading ladies in current stage productions was inaugurated this year.

The first number of the fall was the conventional Freshman Number. Toward the middle of November the long-awaited Girls' Number appeared on the news stands with a very striking and attractive cover design by Babe French. Girls from every part of the country contributed to make this number deserve the popularity it enjoyed. It was the first sell out of the year.

Phosphorous, by a dint of careful research and much hard work, surprised everyone in December with a Back Bay Number. This issue appeared after a slight hesitancy caused by contemplated censorship. The moment the copies reached the stands, a storming began which did not abate until four hours later, when the last copy was sold. The cover design represented a Back Bay girl against a newspaper background. The newspaper was an entire issue in itself.

After the holidays the Alumni Number made its appearance. This issue contained material from several old board members in addition to that of the present editors. The old favorites, Kane, Elmer and Lambert, handed in exceptionally good work. Before the final effort in the oversized Prom Number, the Theatrical Number and March issues made their appearances.

Voo Doo has been widely reprinted and since its affiliation with College Humor, has had much of its material used by that magazine. Voo Doo is a charter member of the Associated College Comics of the East.

YOUNGEST of "The Big Four" in the publication field at the Institute, The Tech Engineering News has already made noteworthy progress in its service to Technology. From a technical supplement to The Tech in 1919 the magazine has developed into an undergraduate professional journal of which the Institute may be justly proud.

The first editors of The Tech Engineering News intended that "It should become an organ linking the past and present student bodies, broadening, extending and stimulating to as great a degree as possible the engineering instruction given at the Institute, by bringing before both students and faculty the accomplishments of graduates, engineers, and business men of prominence in their professional fields."

Volume VII has followed this general policy but has emphasized to a greater extent the undergraduate interest. It has attempted to present both technical articles and articles of general scientific interest, but has wished to avoid technicality for its own sake, trying always to sustain the interest of the engineering student in engineering; to broaden rather than intensify professional knowledge.

This volume has attempted to increase the understanding between the Institute and its alumni, actual and potential, by the inauguration of a new feature page, "Departmental Notes." The interest with which this page has been received would seem to indicate its value and permanence.

The type of cover illustration has been changed to include more attractive sketches of engineering subjects. Emphasis has been placed on the improvement of the human interest stories of an engineering nature in the "Here and There" page. The presentation of the "News Notes" has been modified from the excerpt to the abstract type. The number of illustrations has been greatly increased.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature, however, has been the specialized number with the Railroad, the Marine, the Power, and the Automotive issues, based largely on the new pictorial section. The specialization has not been overdone, and a very real attempt has been made to include in every issue something of interest to each one of the readers

Volume VII of The Benchmark, Technology's infant publication, appeared according to schedule at the close of the Summer Surveying Camp. This year, for the second season, The Benchmark fostered a tabloid bulletin-newspaper which concerned itself with current camp happenings. As in former years the book itself is a volume of memories with many snapshots and deals with personalities and events in its interesting write-ups.

Tech Show, 1927

SMILING, happy alumni who came doubting, but went away convinced; solemn, hard professors who quickly became enthusiastic; skeptical undergrads, taking their girls as a duty, who stayed to enjoy themselves; the general public, curious to see what a real college show was all about; all agreed unanimously that "West is East," Tech Show 1927, was a splendid entertainment and worthy of all the efforts of the cast, chorus, and management to make it the best of all the twenty-nine annual productions. The measure of success that Tech Show enjoyed was amply evidenced by the enthusiastic receptions it received everywhere.

"West is East" had that originality of plot, those clever and catchy tunes, that immediately become part of one's whistling repertoire, and that perfect technique of dance and ballet that, combined under the skilled handling of the coaches, made it quite different from the hackneyed and stereotyped musical comedies so characteristic of amateur performances. In the early period of Tech Show's history, it was customary to produce such college performances as "The Freshman," "Applied Mechanics," and "The Scientific King." Later the policy of making the annual production a musical comedy devoid of college life was adopted. During this period the scenes were laid in mythical foreign countries. Last year with the presentation of "Too Many Brothers" came the restoration of the college show. This year's comedy, however, due to the originality of the co-authors P. K. Bates of Plymouth, Mass., and G. E. Hopkins of Arlington, Mass., is a combination of the two types.

Among a party of bored New York society men and women seeking diversion on an Arizona "dude" ranch is the hero, Buck, a fast-rising young engineer, who has left the confines of the city to seek solace in the great open spaces because of a disappointing love affair. No sooner does he become settled than the austere Mrs. Newcombe, the aunt of

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

Buck's pal, Harry, arrives accompanied by Dot who is the very same young lady Buck has been trying so hard to forget.

Driving these two women, one of them a "back-seat driver," from New York to Arizona, is not the chauffeur's idea of a holiday jaunt, and Scraps promptly sets himself to casting eyes at Peg, a Follies girl, who has already attracted Harry's attention. Draper, after having been the cause of breaking the engagement between Buck and Dot, fails to arouse Dot's interest in himself. He schemes with Señor Gonzales, the owner of a low Mexican dance hall, to kidnap Dot and hold her for ransom. The minions of Gonzales descend upon the ranch and kidnap, not Dot, but Peg. Then follows the attempt at rescue bringing the party over the border into Mexico. The second act, which is laid in the Mexican dance hall, is rich in excitement and romance and with its colorful costumes is one of the brightest spots of the show. As a specialty number at the end of this act, Fred Glantzberg holds the audience's attention with the skillful gyrations of his lariat which, incidentally, was taken from Lieutenant Carveo of Pancho Villa's outlaw band.

Rand B. Jones, '28

"I lift your face with my fist"

The changes in policy have had a decided effect on this year's performance. The age of specialists has taken its hold even on the show for this year we find a separate coach for the dramatics and the dancing. The results have been most gratifying, and it is expected that this scheme will continue to find favor with the undergraduate body of the Institute.

In the persons of Langdon Matthews and Carl H. Scranton, the dance and cast coaches, Tech Show has been fortunate and has had splendid results. Mr. Matthews has been very successful in producing shows in and about Boston, and is skilled in handling large groups of men in dances. He also designed the costumes for three of the numbers, one of them, "Black Bottom," being the most striking effect the Show has produced.

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

"This may cost you money"

Because it was deemed inadvisable to make repeated demands upon the alumni groups in the smaller cities, the management abandoned the long trip this year in favor of a shorter one. In addition, the quick succession of one night stands worked too great a hardship on the students who, although they gave willingly and with good cheer, nevertheless felt the reaction upon their return to school. It is hoped that next year the itinerary will again be enlarged to include Philadelphia, Pittsburg, and other western cities.

The increasing interest of the alumni in the Tech Show is more encouraging each year. In the cities in which the show played during its trip there have always been interested leaders who have expended every effort to make the performance a success. The audiences this year were perhaps too small as an after effect of less fortunate previous productions which were not up to the expectations of the alumni and their friends. But with this year's splendid performance in mind the less active alumni will be brought to a more active support of their leaders and of one of Technology's most famous activities.

Mr. Scranton has been associated with Tech Show before, assisting Coach Harlow in the 1924 production. His ability to portray various shades of meaning has been a potent factor in the clever characterization of the cast.

Simple and effective dances well done rather than difficult, and patient work by the members of the cast and chorus provided "West is East" with the appeal that the authors had striven to develop.

An innovation this year has been the organization of the 1928 Show writers during this school year instead of next year. Early in the winter these men were gathered together, and work was started. In this manner the writers will have the experience of expert coaching while working, and knowing what pitfalls to avoid the calibre of the plays submitted will be exceedingly high.

"You be my woman, huh?"

MUSICAL CLUBS

The Musical Clubs

THE Combined Musical Clubs of The Massachusetts Institute of Technology opened their forty-second year with a promising season of concerts and dances already scheduled. A larger number than ever before, 150 men, were present at the opening tryouts. This number brought out a wealth of material which was cut down to a nucleus of eighty men composing the glee, banjo, and instrumental clubs; each accomplished in his own line after biweekly rehearsals and weekly concerts.

The Talky Trickster

The new leaders and their assistants were: of the Glee Club, Egi V. Fasce, G. Leader, and G. A. Hall, '27, assistant; of the Banjo Club, A. E. Beitzell, '28, leader; of the Instrumental Club, Theodore Packer, '27, leader, and Arthur Campopiano, '28, assistant; of the Techtonians, Daniel Sullivan, '27, leader. Besides the leaders, the clubs were very fortunate in having such able men as William Weston, coach of the Glee Club and David Grant, coach of the Banjo Club.

In addition to the excellent work put forth by the different clubs, a great deal of variety was added to the concerts by the specialty acts. An innovation among these and one worthy of much praise is the Saxophone Quintet. It may safely be said that they have played no small part in making the concerts such a success this season.

This year also witnesses the passing of one of the older groups of players — the Mandolin Club. In its place has sprung up a more modern group known as the Instrumental Club. This arrangement is better fitted to handle our present-day type of music due to a wider range of instruments. If its reception by the audiences this year may be taken as a sign of its popularity, it is due to become one of the outstanding groups in the clubs.

A trip to Washington and return was proposed at the beginning of the year, but with only Washington, Philadelphia, and Newark making offers, it was deemed inadvisable to attempt the trip. However, at the present time plans are being developed for a post-season trip to Mount Holyoke, Smith College, and Adams.

This year the clubs have been running on a schedule similar to that of last year, averaging almost a concert a week either in or around Boston. First among these concerts was the one at Filene's. Continuing the excellent work shown in the previous engagement, the boys outdid themselves in a program broadcast from Station WBZ. Following this a concert was given at the U. S. Veterans' Hospital in Roxbury for the benefit of the disabled soldiers. After these three concerts there followed a long list of entertainments at various schools and clubs in the vicinity of Boston including Simmons College, Framingham Normal School, The University Club, The Aristos Club, The College of Practical Arts and Letters of Boston University, Sargent School, and Wheaton College. A concert particularly worthy of note was the twenty-eighth performance engagement at the Metropolitan Theatre in which only the Glee Club participated.

This year, following last year's example, it was found best to combine the Fall and Winter Concerts into one large Christmas Concert held in Whitney Hall, Brookline. This proved to be a great success and is without doubt one of the big social events of the Fall season at Tech. One of the most successful concerts of the season was the Pops Concert held in Walker Memorial on March 11 of this year. As it was the object of the management to give this particularly for the benefit of the greatest number possible, prices were lowered to a minimum, and the Techtonians played after the program until one o'clock which meant three hours of dancing. Two new specialty acts were included as an added attraction, namely the Tech Banjo Trio made up of two tenor banjos and a guitar-banjo, and a piano solo given by Frank B. Stratton, '29. These acts were very well received. Stratton's classical selections were more than well chosen and were executed with finish. The clubs were heard by a very large audience composed almost entirely of Tech men, and the evening was a complete success in every way. The season will be brought to a fitting conclusion with the Spring Concert given during Junior Week at the Hotel Statler. The various clubs should surpass themselves and make a glorious climax to a most successful season.

The Saxophone Quintet

The Spring Concert is the most important event for the Musical Clubs' season. It is given every year the evening before the Junior Prom and thereby helps to instill the holiday spirit into the Prom couples in preparation for the next evening's marathon. With it comes the end of the 1926-1927 Musical Clubs. A new management then comes into existence aspiring to still better programs with the help of new material and a fresh organization.

Class Day

THE Class of 1926 held the traditional class day exercises in the Walker Memorial Building which since its erection has housed these affairs. As the rather noisy group of seniors quieted down, the main Hall echoed to the words of David A. Shepard, President of '26, who presented the class gift to the Institute. This gift took the form of endowment life insurance policies upon the class members, made out in favor of Technology. President Stratton accepting the gift expressed his gratitude and went on to outline the fields open to engineering graduates. He spoke from an optimistic viewpoint and told how business as well as engineering was demanding and paying well for men with technical training. Modern production methods, he pointed out, depend upon intelligent scientific direction.

Dr. Stratton was followed by Prof. R. E. Rogers who, speaking in a lighter vein, explained to the merriment and appreciation of his listeners the origin, evolution, and significance of the cap and gown. The topic was well chosen in view of the impending graduation and consummately handled in the well known pleasing style of the speaker.

George Leness, First Marshall, took the stage last. He read the document of the class history, an element essential to the success of any class day. The reading brought back many a colorful memory of events in the four years of Technology life about to end.

This completed the program, and the crowd dispersed to begin preparations for the afternoon's tea dance.

Commencement

The Senior Class Picnic

IT was a jolly crowd of some two hundred Seniors that assembled on the sunny morning of June 3 in the Great Court of the Institute to leave for Pemberton, the spot picked for the Senior Picnic. Such a chance for fun and frolic comes but seldom to a Technology man and everyone, realizing that it was to be the last for another long time, was bent on making the most of it.

With considerable commotion and surprising dispatch three trolley cars were boarded from all sides at once, some climbing on the roofs, others hanging on from the outside, while the rest tried to find a place inside. It was not without some difficulty that those hardy souls who preferred to ride in the open air were persuaded that the cars would not proceed until they surrendered their dangerous perches. The trip to Rowe's Wharf was interrupted by many stops, the merry passengers insisting each time on leaving the cars and so delaying the trip considerably. But why worry about time on such an occasion?

After a thrilling boat trip the party landed at Pemberton where little time was lost in starting a fast and furious baseball game. The opposing teams were the "Dirty Shirts" and the "Grass Snakes" — the "Dirty Shirts" representing the dormitories. The umpire was none less than Orville B. Denison himself who helped tremendously in adding spirit, zest, and merriment to the arduous battle.

Luncheon served in the Pavilion was a welcome relief after all the excitement, but the crowd did not linger long, being anxious to give further manifestations of their physical prowess and mental ingenuity. Accordingly, an impromptu track meet was arranged where some most extraordinary athletic feats surprised the enthusiastic onlookers. In order to give everybody a chance to vent his unspent energy and yet be not too seriously handicapped by competing against men of long experience, such events as a three-legged race, a wheelbarrow race, obstacle races, and a sack race, as well as a tug-of-war, were held. Every one of them was a source of unbounded mirth to all, drawing many an uproarious burst of laughter from the cheering crowd on the sidelines. Great difficulty was encountered in the tug-of-war as no available rope seemed able to stand the lusty pulls of these two hundred Seniors. Every time the rope snapped, both sides collapsed into writhing heaps of humanity, followed by much laughter and loud voicing of opinions on the matter.

Following an old, old custom, three members of the Class of '26 received their baptism, being thrown, clothes and all, into the swimming pool.

Thus the Seniors passed away a happy afternoon, not one of them returning without a feeling of regret that the time to go home had to come so soon, yet having in their minds a host of happy memories to look back upon in future days of toil and trouble.

THE BANQUET

ON the evening of June 7, the Seniors held their annual class banquet in The Walker Memorial building.

Dr. Charles H. Herty, president of the Synthetic Organic Chemical Society, spoke on the work of engineers in branches of life not closely related to the traditional engineering character, stressing reliance upon pure science and its growing importance in business life.

Prof. Harry W. Tyler in a short address discussed class life at the Institute, while Orville B. Denison, speaking for the Alumni Association, urged the graduates to get in touch with the alumni living in the district in which they were about to settle.

During the evening the permanent class officers were chosen: David A. Shepard, President; James R. Killian, Jr., Secretary.

THE POPS

A most successful evening, enjoyed not only by Technology students but also by the outsiders present, was Tech Night at the Pops in Symphony Hall. The crowd, in a holiday mood, received all numbers played with great enthusiasm especially the Technology songs which were led by the Senior Class president, David A. Shepard. It was no doubt one of the merriest audiences the solemn hall had ever witnessed. Paper streamers and paper airplanes filled the air above, while below the happy assembly enjoyed the music, sipped ginger ale, and nibbled pretzels.

THE TEA DANCE

On the afternoon of the Class Day Exercises the Senior Tea Dance was held in Walker. The event was a success in more ways than one since an unusually large crowd turned out to enjoy the excellent dance music while the atmosphere was further enhanced by many tasteful decorations.

THE PROM

The closing event of Senior Week was the Senior Prom which was also held in Walker Memorial. The spirit reigning throughout the evening was one of thorough enjoyment indicating that despite hard work the men of Technology had not forgotten how to have a good time. This function brought the events in the graduation of the Class of 1926 to a fitting close. A last pleasant memory of undergraduate days was added to the many already collected during the four years.

Commencement

LED by Dr. Samuel Wesley Stratton accompanied by Dr. Michael I. Pupin, one of the greatest scientists of this century, the graduating students paraded to DuPont court where the Commencement exercises were to be held. The six hundred Seniors assembled here, dressed in their dignified caps and gowns, together with the many parents and visitors who came to witness the presentation of the degrees to these young engineers, was a spectacle which those who were present will not easily forget.

The opening address was delivered by the President. Rev. Henry K. Sherrill gave the invocation and was followed by Dr. Michael I. Pupin, director of the Phoenix Research Laboratories of Columbia University and president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, who made the graduating address. His subject was "The Idealism of Science," a theme well fitted to encourage those who in their years at the Institute had come to look upon Science and Engineering as a maze of cold calculations and spiritless formulæ.

Then Brigadier-General Barnum spoke to the graduates enrolled in the R. O. T. C. and presented the commissions, after which Dr. Stratton personally awarded the degrees to the six hundred and thirty-seven graduates. Among them were eleven Doctors of Philosophy or Science, and one hundred and twenty-four Masters of Science. It is both remarkable and significant of Technology's world-wide reputation to note that twenty-nine countries were represented in the class.

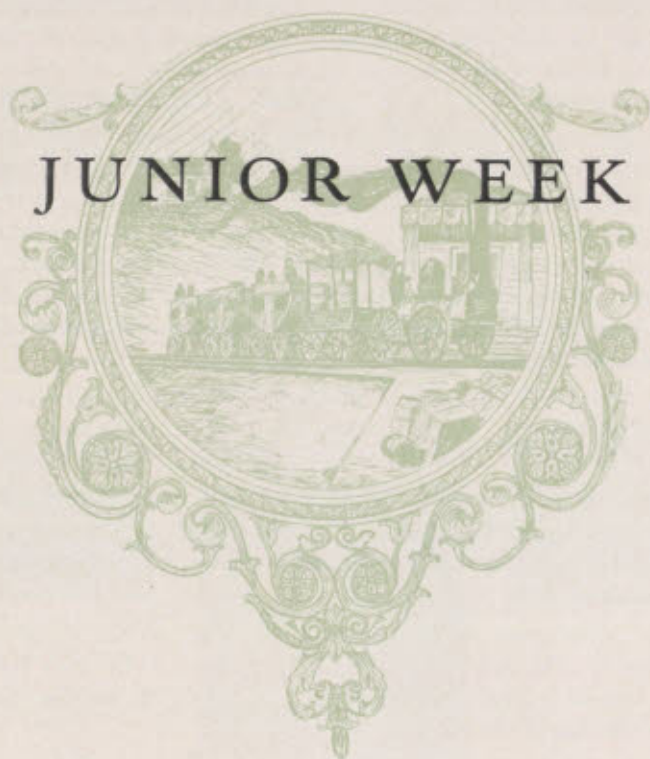

Following the custom of former years a reception was held at Walker Memorial after the Commencement exercises, where a number of prominent men from the Institute were present to meet the graduates. Thus the Class of 1926 was received into the ever-increasing ranks of Technology's Alumni.

JUNIOR WEEK

Junior Week, 1926

JUNIOR Week, the most eventful period in the lives of Juniors at Technology and one of the traditions of the Institute, commenced on Saturday, April 17, with the annual TECHNIQUE Rush. After elections to the TECHNIQUE Board for Volume XLII were announced, and the hut in the middle of Great Court was well covered with oil, the combatants set to work cheered by the crowd of men and interested prom girls. The first paddle, always delivered in some unexpected manner, was dropped by a parachute from the roof of building ten, and was captured by an unsuspecting bystander, who was immediately attacked by the crowd. The remaining nineteen paddles were pushed through a slot in the roof of the hut at intervals of one minute. A lively battle ensued at the close of which the victors, somewhat disarrayed, received books autographed by President Stratton.

Activities were then continued in Walker Memorial where the Tea Dance, given annually by the Corporation to the Junior Class, was in progress from four until six-thirty.

On Monday came the Interclass Track Meet won by the Juniors, and followed by the Activities Tea Dance. This affair, held in North Hall, was very well attended. In the evening, the Musical Clubs gave their annual Spring Concert followed by dancing at the Hotel Somerset.

The initial performance of Tech Show, "Too Many Brothers," was presented in the Opera House on Monday evening, and was repeated on the two nights following. As usual, the musical numbers were best received, while the success was further augmented by the dancing of the chorus.

On Tuesday afternoon the Interfraternity Tea Dance took place in the Swiss Room of the Copley Plaza Hotel, where the hall was attractively decorated with banners of the various fraternities. At ten o'clock came the long awaited Junior Prom in the Copley Plaza Hotel. Many of the dancers arrived late from the performance of Tech Show. Leather favors were presented to the guests, permanent dance programs to the men, and purses to the ladies. The Prom came to an end at dawn, Junior Week was ended, and the routine of Institute life was once more approached.

DORMITORIES

The Dormitories

DESPITE the timely demise of the Dorm Goblin (due, no doubt, to the graduation of several of its integral parts) the season has been an eventful one for the men who live on the campus. Though more quiet and conducive to sleep, the activities have been such as to involve more men in their perpetration.

Early in the last fall, three evenings were spent in the necessary business of instructing the Freshmen inhabitants in the matter of Technology songs and cheers. Later on in the last part of October the Dorm Smoker took place. This is an annual affair, but this year's was agreed to have been the best in Dormitory history. Kazoos were handed out, and the men furnished their own amusement between numbers. One Nichols man accommodated an entertainer when she sang "Gimme a Little Kiss."

During the year several small Dorm Dances, to which attendance was limited exclusively to Dormitory men, were held in North Hall in addition to the large open dances in the Main Hall. These functions proved very popular as it gave the couples an opportunity to become well acquainted and filled a place in the life of the Dormitory men similar to that of fraternity dances in the fraternity man's calendar.

The winter months brought out the basketball teams, and after some stiff competition Atkinson won the championship. This season developed another activity as well. Bridge playing has stepped into prominence, almost taking the form of an obsession. In this connection the popular marathon element has been adopted, and Runkle has set a record of 16 hours, 47 minutes of continuous playing with one team.

The "Dorm Rumor" deserves mention as a highly desirable addition to the list of Institute publications, even though in size it is not portentous. It has appeared each week during the school year and deals solely with questions of interest to Dormitory men.

All-Technology Smoker

THE 1926 All-Technology Smoker opened on Friday evening, October 9 with a dinner of welcome served to the new men, after which Dr. Rowe and Professors Rogers and Winward Prescott spoke on activities.

After a short recess, during which the Freshmen were given an opportunity to visit the various activity offices and to witness the usual boxing and wrestling bouts in the gymnasium, the affair was formally opened to all students of the Institute. A motion picture comedy and some interesting views of the Institute were shown, after which the merriment temporarily stood upon ceremony, and Henry F. Bryant, '87, Vice-President of the Alumni Association, presented the key of Walker Memorial to the undergraduate body, represented by James A. Lyles, President of the Senior Class and Chairman of the Institute Committee. John H. Field, '27, President of the M. I. T. A. A., presented the TECHNIQUE Cup to Henry G. Steinbrenner, '27, high point scorer in track last year. James A. Lyles was awarded the Swartz Medal for excellence in athletic managership.

The entertainment which followed was duly opened by the incomparable O. B. Denison, '11, who played and sang amusingly and well. Thomas A. Knowles, '27, then mystified the audience with a series of magical tricks and card manipulations, giving way to two young ladies who presented an act of singing and dancing. They were followed by a mandolin solo given by another professional entertainer. The Tech Show ventriloquist entertainment by Hunter Rouse, '29, concluded the program.

After the winning numbers for the raffle had been chosen, the smoker was closed by the traditional singing of the Stein Song.

Camp Massapoag

FOLLOWING the lead of Penn, Cornell, and other colleges, the Technology Christian Association was this year able to hold for the first time a three-day "get-together" camp for Freshmen.

The Cambridge Y. M. C. A. kindly offered its camp near Lost Lake for the meeting. Although over a hundred new men applied, only eighty-eight could be accommodated. These, accompanied by activity leaders and faculty members, started from Walker Memorial in gay spirits at about three o'clock Friday afternoon, September 24, looking forward with joy to the prospective outing.

Upon arriving at Camp Massapoag, their aquatic desires were soon satisfied and the program began. The festivities were carefully arranged to give maximum athletic recreation and at the same time acquaint the new men with the traditions and activities of Technology.

A complete athletic program had been drawn up, consisting of games of baseball, push ball, touch football, and canoe-tilting. These contests were held both Saturday and Sunday afternoons, and were entered into with great interest and enthusiasm.

Dean Talbot and James P. Munroe were the principal speakers at the camp. They told in an extremely effective way of the traditions, customs, and ideals of the Institute. The heads of the various activities at Tech were also given an opportunity to tell the incoming Freshmen about their respective activities, both formally and informally. Tent discussions with the upperclassmen were of valuable help.

In the words of "Buck" Shotts, the director of the camp, "The Freshmen became acquainted with activities, athletics, and life at the 'stute — most of all they met a large number of their classmates in an informal and intimate way before entering upon their four years of work."

The T. C. A. deserves much credit for taking this step. A move which creates an organization among the Freshmen early in the game, which makes the new men more at home upon their arrival at Technology, and which influences these men to go into the activities best suited for them is to be highly commended.

The Tech-Technique Game

THE football season always has included the annual clash between The Tech's typewriter pounders and the TECHNIQUE Board and staff. From time immemorial this event has been the judgment day for The Tech, the day on which it is crushed beneath the cleats of the powerful TECHNIQUE and thus made to pay just retribution for its questionable production often referred to in jest as a newspaper. A wonderful brand of football is always displayed by both teams, but the score always shows that right makes might. This year was no exception, for the TECHNIQUE Laundry, operated by Dung Davee, Chung Cheney, and Spung Spitzli, cleaned the newsboys so thoroughly that they have almost reached the point of realizing their inferiority. In fact, it has been rumored that the cost of a Tech-TECHNIQUE football banquet is to be made part of the annual budget of our official undergraduate news organ.

The Senior Class was having its annual dance in the Commons room at Rogers when it was rudely interrupted by George C. Houston, general manager of the overconfident sheet, who thus shamelessly challenged the noble TECHNIQUE to do battle with his underlings at Tech Field on November 17, 1926. No shorthand reporter was present to record the useless words spoken on that memorable night, so that the text of Houston's message must be appropriately forgotten. Suffice it to say that Mr. Houston must have forgotten those famous words of Æsop, spoken 2600 years ago, "He that without knowledge attempts to whitewash shall spill the lime upon his own head," for the speech made on that occasion was a speech of presentation, giving to Maurice Davier, General Manager of the noble TECHNIQUE, a football that had been given a coating of whitewash and was confidently expected to be prophetic of a decisive victory by the triweekly scandal-monger.

Any reply made at that time would have seemed stilted and forced, so that, as befits one of high station, TECHNIQUE bided its time before deigning to notice this attempt by its insolent rival for physical supremacy. The undergraduate body awaited with interest the first move to be made toward annihilating an opponent so daring. Their wait was soon rewarded by the appearance of a document written in Chinese over the signature of Mr. Davier. Now the Tech staff had heard of laundries, and had heard that laundries were often operated by Chinese. Their conclusion was that TECHNIQUE was merely giving them a laundry ticket received from the hands of those Chinese shirtwreckers, Dung Davee, Chung Cheney, and Spung Spitzli. Little did the newsboys realize the thorough mangling they would receive when they were to collect the clean-up to which they were entitled upon presentation of that ticket.

WITH H. M. Boardman as chairman assisted by a competent staff of circus men the fourth annual Technology Circus was staged on the evening of All Fool's Day in the Cambridge Armory.

In true circus fashion the big show was heralded by a monstrous parade at noon in the not too Great Court. All the morning classes bore mute evidence of the impending debacle by the nature of the garb worn. The Institute had the appearance of an exposition of the old-clothes-men's association, and a casual passer-by would have rubbed his eyes in amazement.

The feature of the parade was an old open hack in which the circus committee rode, wearing high hats in emulation of Mr. Barnum, Mr. Ringling and Judge, Jr., and surrounded on all sides by the wildest of wild animals.

The three-ring show itself opened at 7:30, but even before this hour hordes of sight-seers teemed around the twenty or more side-shows put on by various Institute organizations. The inevitable police court functioned with true Bostonian efficiency, taking into custody hilarious imbibers at the bar. The fire department, too, left wide devastation in its wake as it hastened madly to the scene of a sputtering fire.

Another feature of the circus was the "just off the press" news of the evening broadcasted by Voo Doo from the balcony. The best side show was Alpha Tau Omega's Lime-house with all the accessories, dancing girls not excepted. The Spanish Bull-fight staged by Phi Lambda Alpha was judged the best ring stunt.

Innumerable other events completed the program, which came to a wild and riotous close shortly after 11 o'clock. More prominent among these were chariot races, a balloon ascension, and a parachute jump.

The whole affair was a decided success and warranted making the Circus a permanent institution. With this year's experience in putting on a "big show" and with a little more finesse and toning down in spots, the next Circus should be something to tell the children about.

The Freshman Review

MARKING the close of the first year military drill, the annual Review was held on May 29, 1926.

The reviewing officer was Colonel R. B. Wells, R. O. T. C. officer of the First Corps Area. The student officers in command were Major Bruce T. Humphreville, '26, and Adjutant Raymond D. Leonard, '27. The music to which the Freshman army marched was furnished by the Fifth Artillery Band from Fort Banks.

The Medal Winners

Following the custom of past years, three Freshmen were awarded medals for the best knowledge of the manual-of-arms as well as of the squad and platoon formations given throughout the months of drill. The contest which took place prior to the Review was fought out by twenty-five men picked from the four companies. The judges were Major Z. L. Drollinger, Captain Joseph Whitney, and Captain A.

J. Funk, all infantry officers of the R. O. T. C. A gold medal was awarded to Milton Male, as the best trained private of the battalion. Second place was taken by Andrew Brink and the third prize by Marshall David. Included in the ceremony of the presentation of these medals was the donation of a sabre to Roland D. Earle, '28, by Scabbard and Blade, as the best non-commissioned officer of the battalion.

A new feature of the Review this year was the demonstration given by the Chemical Warfare unit. Four trench mortars were assembled, set up, and fired off in a time astonishingly short for recruits of so little experience.

The officers of the Military Science Department as well as the student officers in command of the Freshman companies cannot be too highly commended for their efforts. In the course of a few months they turned a group of entirely untrained men into a well-organized and disciplined battalion which drew words of praise from Colonel Wells.

ON July 26 the Civil Engineering Camp at East Machias, Maine, was alive with approximately ninety men who comprised the annual delegation from Technology. Although they are sent there primarily to get some experience in practical engineering work, they are not always on the job, but have ample time for recreation.

The situation and lay-out of the camp are well calculated to make the life healthful and pleasant. A sandy bluff rises up to a clearing, fringed with evergreens and in which lie the camp buildings. The bluff itself forms an edge of Gardener Lake, a few miles from East Machias, well into the Maine woods. The cool waters provide a bathing place for the inhabitants of the barracks which line up along the edge of the land. The recreation building and Bemis Hall occupy a position of prominence on a knoll, accompanied by the dining hall, drawing rooms, and instructor's barracks. Behind these is the diamond,—rugged but serviceable.

This summer a good baseball team was developed which defeated the Machias nine as well as a team composed of instructors. Canoeing and rowing had large followings, and week-end trips to surrounding lakes afforded an unusual opportunity to see the famous woodland beauty of Maine. The rustic game of horseshoes attracted a few sportsmen, as it invariably does.

Cool evenings and the reaction from strenuous days in the open drove the men to Bemis in large numbers after dinner. Interesting and surprising discoveries among the "musty tomes" to be found there, the chess sets, and phonograph kept them busy until taps. Some labored in a garret-office issuing the "Turning Point," which undertook to inform and slander the campers at regular intervals during the summer.

CAMP TECHNOLOGY

THE 1927 TECHNIQUE

As time wore on, the annual theatrical became the major interest of many, and rehearsals took place regularly. Talent seemed abundant, and ready to be developed.

The Camp Show this year consisted of two distinct parts: a musical comedy and a minstrel show. The performance was presented on the evening of September 11 before an attentive audience of farmers and woodsmen. The musical comedy was in two acts, with the scene laid in Egypt. Charlestowning, a monologue, and a string trio supplemented an effective chorus. The minstrel show, with a livery stable as a setting, was quite amusing and very well done. Musical numbers for the show were rendered by the Camp Orchestra.

It would be useless to deny the existence of the opposite sex in the surrounding country, and true enough, friendships grew up between the young engineers and their fair neighbors. Dances took place in Machias which were centers of considerable attraction. The men themselves conducted one or two social functions at the camp, making use of a good floor and ample room in one of the drafting halls.

A dance on August 14 was the big social event of the summer for East Machias' feminine population, and they certainly did have a good time. Of course the engineers enjoyed it; they always do.

All during the stay, several camera addicts plied their avocation, and the better snap-shots found their way to the Benchmark office. Here the camp "yearbook" was in the process of publication. Its appearance was scheduled for some time about Labor Day, as that was near the end of their stay. It appeared, replete with material for many memories, as well done as possible considering the limited time and money available.

Labor Day was the busiest and most important day of all. An athletic meet was held in the morning, and Fleming was proclaimed Camp Champion with a score of 14 points. Informal barrack races added zest to the regular track events. The water sports included dory and canoe races and a fifty-yard swim.

In the afternoon a fashionable dance attracted everyone to the drafting room which was transformed beyond recognition into a beautiful grove of pines. These dances, famous throughout the county ever since their inauguration some years ago, always bring many guests. The neighbors, sure of a hearty welcome, drive, walk, or are ferried in and make themselves at home for the afternoon. The whole family usually comes in each case, and the afternoon consists of an open house program.

A little more work and a little more recreation, and the camp had served its purpose. On September 17 it was evacuated for another twelvemonth.

The training the men had received was extensive, excelling anything of that nature offered by other institutions. Furthermore, their life in camp was made unusually pleasant by the excellent living conditions and commodious buildings. These advantages were made possible by the generosity of Mr. Bemis and the late Mr. Eaton whose gifts have in this way given Technology the "best" in one more respect. The men who go to camp all leave with a strong sense of appreciation for the generosity of these alumni.

OVERLOOKING the Succasunna Plains from a hilltop nine hundred feet above the level of the sea is Technology's Summer Mining Camp, situated in the magnetic iron ore fields of New Jersey. The camp consists of a number of buildings planned with a view to efficiency, durability, and wholesome living conditions. Their architectural features are consistent with the traditions of the Institute.

On the twenty-sixth of July, 1926, the camp opened with six students who studied surveying for the first seven weeks. During this time they made several topographical maps together with a number of maps of underground sections of the Replogle Mine. In their surveying they discovered that the base line from which they made their measurements was one foot longer than it had been the previous year. The cause of this, some believe, was an earthquake, while others believe it was due to an explosion in a nearby town. Someone even ventured the opinion that the measurement of the previous year was incorrect, but this met with strong opposition and was abandoned.

At the close of the seven weeks, Professors Hutchinson and Locke arrived in camp. Under their leadership, the students visited the Mt. Hope and the Richard Mines which afforded interesting examples of modern mining practice. They also inspected the New Jersey Zinc Mines and the Ulster Wrought Iron Works.

For recreation, baseball teams were organized among the students and some of the miners. The games were hotly contested, and the scores were close. Card-playing, too, was a popular pastime.

The camp closed on September twenty-fourth, and each student departed feeling that he had acquired an acquaintance with mining practices, a knowledge of its vocabulary, and conceptions of a practical character which would vitalize the theoretical instruction that was to come.

R. O. T. C. Camps

AS in previous years, the Reserve Officers Training Corps gave Technology students an opportunity to obtain practical training in their units of the army. These camps last about six weeks and are a prerequisite for graduation as a reserve officer.

Each of the six different units had its own camp, where men from colleges in different parts of the country congregated. The Coast Artillery Camp at Fort Munroe, Virginia, had forty-six men from Technology; the Air Service, at Langley Field, Virginia, nineteen; the Ordnance at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, seventeen; the Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, twenty; the Engineers at Fort Humphreys, Virginia, fifty-five; and the Chemical Warfare at Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, eighteen. The government provides free transportation, food, and uniforms besides giving the students pay of regular enlisted men. They learn general army tactics and become thoroughly acquainted with their branch of the service.

The men usually find the life in camp pleasant, for after work and drill there is time for riding, swimming, and games. Week-end passes are available which allow most of the men to visit the neighboring cities and towns, thereby avoiding the long Sundays in camp. Dances and parties held for and by the camps also make the life more enjoyable. The six weeks combine a pleasant vacation with a valuable training.

Editors of TECHNIQUE

Foreword

THE irresponsible Managing Board of the 1927 TECHNIQUE presents this outgrowth known as the 1927 'Snique to the readers of the more staid and sane publication, "TECHNIQUE."

These few pages were concocted by the Senior Board at one of its frequent, and sometimes questionable, meetings at which the hilarity and frivolity of its three members was comparable to that raging at Woop Garoo gatherings.

We offer this section with the sole hope that it will be examined carefully. Does it mean anything, has it a purpose? We refuse to say!

To POP STEADMAN

Guardian of activity offices and keeper of activity men, whose undying cigarette has so well permeated the halls of Walker, we humbly dedicate this volume.

WHEREVER man has built for his own uses; wherever man has harnessed the forces of nature for his own designs, there you will find a material unequalled in strength, permanency and versatility. That material is concrete. And it owes its every feature to the uniformity and high quality of such fine Portland Cement as Edison.

"Granitblox"

Some fellers wanna leave behind
A monument dat's pretty,
To tell the world dat dey were kind,
Or good, or wise, or witty.

My monument, when all is said,
An' earthly ties I sever,
Will be the granite blox I've laid,
'Cause "GRANITE LIVES FOREVER"

“INTERNATIONAL”

The Name of a Product - - the Scope of a Service

THE International Harvester Company is building the best Motor Trucks that can be produced by modern engineering provided with abundant resources. International Trucks are powerful, sturdy, honest, dependable workers; designed to give the user a maximum of mileage, at a minimum cost per mile, over the life of the truck. They are sold at the lowest prices consistent with good business principles, and without resort to injudicious allowances that invariably indicate the omission of some essential service to the buyer.

Motorists driving out from town should follow Commonwealth Avenue to the Packard plant, straight through on Brighton Avenue to Union Square, straight through on North Beacon Street to the International Branch, about four minutes beyond the Packard plant.

MAKERS OF POWDERS SINCE 1802

The quietest means of transmitting intelligence when the first du Pont powder was made

Safety—

The safety factor in the manufacture and use of explosives has been developed through exacting control and uniformity of product.

Nearly a century and a quarter of experience enables du Pont to render industry a notable service in the reduction of blasting hazard.

Du Pont explosives give better blasting results at lower ultimate costs—with safety—because of their uniformity, stability and dependable action.

The du Pont oval trade-mark is the symbol of modern explosives service.

Marks of Quality

Embodied in the quality that is built into each product of the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company, is the accumulated wisdom of more than seventy years of scientific and productive experience in the manufacture of Optical merchandise.

The medallion at the left symbolizes the spirit which has actuated the organization during this long period of constant growth; and the trade-mark at the right is the stamp of approval which the Company places upon its finished products—the standard by which optical goods are judged in America. In the actual manufacture we enjoy the advantage of producing practically all parts, mechanical as well as optical, in our own works. We are thus enabled not only to assure the effective co-operation of the different parts, but to give all of our optical instruments and accessories the unqualified guarantee which our name conveys.

THE development of Modern Banking Methods has been followed by an increasing reliance of the Educational Institution upon its Depositaries.

The Service an institution requires, and receives, from banks comprises much more than the safe-guarding of its securities — for this Service further gives a Source of Reliable Information and Advice regarding Credit, Investments, Dividends, and the Transfer of Securities and Real Estate.

One of the Depositaries of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology herewith extends its Compliments to the 1927 Technique.

and its meaning

The Jenkins "Diamond" is more than a mere identification mark. It is a symbol valve users have long learned to associate with trouble-free service and with freedom from frequent repairs and costly replacements.

The Jenkins "Diamond" stands for a valve well-built from metals which have been proved by analyses before and after casting. It stands for a valve that has passed a test under conditions more severe than those for which the valve is recommended.

Jenkins Valves are made in standard, medium and extra heavy patterns---for practically every plumbing, heating, fire protection and power plant requirement.

HOTEL SOMERSET

COMMONWEALTH AVENUE, BOSTON, MASS.

When plans for Bridge Parties, Private Dances, and Afternoon Teas are under discussion, Hotel Somerset should be considered first, because of its location, homelike atmosphere and the individual attention given each party by its trained personnel.

THE MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

CAMBRIDGE

THE MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY offers Courses, each of four years' duration, in Civil, Mechanical, Electrical and Aeronautical Engineering; Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering; Mining Engineering and Metallurgy and Geology; Architecture, Architectural Engineering and Building Construction; Chemistry, Chemical Engineering and Electrochemical Engineering; Biology and Public Health and Sanitary and Municipal Engineering; Mathematics, Physics, General Science and General Engineering; and in Engineering Administration. These Courses lead to the degree of Bachelor of Science.

To be admitted to the first year class, applicants must have attained the age of seventeen years, and must satisfactorily fulfill entrance requirements in Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, Physics, Chemistry, English, History and French or German and two units of elective subjects. Examinations are required in all subjects except Chemistry, History and the electives, the requirements for which are fulfilled by the presentation of satisfactory certificates. A division of these entrance subjects between different examination periods is permitted.

Entrance examinations are held at the Institute in September. In June, applicants will be examined by the College Entrance Examination Board in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and many other cities in America and Europe. A circular stating times and places is issued in advance by the College Board.

Graduates of colleges and scientific schools of collegiate grade, and in general all applicants presenting satisfactory certificates showing work done at another college corresponding to at least one year's work at the Institute, are admitted, without examination, to such advanced standing as is warranted by their previous training.

Graduate Courses leading to the degrees of Master of Science, Master in Architecture, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Science and Doctor of Public Health are also offered. Special Research Laboratories of Physical Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Applied Chemistry, Industrial Physics, Electrical Engineering and Aeronautical Engineering have been established.

Correspondence should be addressed to the Institute of Technology.

PUBLICATIONS

Catalogue; Illustrated Circular of General Information, Summer Session, and Graduate Study and Research; and the Report of the President and the Treasurer.

Any of the above-named publications will be mailed free on application.
